Survey Reveals School Support

A strong endorsement of Arlington Heights' elementary District 25 schools is the key feature of a "demand for education" study received by District 25 citizens committee members this week.

The survey, done by University of Chicago researcher Robert Jewell, forms part of the basis for recommendations to be made to the District 25 school board on Monday, June 6.

At that time a University of Chicago team headed by Prof. J. Alan Thomas will report conclusions of a financial study contracted for last year by District 25.

Their most emphatic conclusion, heard by citizens committee members at a preliminary session, was for a whopping 33.5 cent tax rate increase—21 cents on the educational tax rate and the rest for the building tax fund.

JEWELL'S FINDINGS, based on in-depth interviews with 50 Arlington Heights homeowners drawn at random from the Wheeling Township 1964 property tax assessment list, are that there will be little resistance to future District 25 tax raises.

"Fewer than 25 per cent of the respondents stated that they would oppose a tax rate increase even if the quality of elementary education in Arlington Heights began to decline," the survey report states.

Jewell found, in general, that the better homeowner understood what his property tax money went for, the more likely he was to support tax expenditures for the public schools. His conclusion from this is that a campaign to explain how the tax dollar is used might lead to even greater willingness to support the schools financially.

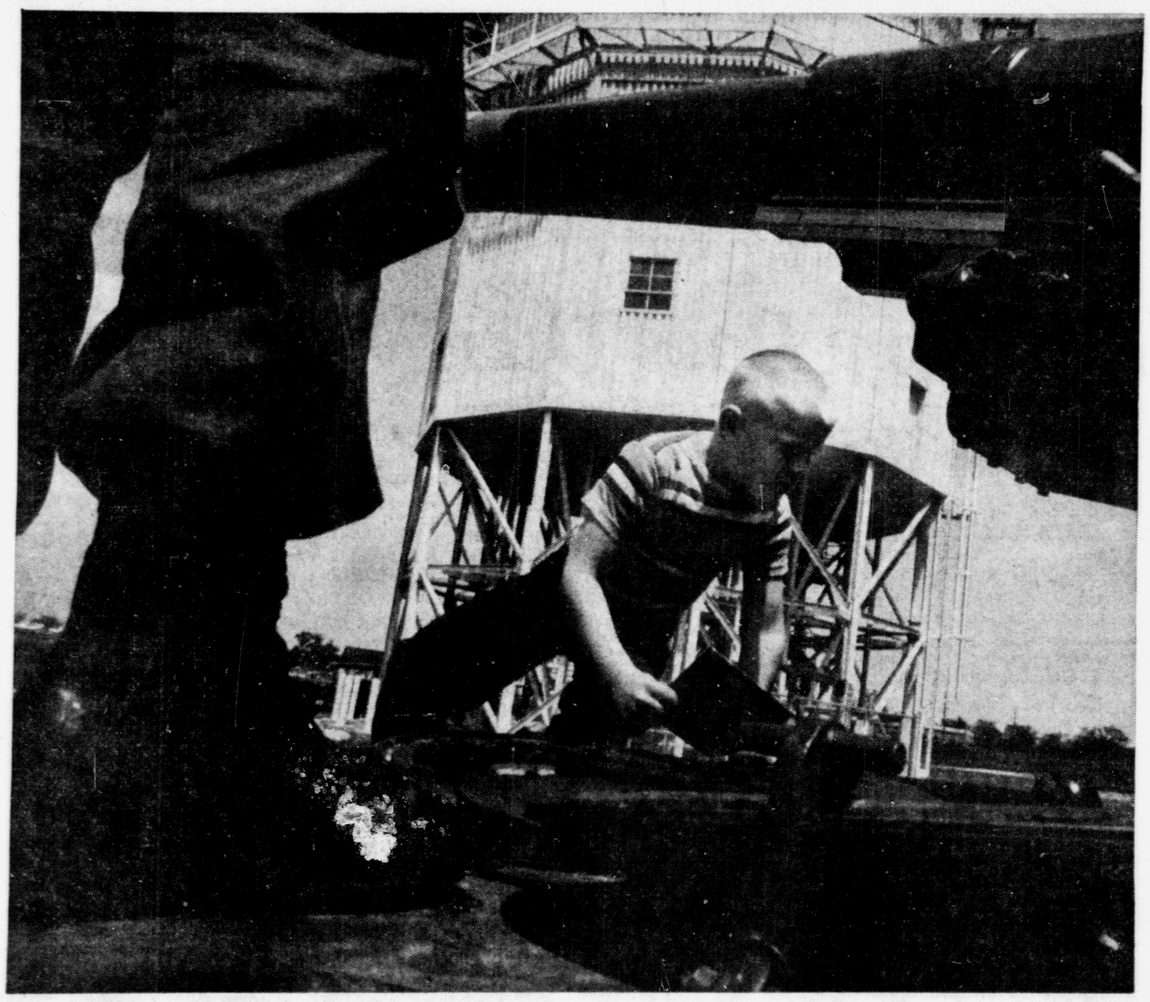
Jewell's sample of 50 homeowners had an average income of $13,500 and a median home value of $25,500. Twenty per cent of the homes were owned outright; of the remainder, 15 years was the average time left on the mortgage.

Thirty-six per cent of the school age children represented attend parochial school. Jewell found little resistance to support of public education among these parents.

What "no" voters he turned up were retired, with an average family income of $4,400 and an average annual tax bill of $554. "To them, a 'no' vote on a school tax rate referendum is simply a vote for economic survival," the writer commented.

PRIORITIES IN future school expenditures were given by homeowners to 1) increases in teachers' salaries; 2) reduction of average class size, and 3) expansion of the program for handicapped children. Of those surveyed, 38 per cent rated the Arlington elementary schools as "excellent," 52 per cent as "good," and none as below average.

The families surveyed termed real estate taxes "a necessary evil." They said they took pleasure in the "visibility" of tax expenditures in Arlington Heights and mistrusted federal aid to schools. "Federal aid brings federal control and we don't want federal control of education in Arlington Heights," said the "greater proportion" of homeowners interviewed.



YOUNGSTERS DELIGHTED in inspecting armament and equipment Saturday when the Arlington Heights Nike base opened its gates to visitors in recognition of Armed Forces Day. Both soldier and radar station tower over this youngster as he scampers over an artillery piece. Armed Forces Day comes almost one week before Memorial Day when Arlington Heights will join the nation in honoring its war dead.

Fifty Groups To Participate

More than 50 organizations and military units will march Monday in the annual Arlington Heights Memorial Day parade sponsored by VFW Post 981.

The parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. Participants are to line up at Arlington Heights Road and Park Street at 9 a.m. The parade will wind through the village to Memorial Park at Chestnut and Euclid Streets where a ceremony will be conducted honoring the nation's war dead.

Included in the ceremony will be a short address from U.S. Senator Paul H. Douglas. Featured speaker and guest of honor, will be Col. Richard E. George, base commander of the 428 Troop Carrier Group.

FROM THE PARADE starting point, the column will head north to Sigwalt Street; march west to Dunton Street; move north on Dunton to Euclid; turn west on Euclid and march to Chestnut Avenue; head south on Chestnut to Memorial Park.

Following the Memorial Park program, similar ceremonies will be conducted at the Memory Gardens war memorial and at the Merle Guild grave in Arlington Heights Cemetery. The Merle Guild grave ceremony will be under the direction of the American Legion.

Honored guests include 41 military and government officials. Included among the guests will be State Reps. Eugenia S. Chapman and Eugene F. Schlickman. Also among the guests will be Dwight D. Guilfoil representing the Paralyzed Veterans of America. Guilfoil last week was named the "1966 Veteran of the Year" by the Veterans Poppy Day Association.

Also scheduled for the Memorial Park program is the posthumous awarding of the citizen's citation to Sylvester Greschner. Conducting the invocation and benediction will be the Rev. Edward J. Laramie, pastor of St. James Catholic Church.

136-Acre Rezoning Proposed

A pre-annexation request for the rezoning of a 136-acre tract between the Nike Base and Algonquin Road will go before the Arlington Heights Plan Commission at public hearings Wednesday, June 15.

The hearings will be held at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building, 33 S. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights.

The 136 acres are bounded on the north by the Nike Base, on the east by Surrey Ridge subdivision, on the south by Algonquin Road and on the west by the recently rezoned Pingel-Hildebrandt farm tract. The property is commonly known as the Behn farm.

THE REZONING is sought by Miller Builders, developers of Surrey Ridge, who reportedly have an option to purchase the land. They are requesting the rezoning of 15 acres B-3 (general service and wholesale) commercial, 30 acres R-5 multiple-family residential and 91 acres R-3 single-family residential.

The request proposes B-3 for the southern part of the tract which meets the intersection of Algonquin and Golf Roads, R-3 for the northern two thirds and a multiple family buffer in between.

The Arlington Heights Village Board considered rezoning proposals for the Behn farm when it rezoned the Pingel-Hildebrant farms, to insure coordinated development of the two adjacent parcels.

Builder Seeks Village OK For 333-Acre Development

A development billed as a "planned community" which would add 8,000 people to Arlington Heights will be presented to the village plan commission at a hearing scheduled at 8 p.m. June 29.

The 333-acre development, proposed by Chesterfield Builders, is on the far north side of Arlington Heights and covers parts of Wheeling Elementary District 21 and Prospect Heights Elementary District 23.

The hearing will be in the Arlington Heights Municipal Building, 33 S. Arlington Heights Road.

Village trustees were given a preview of the proposal at a special session Monday, and most expressed a generally favorable response.

A RESEARCHER hired by Chesterfield Builders said the effect of the development on District 21 would be "favorable," and it would "result in a lower tax rate than in 1965." The effect on District 23, he said would be "unfavorable" and it would result in a "significant increase" over the 1965 tax rate.

He said the development would have no significant effect on the tax rate of High School District 214. In a statement challenged by Village Pres. John G. Woods, the spokesman said the development would lower village taxes about 8 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

About 75 acres of the development is at the southeast corner of Hintz and Buffalo Grove Roads. It is in District 23. The remainder of the parcel is north and east of the Hintz - Buffalo Grove intersection, and it is in District 21.

Howard Borde, an attorney representing Chesterfield, said the developers were not asking the village board to pre-judge the development before the plan commission studies it but felt because of its size and importance the builders should get a general reaction from trustees first.

GENERAL PLAN for the development was drafted by municipal planner Carl Gardner. An unusual feature of it is the strips of green space, for school and park use, which separate zoning districts. Spokesmen for Chesterfield said the green strips follow high points of land on the tract.

Developers said they were asking for 173.9 acres of single family zoning, 70.6 acres of apartment zoning, 46.5 acres of duplexes and 6.3 acres of general retail business zoning. The green areas, dedicated for public use, would occupy 25.7 acres.

They said they would plan about 100,000 square feet of commercial business buildings, 1,050 apartment units split evenly among one and two-bedroom units, 325 duplexes and 603 single family homes. The duplexes would be ¾ three-bedroom and ¼ four-bedroom units.

Chesterfield spokesmen said the homes would sell at between $30,000 and $40,000, the duplexes at $23,000 to $25,000 a unit. Apartment rent would range from $145 to $205 a month.

PLAN COMMISSION members attending Monday's session said they would reserve their comments for the commission's hearing. Park District Board Pres. Charles Cronin said his board would study with interest the proposal for green strips: "We're not adverse to new concepts in park planning, and this is one."

Kenneth Gill, superintendent of schools in District 21, said the development probably would require three elementary school buildings and added the one area apparently usable for school purposes north of Hintz Road seemingly had a problem of access.

Besides expressing skepticism on the possible reduction of village taxes, President Woods said the project showed "real imagination" and he was "sure we can work out a total package that will satisfy the (housing) market demand and be a real asset to our community. Chesterfield Builders has a fine reputation."

Talk Sought with Owner of Cellar

The Arlington Heights Youth Council took the first steps Monday in trying to iron out some of the problems between the Cellar, a local teenage dance hall, and the village.

After a brief discussion, the council voted to invite Cellar owner Paul Sampson to attend its next meeting. The Monday meeting was one of several in which members of the council have voiced concern over the dance hall and its influence on local youth.

Sampson said Tuesday he "would be more than happy" to meet with the council.

COUNCIL MEMBERS did not specify what questions they would ask Sampson. But in the past there has been considerable concern among residents over the number of out-of-town youths joining the crowd of local teens who jam the dance hall each weekend.

The Cellar recently was moved to new quarters in the old Grigsby plant, 407 N. Salem Ave., Arlington Heights.

In other action, the council adopted its first annual report to the village board. The report outlined a six-point program which the council backs.

Included in the program were:

—ASSURANCES FROM the council that it would take all steps necessary to curb vandalism in the village by giving emphasis to worthwhile accomplishments of youth;

—Restatements of the council's position backing decentralization of Family Court;

—Recommendations that a state law be enacted withholding drivers licenses from youths under 18 who have dropped out of high school;

—Assurances that the council will continue to investigate possibilities of a local youth council on civic affairs (such a group would be composed entirely of young people).

Tony Bohorfoush, council chairman, summed up the council's stated goals by saying, "I definitely feel we know the direction we want to go and what we want to accomplish."

Holiday Hours

The Arlington Heights Post Office will be closed Monday, Memorial Day, according to Virginia F. Dodge, postmaster.

The lobby of the Arlington Heights office will remain open but there will be no delivery service except for special delivery.

Street mail collections and outgoing mail dispatches will be made on a normal holiday schedule.

Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, county and state health officer, threw a bombshell into the laps of village board members Monday when he painted a picture of diseased rats, contagion and smells that are being fostered by residents of the City of Good Neighbors.

"Within a short distance of many fine homes and the field house, the village is maintaining a health menace in the form of the village dump that is a natural breeding place for rats," the doctor stated.

INTRODUCED TO ROTARIANS as the man who used to be WBBM-TV weatherman P. J. Hoff's summer replacement, Dennis Trettel quipped that in his home Hoff was known as "Trettel's winter replacement." Trettel became a meteorologist during World War II when some 10,000 were trained in a crash program by the armed forces. Weather consulting on a private enterprise basis was encouraged by the defense department to keep up a reservoir of trained meteorologists, he said.

Industry Does Own Weather Forecasting

For the average person, it seems the weather bureau has a monopoly on forecasting. But many industries, businesses and municipalities turn to private weather consultant for forecasts tailored to their own needs meteorologist Dennis W. Trettel told the Arlington Heights Rotary Club last Thursday.

Trettel spoke at the Rotary luncheon on the expanding field of private weather forecasting.

Trettel is a partner in Murray and Trettel, certified consulting meteorologists, of Northfield. The nine meteorologists in the firm are the ones who give the forecasts in WBBM Radio's Weather Command.

Trettel was the summer replacement for WBBM-TV Weatherman P. J. Hoff from 1957 through 1965.

THE DIFFERENCES between weather bureau forecasts and those of private consultants like Trettel go beyond the fact that he charges for his and the weather bureau's are free.

The private consultant, explained Trettel, designs his forecasts to meet the needs of a specific client and, in so doing, provides more details and gives a dependability rating to the forecast.

The weather bureau's forecasts, are for the general public and hence couched in nonspecific terms.

Such figures are not good enough for clients of consultants like Trettel. Their operations may vary with the slightest change in weather conditions and their efficiency depends on forecasts specific to the last detail.

TRETTEL IS quick to stress that he makes no claim to greater accuracy than the weather bureau. His firm, he said, receives the same raw information that the weather bureau gets. It comes through a teletype hookup with various weather stations.

While the information is the same, he explained, "our interpretation of that information is different. We provide a different type of service than the weather bureau.

"We say the weather bureau makes a general forecast for the general public for the protection of life and property," said Trettel. The weather consultant makes a specific forecast for a specific client for the purpose of increasing profits and cutting losses. (A

Eye on Arlington

Offers Some Tips To New Columnist

by DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

TO: Dave Crippen
FROM: Dan Baumann
RE: "Eye on Arlington"

The "Eye on Arlington" blinks this week, a little sadly.

I'll move my column to a different part of the paper, and you, as the new news editor of the Arlington Heights Herald, will take over this spot.

The "Eye," you'll quickly find, is one of the most pleasant responsibilities you have. I've used it for a variety of purposes: a chance to recover humor after a week of reporting serious news events, a chance to express an opinion short of the editorial page, a chance to comment on current events in Arlington Heights and a chance to take an occasional pot shot.

Through the "Eye," I've noted the passage of the seasons, saluted the village garbagemen, interviewed Sigafoo R. Quimsby (Arlington's man on the street), poked fun at politicians (the Eugenia Chapman-Bernard Peskin campaign came out as a battle between the "Lady and the Tiger."

I've added my 2 cents worth to the community's comments on a labor dispute, a poll of villagers' opinions and the annual spring rite—scrounging for valuables in the spring cleanup drive.

I've tried to encourage community interest in establishment of an Arlington Heights historical museum. (Anyone who hasn't sent in his contribution should do so: Make out a check to the Arlington Heights Historical Society and send it to the Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St. They have a special account there.)

And I released a snide barrage at village hall on one occasion when that appeared warranted. It wasn't too snide, because village hall is doing a good job on most counts.

By the way, you'll find village hall to be one of your main "beats" in your new assignment. That, too, has been a pleasant experience for me. There is, you'll find, a real spirit of friendliness and cooperation for the press in the village administration, from the manager's office on down.

I've developed a real admiration for the quality of work turned out by Village Manager Hanson, in view of the village's self-imposed restrictions on spending, and for the caliber of men he's placed in top positions at village hall. All the department heads are underpaid, I decided after reviewing the recent village budget.

Especially amazing is the job Red Best is doing in the building department. With a small crew, he's kept under control one of the most massive building booms in suburbia. He's exacting —some people say he's picayunish—but mistakes last a long time in buildings.

And though their names rarely, if ever, get in the paper, you'll find a number of women at village hall who are sincerely dedicated, excellent workers. Three who come to mind (there are more) are Mrs. Dorothy Valladares, deputy village clerk; Mrs. Catherine Phillips, secretary to the manager, and Mrs. Vera Deehring, secretary to boards and commissions. Mrs. Deehring—the lady who takes stenographic notes at two or three night meetings a week and maintains records for village boards and commissions, would be a real asset to any organization. Perhaps you can hire her away from the village.

There's a lot more you'll learn covering village hall and writing a column. But that's for you to learn.

I'll be interested in your reactions and will keep an eye on Arlington Heights through your column.

Convent Open House Is Success

BOLI Has Crammed Hearing Agenda on Street Projects

A crammed agenda awaits the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) Thursday (tonight) as it resumes hearings on give different street paving projects. The schedule will be:

8:00 p.m.—Belmont Avenue north of Oakton Street;

8:15 p.m.—Extension of Lillian Street from Arlington Highlands subdivision to Arlington Heights Road;

8:55 p.m.—Kaspar Avenue between Northwest Highway and Oakton Street;

9 p.m.—Wing, Ridge and Miner streets near the post office;

9:30 p.m.—Northwest Highlands streets.

PROPERTY OWNERS along the north end of the Belmont Avenue improvement wish to have paving done by private contract, and BOLI two weeks ago continued hearings on the project to give them time to get one more owner in on the arrangement.

The Lillian Street extension as planned by BOLI will run between the Market Basket Shopping Center at Palatine and Arlington Heights Roads and the Pure Oil Co. service station to the south of the shopping center.

Hearings on the project had been continued to give parties affected — Nicholas Prassas, owner of the shopping center property, and the Pure Oil Co. —time to work out an arrangement for dedicating land to accomodate the street extension.

In Kaspar Avenue hearings tonight, BOLI will present plans for paving the street in front of 12 scattered lots.

Owners of those lots did not include themselves in the $40,000 private paving contract approved by the village board last week. Their parts of the street will have to be paved by special assessment.

The Wing-Ridge-Miner project includes paving the block of Wing between Chestnut and Ridge avenues and small half-street sections of Ridge and Miner.

OBJECTIONS TO being assessed for paving were raised by a resident at hearings two weeks ago on the grounds that most Wing Street traffic is generated by downtown commerce and not by residents, and that an existing pavement was torn up when storm sewers were installed in 1963.

A BOLI consulting engineer was asked to make borings along that section of Wing to determine the nature of the pre-1963 pavement. He is expected to present findings tonight.

When hearings on Northwest Highlands street paving resume tonight, BOLI will make a tally of the property owners who have put up escrow deposits to have the paving done by private contract instead of special assessment.

BOLI determination of which street sections should be paved by private contract will be based on the number of escrow depositers and their location along the streets. BOLI usually approves private contract arrangements if escrow depositers represent long and contiguous stretches of street.

Northwest Highlands property owners have been told to compute escrow deposits on a basis of $16 per frontage foot. BOLI'S deadline for deposits is tonight.

Anti-Bias Worker To Speak Tonight

Albert Thrasher, field representative for the Illinois Human Relations Commission, will be a speaker tonight (Thursday) at the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee's annual meeting.

The human relations group will elect officers at the meeting, set for 8 p.m. in St. John's United Church of Christ.

"WHERE DO WE Go From Here?" will be the title of Thrasher's talk, in which he will review activities of other suburban human relations councils and committees.

Nicholas Shuman, retiring president of the 15-month-old organization, plans to call on committee chairmen for reports of their activities.

Among chairmen whose work will be reviewed are Mrs. Nathaniel Leighton, representative to the Northwest Suburban Human Relations Council; Gilbert Tierney, projects; Mrs. William Dempsey, program; Richard Frisbie, public relations; Mrs. Norbert Hruby, membership; Stanford Gass, legal adviser, and Mrs. George Sully, finance. Thomas Street Work Moves 2 More Steps

Two steps toward improvement of Thomas Street were approved last week by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

In a key area affecting the improvement of Thomas west of Arlington Heights Road, the board approved an ordinance for special assessment against property owners on the south half of Thomas from Dunton to Arlington Heights Road. The measure will now go to court.

From Dunton to Wilke Road, the street will be improved by a combination of township road funds and construction by developers. The village has set aside funds to pave the south half of the roadway along the north boundary of the Lutheran Home and hopes the home will dedicate land for that portion.

East of Arlington Heights Road, the board approved the preliminary plat for the 16-lot Fio Rita subdivision. It is on the south side of Thomas between Belmont and Douglas, east of Thomas Junior High. Appearing at the session, Rita said he plans to improve that section of Thomas soon after final plan approval since he will construct model homes there. (A

Teens to Serve at Camp for Retarded

Teenagers interested in working with mentally handicapped children for the summer must return their volunteer applications to the park district office by Monday, May 30.

The special community day camp will be held at Recreation Park for children from 5 to 16 years old. Byrn Witt, executive director at Clearbrook Center, estimates a minimum of 50 campers for each two week session. This figure doubles that of last year's attendance.

Camp activities include swimming, games, crafts, movies, stories, nature lore and outdoor programs.

TEEN-AGERS ARE required to work one complete session, following a two-day orientation for all camp counselors, directed by Mrs. Donna Read, camp supervisor.

Dates for the camp sessions are June 27 through July 8; July 11 through July 22; and July 25 through August 8.

Volunteer students who have been selected to serve as counselors will receive contracts the first week in June.

Additional questions may be directed to the park district office, CL 3-0620. (A

Precinct Assigned To Teens

Youths working in the campaign of Thomas W. Novotny, candidate for Wheeling Township Republican committeeman, were assigned coverage of an entire precinct on the northeast side of Arlington Heights.

Working in teams, "Tom Novotny's Teens" canvassed the precinct to drum up votes for their candidate.

"We intend to give them full responsibility for this precinct," explained Fred Ainslie, Novotny's campaign chairman. "We believe they can produce as well as, or better than, their older counterparts, and we are giving them the opportunity to prove it." (A

DESERVE RECOGNITION—The "Salute to Youth" project which Arlington Heights Community Council would like to see started in the village was suggested by Mrs. John Hutchison to honor teens like these two, Pamela Micek and Kay Waffle. Pam, Kay and a friend, Pat Rodgers, volunteered last summer to spend a day in a steamy laundromat so the local good neighbor group could send eight barrels of clean clothing to its sister city of Comas, Peru.

Commco Asked to Participate In Monthly 'Salute to Youth'

Youth activities and the Viet Nam war will share billing at Arlington Heights Community Council's meeting next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Miner Junior High School.

Delegates from the Community Council's member organizations will be asked to approve as a project "Salute to Youth." Designed to give regular recognition to the otherwise unsung, "Salute to Youth" will each month spotlight village teenagers who often step forward, unasked, to help village groups.

"VIET NAM — The Story Behind the Headlines" will be the Commco program topic. Richard Cowen, program chairman, has arranged for a Viet Nam veteran, an officer from Glenview Naval Air Station, to show a film on Viet Nam and to answer questions.

L. Q. Yowell heads a list of officers who will be installed at the Commco meeting. Currently president of the Community Council, he will take office for a second term.

Tuesday will also be "Presidents' Night" for the community organization. New officers of each member group will be introduced.

"Salute to Youth" was recommended this spring as a Commco project by a committee that included Mrs. Frank P. Sesterhenn, chairman; Mrs. John Shubeck and Mrs. John M. Hutchison.

BOTH THE village youth council and the Junior Woman's Club have expressed an interest in the project. Commco bylaws prevent the group from carrying a project by itself. (A

Idea Originates With Comas

The "Salute to Youth" project which Arlington Heights Community Council delegates will be asked to approve Tuesday is the brainchild of Comas leader Mrs. John Hutchison.

As president of the "hands across the hemisphere" organization, she has good reason to be grateful to the type of teenager "Salute to Youth" is designed to spotlight.

Time after time, Comas has been aided by girls and boys who have read of the good neighbor project and have come —unsolicited—to help.

ATTENDING a Commco meeting last December to hear village vandalism problems discussed, she heard Anthony J. Tomaso urge the group to "accent the positive" in talking of area youth.

Mrs. Hutchison linked Tomaso's "positive approach" to what she knew young people were doing daily, without recognition. "Salute to Youth" was the result.

Mrs. Hutchison already has her suggestions ready for the monthly recognition "Salute to Youth" will bring.

Had the Commco-proposed project been in operation last summer, her nominees would have been three girls—Pamela Micek, Kay Waffle and Pat Rodgers.

AT THAT time the Comas organization had old clothes to send to Arlington Heights' sister city in Peru. The three girls, on a steamy summer day, took eight barrels of clothing to the laundromat for cleaning.

"This is the kind of volunteer teenage help I hope that 'Salute to Youth' will spotlight. It's unsung and unsolicited—though not unappreciated — and I think more people should know how many teenagers regularly do this sort of thing," Mrs. Hutchison explains.

Zoners Okay Variation In Backyard

A variation of backyard size requirements was granted by the Arlington Heights Zoning Board of Appeals Monday to permit construction of the last home in the Surrey Ridge subdivision.

The board granted a request from Miller Builders, Inc. to allow a backyard depth of 27 feet instead of 30 feet, as required by village ordinance. The lot is at 1802 S. Highland Ave.

Peter Dudek, representing Miller Builders, requested the variation on the grounds that the lot was the only one remaining for construction of a colonial style home. (A

New Library

Architect To Report June 7

At a special meeting June 7, the Arlington Heights Library Board will hear a report from its architects on preliminary plans for the new library.

The board voted Tuesday to set up the special session after Mrs. Mary Lee Ewalt, head librarian, reported that proposed changes in the initial building drawings forced postponement of an earlier presentation by architects. Architects were scheduled to give their report at this week's ,1,0ry40ilcllrwi this week's meeting.

The $1,425,000 library will cover 40,862 square feet. Voters approved by 3-1 a referendum last January on the building program.

MRS. EWALT read to the board a letter from the deputy state librarian's office explaining that all applications for federal funds must be on file by Oct. 1. Under federal law 25 per cent of construction costs up to $250,000 are available for local library building programs.

In other action, the board named Mrs. Natalie Wallace as its secretary. Mrs. Wallace, a member of the board for five years, will take over duties of Mrs. Elsie Hubbard, who resigned from the board last month. George Beacham was named at last month's meeting to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Hubbard.

The board also voted approval of changing library closing hours from 9 p.m. to 8 p.m. for the summer. The new hours become effective when the current school term ends. (A

Full-Time Policemen Are Sought for School Duty

THURS., MAY 26, 1966

Suburban police chiefs will be asked to attend a High School District 214 board meeting to consider the cooperative assignment of full-time policemen to the schools.

Three principals endorsed the need for on-site safety officers at District 214's board meeting Monday.

They told the board that parking lot speedways are the suburban school equivalent of the city's "blackboard jungles."

CHALLENGED by Mrs. Leah Cummins to show the justification for having policemen in the local high schools, Forest View Principal Lawrence Jenness cited parking lot speedsters, invasions by abusive "dropouts," and one incident in which a drunken ex-student passed out on the lawn.

"Hardly a week goes by that we don't have four or five people attempting to enter the building to cause trouble," Jenness asserted.

He said that hotrodders on Goebbert Road were a continual noisy nuisance and that attempts by police to patrol the area were hampered by speedsters' clear vision of approaching patrol cars. Split jurisdiction of the road—partly in Elk Grove Township and partly in Arlington Heights—complicates things, too, he added.

Jenness' statements supporting the need for on-site policemen were backed up by Principals Bruno Waara of Arlington and Thomas Shirley of Wheeling High.

SHIRLEY SAID that because of a continuing manpower shortage, the Wheeling police department can offer "only limited assistance" to the school.

Shirley added that his staff's understanding of the law is that arrests can only be made on school property if a teacher sees the violation and will file charges. Doing this necessitates a half-day — or more — away from school while the case is heard, he pointed out.

The safety officer proposal, tabled by the board until its June meeting, calls for a plainclothes policeman, chosen for his skill with youth, to be assigned to each of the five district high schools. During the school year the officer's salary would be paid by the school district though he would be part of each village's regular force.

DUTIES OF THE safety officer would include supervision of the parking lot, checking of washrooms, apprehension of unauthorized persons entering school property, follow-up regarding truancy or vandalism, and control of bus zones.

The list prompted Mrs. Cummins to comment, "He would have to be a centipede and have the speed of a gazelle. If this is what we want him to do, he should be a lamb in police clothing instead of a policeman in civilian clothes."

Forest View Art Students Finish 1-2-3

Forest View High School's outstanding instruction in art has paid off again, this time in Chicago Academy of Fine Arts scholarships.

Forest View students swept the first three places in the Academy's scholarship competition.

WINNERS OF THE Chicago Academy's competition are:

—Bruce E. Jay, 4000 Jay Lane, Rolling Meadows, who will receive a full-year-tuition scholarship valued at $850.

—Cheryl Workman, 607 Woodview, Elk Grove Village, who will receive second prize of a half-year tuition scholarship.

—Linda Carter, 1005 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, third place and also a half-tuition scholarship.

Dean James Paulus of the Academy said it was the first time in the school's 64 years that students from any one high school had captured the top three prizes.

"RECOGNITION should be given to the superb standard of fine quality art produced by these students at Forest View," said Paulus. "A large share of this credit must be given to John Doyle and William R. Foust for their fine guidance of these talented students."

Doyle and Foust's students garnered seven medals or awards in the recently announced Scholastic Art Award competitions.

Jay, first place winner in the academy scholarship competition, received a scholastic medal for an entry in the jewelry contest.

Miss Workman won recognition in another art contest recently. She ranked fifth in a state-wide art talent contest sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs.

DOYLE AND FOUST'S work with high school students was saluted last week at a High School District 214 school board meeting.

Principal Lawrence Jenness told the high school board that the first year he was at Forest View he thought they had a fine group of talented students. He was convinced of this during his second year and this year — his fourth year at the high school — he could see the reason for that talent lay with Doyle and Foust, he said.

PALATINE — The general concept of a 90-acre planned development with high rises at Northwest Highway and Rohlwing Road was endorsed Monday by the Palatine Village Board. Details of implementation and controls of the plan are to be discussed informally Friday.

ROLLING MEADOWS — A majority of the city council Tuesday attempted to stop the appointment of a temporary alderman for Ward 3. The appointment, made by newly elected Mayor William Miseska, was opposed by Ald. Albin Piekarski and council followers. Piekarski was defeated by Miseska in the mayor's election last week.

MOUNT PROSPECT — Village Pres. Dan Congreve has stopped the issuance of all occupancy and building permits in the village. The action was taken after Salvatore DiMucci Jr. Tuesday deplored the fact that his company, DiMucci Home Builders, was the only firm affected by last week's board action banning permits in areas served by Utility Sewer & Water Co., his father's firm. The utility mainly serves Elk Ridge Villa subdivision being built by DiMucci Home Builders. Numerous reports of flooded basements were responsible for the initial action.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS — More than 50 organizations and military units will march in the Memorial Day parade Monday beginning at 9:30 a.m. U. S. Sen. Paul H. Douglas and Richard E. George, base commander of the 428 troop carrier group, will speak at ceremonies following the parade.

WHEELING — Village officials have set a Friday deadline for obtaining business licenses in Wheeling. A new and controversial business license ordinance went into effect May 1. Tuesday night at least 50 representatives of the business community appeared before the judiciary and purchasing committee and asked revisions of fees in the new law.

SCHAUMBURG TOWNSHIP— Double sessions will be used at Robert Frost Junior High School next September to solve the Schaumburg Township School District's classroom space shortage at the junior high school level.

STREAMWOOD — A total of 14 candidates will seek election to a five-member commission Saturday to operate the Streamwood Park District, which goes to its second referendum test the same day. A referendum failed in 1964 to establish the park district. The failure was attributed to lack of interest and a last-minute opposition pamphlet.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE — Voters approved formation of an Elk Grove Village Park District by more than 7-to-1 vote. One of the first actions expected from the newly elected board of commissioners is to fulfill requests to disconnect Elk Grove Village land from Mount Prospect and Schaumburg park districts.

BENSENVILLE — Klefstad Engineering Company has consented to let the Milwaukee Road enter a lead track through its property to the Bensenville Industrial Park. The action, subject to approval of the Illinois Commerce Commission, takes the railroad easement out from between two Beeline, Inc., buildings, where it was not wanted.

ITASCA — A special assessment storm sewer project for south of Irving Park Road probably will proceed as planned and without changes. Village Atty. Lawrence Traeger said the Itasca Village Board may act on it within two weeks. The more than $200,000 project is opposed by some residents.

ROSELLE — A lawsuit was filed this week to compel the village of Roselle to allow rezoning for construction of a gas station. Although the village board voted 4-3 in favor, zoning for the Clark station was rejected last month on a legal technicality.

Schefter Expected To Resign Board

The Elk Grove District 59 school board can expect to receive a formal resignation from board member Joseph Schefter before September.

Schefter's term of office would expire in April. He is director of instructional services within an audio-visual specialty for the Oak Park and River Forest High School.

Schefter, 37, of 441 Lillian Lane, Des Plaines, will resign to accept a fellowship allowing him a year's study at Syracuse University's communication center.

SCHEFTER'S resignation will create a key vacancy on the school board since it could affect board composition and voting pattern. His friends consider Schefter one of the most questioning and indenpendent school board members and credit him with a critical approach to board decisions. His critics view him as obstructionist and as too concerned with small points.

Schefter created some hard feelings in the April election when he publicly encouraged two Des Plaines school board candidates who were elected. He also vocally opposed a proposition to study the merger of District 59 with Schaumburg's school district and criticized former board president A. M. Bernstein with his role in bringing about the study.

IN A PREVIOUS case of resignation, the school board has asked interested individuals to write the board expressing interest and reasons they would aspire to a board position. Bernstein was chosen this way and then ran successfully for a term of office. (A

Boards Serve as 'Good Right Arms' for Trustees

Library Board Is Unique

By DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

(This is the last in a series of four articles about the boards and commissions which help to govern Arlington Heights. Previous articles have covered the village's paid administrative staff, the board of trustees and the "big three" appointed boards — the zoning board of appeals, the plan commission and the board of local improvements.)

Arlington Heights' boards and commissions exist, for the most part, to help the village board of trustees carry on its work either by handling part of the village's work load or by providing "expert" advice to trustees. Some are big news makers; others are seldom if ever heard from. Some, like the electrical commission, exist to fulfill a requirement of state statutes.

One board is unique in that its members are elected and, like the village trustees, run on party platforms. It is the library board.

THE SIX directors of the Memorial Library are elected to staggered six-year terms to make rules and regulations governing the library's operations. The library's budget and its monthly bills, however, must go to the village board for approval.

The library board traditionally has been little publicized. In the last few years, however, as it began planning for a massive expansion program which led to last January's referendum, the library board has attracted considerable attention. An indication of the degree of community interest the expansion program has created is shown in appointments to the board.

When someone leaves the board, the remaining members name an individual to fill the vacancy. They usually don't have people beating down their doors to get on the board. But when one member resigned a month ago, the board had to pick among five interested parties.

The library board in early referendum planning acted with a great deal of caution to the point where the caution aroused criticism. But the public reaction to the library expansion plan seems to have given the board a real sense of confidence in its work and in the community's appreciation of library services.

ARLINGTON Heights' three newest boards exist mainly to do research into specific community problems and make recommendations to the board of trustees. They are the youth council, the safety commission and the board of health. Their members are appointed by the village president with the advice and consent of trustees.

All are fairly recent; all appear to be groping to determine what their role is, with varying degrees of success.

The youth council meets most frequently. Under the chairmanship of Tony Bohorfoush, it meets the fourth Monday of each month. Sessions are informal and conversation is directed at general problems of youth or to specific questions like a youth program, or village policy on a teenage hangout. Members represent a variety of youth-related organizations, churches and schools.

THE "GROPING" posture has been expressed at recent meetings of both the board of health and the safety commission. Neither has a clearly defined program, although both have engaged in specific programs — like the safety commission's participation in a bicycle safety drive and the health board's meeting with health authorities of various local taxing bodies.

Although a primary function of the three boards is to do fact-finding work for the board of trustees and make recommendations, trustees have received formally only one firm recommendation from any of them in the last year. In that case, the trustees asked the health board whether a community measles immunization campaign was desirable, and the health board did not feel it was necessary.

Chairman of the 11-member safety commission is James Drake. Dr. Richard C. Treanor is head of the five-member health board.

A FIVE-MEMBER electrical commission, headed by the village's electrical inspector, exists under state statute to provide the village board with expert recommendations on electrical construction and safety standards incorporated into the village code.

A three-member police and fire commission conducts examinations and sets standards for those two village departments and appoints all department members except the fire and police chiefs. Two additional boards exist to administer the police and firemen's pension funds, and their membership is partially chosen by active police and firemen. (AF

Clubwomen Launch Museum Committee

A community improvement committee—which will work for establishment of an Arlington Heights historical museum—has been named by Mrs. Stephen Jurco, new president of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club.

The committee will be headed by Mrs. John Shubeck and Mrs. Z. Rogozinski. This committee chairmen were named at a Woman's club board meeting last week.

According to Mrs. Shubeck, the committee's role will be to cooperate with other organizations and groups interested in acquiring a museum for the historical society and to help spur citizen interest, to raise money for establishment and maintenance of a museum and conceivably to supply volunteer help in operating the museum once it is established.

THE WOMAN'S Club in the past has given equipment and funds to the historical society; some of the funds have been earmarked for a permanent museum. The new Woman's Club president, as a vice president of the historical society, has a special interest in the project.

Presently, historical memorabilia collected by the society is stored in the home of the curator and in the Wheeling Township Hall. There has been an increasing interest in establishment of a permanent museum.

2 Nuns Hurt In Accident

Two nuns from Rolling Meadows, injured last weekend in an auto accident near Freeport, Ill., were reported in satisfactory condition at Freeport Memorial Hospital Wednesday morning.

The nuns, Sister St. Mel and Sister Rita from Sacred Heart of Mary High School, were injured Sunday when the car in which they were riding overturned on U.S. 20, about 6 miles east of Freeport. Sister St. Mel suffered a fractured vertebra in the neck and Sister Rita was hospitalized with a fractured vertebra in the back.

Sister Stanislaus, also in the car when the accident occurred, was released from the hospital Monday. State police said the car, driven by Maureen Boyle of Rolling Meadows, overturned when a rear tire blew.

Kehe Promoted By Post Office

Alvin R. Kehe, 1028 S. Haddow, Arlington Heights, became assistant superintendent of mails at the Arlington Heights Post Office Saturday. The promotion was announced by Virginia F. Dodge, postmaster.

A native of Arlington Heights, Kehe has been with the Arlington Heights Post Office since 1949 with the exception of two years in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Kehe previously served as carrier and foreman of mails at the Arlington Heights office and assistant carrier branch superintendent at the Elk Grove Village office. (AF(EF

'Twas the Night Before Monday . .

Who would steal a 400-pound reindeer, brown in color? In May, no less?

Arlington Heights police would like to know.

MRS. DOROTHY Ackerlund, 1207 W. Sigwalt St., Arlington Heights, told police Monday the weighty ornament was stolen from her front lawn Sunday night.

She further noted that in the past it had taken four men to lift it.

Officers investigating the theft reported no clues.

New Plant Gets Sendoff From Kerner

Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner was to be in Arlington Heights Wednesday afternoon to officiate at ground breaking ceremonies of the new Weber Marking Systems Inc. plant.

The building will be constructed on a 22-acre parcel between Algonquin Road and the Illinois Tollway, south of the Golf-Algonquin intersection. Kerner's presence at the ceremonies was to underscore the beginning of construction of the $1.5 million dollar plant.

Village Pres. John G. Woods and L. A. Hanson, village manager, were expected to join Kerner in the ceremonies. Also to be on hand were C. E. Ritter, president of Weber Marking Systems, and Joseph A. Weber, the firm's board chairman.

THE NEW BUILDING will cover approximately 120,000 square feet, including 17,500 square feet of office space. It is scheduled for completion by early next year.

The firm manufactures a variety of stenciling and marking equipment. Currently 225 persons are employed at its Mount Prospect plant, 225 E. Prospect Ave.

The groundbreaking was scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m.

Ralph Clabaugh Hospitalized With Pneumonia

Hospital officials reported Tuesday Clabaugh was in good condition and resting comfortably but did not say how long he would have to be hospitalized.

Clabaugh became ill last week as he was preparing to leave on vacation.

The Accepted Influence in the Northwest Suburban Area

"SCHLICK CHICK" Ilene Hansen, left, 1600 N. Yale Ave., Arlington Heights, was among those opening the first campaign headquarters of Wheeling Township GOP committeeman candidate Eugene F. Schlickman Sunday. With her are Schlickman, precinct captain Idyl Nipper, 1216 Meadow Lane, Mount Prospect, and precinct captain Marshall Theroux, 320 S. Belmont Ave., Arlington Heights. (ACM

Negativism Charge Made by Schlickman

A negativism charge against Thomas W. Novotny was made by Eugene F. Schlickman, his opponent in the Wheeling Township committeeman race, at the opening of the first Schlickman campaign headquarters Sunday.

The headquarters is at 204 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights. It will be open daily until the June 14 primary from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Schlickman said he had pledged at the opening of the campaign "to wage a positive campaign — a campaign that would not give one iota of comfort to the opposition party." He cited a series of proposals for party development he has made in the current race and said he would "suggest additional ways we can build on an already solid Republican base.

"AND WHAT of my opponent? In the three months since he has announced his candidacy, he has been content to attack the Republican organization and the retiring committeeman on the one hand while at the same time claiming to have been an important leader in the township. He criticizes the past yet offers no plans for the future. Our party — and the people — demand more than this negative approach to a position of leadership."

Schlickman said a second headquarters would be opened in the village of Wheeling next week and said it will be "the first headquarters in that village by a local Republican candidate." Wheeling, he said, represents the party's greatest challenge among communities in the township. (ACM

"It is entirely too seldom that a chance arises to work for and actively support a candidate for public office of your caliber. Your entry into the race for State Senator from the Third District is a much-needed breath of fresh air. Seldom do we get a chance to elect a man of your experience, ability, character and courage. Our party needs more positive, modern Republicans like you . . . men willing to make the huge sacrifice of running for public office. You can be sure of my vote June 14."

Notes from Arlington Acres

The entire sweep of alleys at Beverly Lanes was taken up Saturday evening when the Arlington Acres Civic Assn. held its Scotch Doubles night, and by popular acclaim the evening was declared to be the "best yet" of the annual affairs. A vote of deserved thanks was extended to committee members, Mayme Ehlen, Vonnie Donovan, Arlene Novy and Carolyn May, who handled all arrangements for reservations, prizes and the late supper.

Prizes were won by the Frank Hauffs for high series; Robert Novys, high games; the De Costers, low series, and the Norman Wrights, low game.

A speedy return home is wished for Barney Kleinhuizen, 512 S. Phelps, who is in Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines, undergoing tests.

Dennis Curtin, 420 S. Forrest, and four of his friends spent a week at Chippewa Flowage near Hayward, Wis., and returned home Saturday. With two boats as part of their fishing gear, the boys were disappointed that they did not have better luck with their catch of fish.

THE DEXTER Ashbrooks, 416 S. Forrest, entertained out of state houseguests last week, cousins Miss Mary Ashbrook and her brother, Jack, of San Antonio, Tex. Other members of the Ashbrook clan living throughout Illinois came up to see the guests, who spent the time between visits taking in the points of interest in the Chicago area.

Neighbors and fishing buddies, Rick Soukup and Fran Conway of the 500 block of South Prindle, spent a weekend at Winneconne, Wis., on the Wolk River, an old fishing haunt, and returned home with 80 white bass. While not a record for them, it was a good haul, when most other fishermen are complaining of poor catches.

L. Q. Yowell, 441 S. Forrest, left Sunday for Tan-Tar-A at Osage Beach, Mo., on the Lake-of-the-Ozarks, to attend a convention of the Heart of America Paper Assn. Tuesday he left there for a second convention, that of the Paper and Packaging Assn. at French Lick. His near split-second schedule included a return flight to O'Hare Thursday and a rush trip home to pick up Peg so they could rush back to O'Hare in time to attend the Rotary Dinner.

A FLYING TRIP was made by Mrs. Max Brittain, 407 S. Gibbons, on Sunday, to join her husband in St. Louis on business, to have dinner there with friends and to return with him to O'Hare Sunday evening.

Their son, Max Jr., a freshman at Bradley in Peoria, came home for the weekend to attend the Prospect High School prom.

Five of Valerie Scharf's friends were her guests Friday at a slumber party at the Scharf home, 5[illegible] S. Prindle, in honor of Val's 16th birthday May 18. The girls who enjoyed an evening of record playing and a long night of girl talk to sit down to a huge breakfast Saturday morning were Carol Lill, Kris Schott, Barb Topalski, Kris White and Carolyn Merkle.

Patty Schmidt's eighth birthday May 18 was celebrated Saturday at a birthday lunch for Billy Weeks, Billy Vossberg, Sheila Hendricks, Beth Becker, Jill Hulse, John Carberry and Patty's sisters, Carlene and Barby. A "Winnie-the-Pooh" theme was carried out in the accessories and after lunch of hamburgers with the trimmings, the group spent the afternoon playing games outdoors.

Patty is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schmidt, 515 S. Gibbons.

Jim O'Donnell, 405 S. Gibbons, received the best wishes of friends at a small informal party at his home in honor of his 13th birthday May 17. Guests for cake and ice cream were Tom Cashin, Tom Rizzo, Tom Fasth, Bob Iverson and Tom Gorey.

THE O'DONNELL family might easily qualify for "most traveling" in Arlington Acres. Catherine, with a party of friends, spent last weekend in Lafayette, Ind., visiting her son, Dennis, a freshman at Purdue.

Raymond's recent trips included business flights to Honolulu, Sardinia, Italy, and more recently and much closer to home, Florida.

Margaret Marshall, 432 S. Forrest, was congratulated on her May 17 birthday at dinner for the immediate family that day, and again the following day at dinner which included, among the guests, the Larry Burkes of Elmhurst and the Stanley Koys of Des Plaines.

Her sorority sisters remembered her with cards and gifts at a senior brunch Sunday at the Alpha Gamma Delta house on the Northwestern campus in Evanston.

Saturday was the day chosen to celebrate the May 17 birthday of Tag Bruce, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bruce, 441 S. Gibbons. Cake and ice cream, games and prizes were enjoyed by Doug Hoffman, Scott Kunz, Bobby Wilkinson, Paul Brady, Dale Needleman and Keith Longrie.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McCammon, 516 S. Phelps, had their 10th wedding anniversary May 20, however, they celebrated May 10 because that was the closest to the date that they could get tickets for "Hello, Dolly" before Carol Channing left. With friends from Evanston, they had dinner at the Palmer House before attending the theatre.

CONFIRMATION services have been held recently in several area churches and many Arlington Acres young people have been in the classes.

Among them was Tommy Leistikow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leistikow, 512 S. Forrest, who was confirmed at St. Mark Lutheran Church, Mount Prospect Sunday afternoon. After the ceremony, the Leistikows hosted a late dinner for 16 relatives, some of whom came from Michigan.

Tommy Streng, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Streng, 524 S. Waterman, was confirmed at Bethel Lutheran Church, Palatine, Sunday. Guests for dinner after the service were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sigle and Mrs. Caroline Streng of Chicago.

Tommy's 14th birthday May 19 was not officially celebrated because open house in connection with confirmation ceremonies was held at the church that day.

By far, most of the area confirmands were in the class at St. James Friday evening. Among them were:

MARCIA LONGRIE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Longrie, 429 S. Forrest. Her sponsor was a cousin, Joan Karkocki, who was a dinner guest at the Longrie home with other members of the family, including Grandma Karkocki.

Susan Brunsfeld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brunsfeld, 416 S. Phelps. Guests at an early dinner were grandparents, Mrs. John Brunsfeld and Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Kettler. Grandma Kettler was Susan's sponsor. Cake and coffee were served after the church service and the family was joined by the Ray Fritz family, neighbors and close friends.

Teresa Verley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Verley, 436 S. Prindle. Teresa's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ambrosia, had made a special trip from their home in Iron Mountain, Mich., to be here for the ceremony, as did a cousin, Mrs. Mildred Dallariva of Norway, Mich., who acted as sponsor.

Debby Kunz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kunz, 505 S. Forrest. Debby's sponsor was Judy Mader, who joined the Kunz family, Debby's grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Kunz of Elmwood Park, and the Haanels of Arlington Heights for cake and coffee later in the evening.

Kathy Ehlen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ehlen, 437 S. Gibbons, was sponsored by Linda Geier of Edison Park. The Ehlens, too, served light refreshments after the service at church.

ROBIN GLYNN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Glynn, 2123 E. Grove. The Glynns hosted an early dinner for the James Evanger family of Forrest Avenue. Mrs. Evanger was Robin's sponsor.

Nancy Byrnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Byrnes, 437 S. Phelps, whose sponsor was Mrs. James Murtaugh of Chicago. The Byrnes and Murtaugh families dined out before going to church.

Jimmy Thorstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thorstad, 412 S. Phelps. Dinner was served at the Thorstad home for Jimmy's sponsor, Robert Novy, and Robert's parents and sister, Roberta.

One of the last women's bowling leagues to hold its end of the season luncheon banquet is the Thursday Morning Eye Openers, held May 19 at the Waterfall Restaurant at the Rolling Meadows Bowl. League members attending were Esther Soukup and Frances Koenen who won second place trophies, and Virginia Smith and Mary Lu Sealock, whose trophies were for last place. The trophies will stay in close proximity as the new owners all live in the 500 block South Prindle.

The May 24 luncheon which marked the end of the season for the Newcomers Bowling League was attended by Anita Both, Lorraine Byrnes, Fran Lucas, Carolyn May and Barbara Kurp. This luncheon, too, was held at the Waterfall Restaurant in Rolling Meadows. (A

Parents Give Parish Instruction

Interim Program at St. Edna's Parish

by Sally Leighton

"Even if and when I get a parish school, I'd still want to go on with this system. Sending the child to his own parents for preparation for first communion has my vote."

That's the assessment of the Rev. James Doherty, pastor of St. Edna's parish on the far north side of Arlington Heights. Father Doherty as yet has no parish school, indeed not even a church building in his new parish. Children who celebrated their first solemn communion last Saturday — St. Edna's first communion group — were in an "interim" program which has been in effect at St. Edna's since last fall.

THE PRIEST can't speak too highly of having youngsters learn directly from their parents the religious lessons that lead to their first really conscious reception of a sacrament.

The first solemn communion celebration of 38 eight-year-old parishioners of St. Edna's was hosted by St. James Church. It was not actually the first reception of the sacrament for any of them. Under the new method, the child who attends public school is given religious instruction by his own parents during second grade, using for guidance a book supplied by the parish, "My First Communion," by Dr. Ella Mae Horan. The parents also have the assistance of Confraternity of Christian Doctrine's veteran teachers and a teacher's manual.

FIRST FIRST COMMUNION: Eight year olds from St. Edna's parish on the far north side of Arlington Heights leave St. James Church after their first solemn communion Saturday. The first such group from the new parish, they received their basic religious instruction from their parents. St. Edna's, at present, has no school or building of its own. Parents, and the pastor, found the program enlightening. (Staff photo)

WHEN BOTH parents are satisfied that the child understands what he has learned, according to a seven-year-old's ability, they call upon Father Doherty to give the child an informal examination to ascertain his readiness. If everything is in order, the child attends Sunday Mass with his family the following week, at which time an announcement is made that "Johnny Jones" will receive the sacrament of the Holy Eucharist that morning for the first time. At the time of the communion service, "Johnny" and his family proceed to the altar first.

When they have returned to their places, the rest of the congregation follows as usual. Then the family goes home for its own celebration.

While one of the chief benefits of this method is that it makes the whole occasion most solemn but least frightening or overawing to the child himself, he is not the only one who gains, in the view of pastor and families. Parents who have taken on the religious instruction for this occasion found they re-learned a lot they had forgotten or so taken for granted that they had lost the meaning.

MANY ALSO felt that while they had resisted the idea at first, feeling that nuns were the ones to teach religion as they themselves had been taught, they later came to believe that it was healthier for the religion of the whole family that the parents had to take the responsibility to instruct the child on fundamental matters. "We can't leave it all to the school any more," said one. "It isn't enough."

Mrs. Joseph Buzzelli, 614 E. Valley Lane, who has had older children instructed in the conventional way — in religion classes at parochial school — reports that the student teaches the parents by his questions. Moreover, the whole family tunes in, because lessons are going on right under their noses. "When mother is teaching days and daddy is reviewing evenings, the whole family gets involved. We have a first grader now who wants to study her brother's First Communion catechism all summer so she can make her First Communion as soon as possible next fall."

Another mother, Mrs. Sam Hutcheson, 610 E. Ivy Lane, found that instructing her child opened up a whole new line of communication. "You think the child understands the lesson as you've taught it. Then out of a clear sky, he one day asks a question which shows he didn't get what you intended at all. In the home situation, it is possible to deal with the misunderstanding at once, it comes up so casually. I wonder if that can be true of a formal school situation."

IN COMMON with almost all the other parents who had no classroom experience, Mrs. Hutcheson at first doubted her ability to adequately teach her own child. "The teacher's manual helped overcome those misgivings," she recalled. "The lessons were laid out quite simply. In no time at all, 'classes' were proceeding every Tuesday morning."

Mrs. Raymond Kulla, 1923 N. Burke Drive, had a year's experience teaching eight first-graders religion on Saturday mornings before taking on her private "class" of one for First Communion preparation. "This makes the whole thing more natural for them. Some of the other CCD teachers have dens or basement rooms where they teach, but mine met right around the kitchen table. At a neighbor's house, in walking distance from home, a religion class seems more a normal part of their lives. In second grade, then, it seems natural to be taught at home by their parents for their First Communion."

Whereas formerly the Sacrament of Penance ordinarily immediately preceded the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist, the first communicant now goes to confession at a later date. In this way he has a clearer idea of the separateness of the two sacraments and less of a tendency to think that he must go to confession before communion.

IN ADDITION to the parents' instruction and the informal examination of each individual child, Father Doherty supplements with four formal lessons the month before the solemn occasion. This helps the little ones to know him better and helps them realize he is interested in their understanding of right and wrong rather than just whether or not they can repeat the catechism.

From everyone's point of view at St. Edna's, even those parents who had a hard time disciplining themselves and their children to get down to lessons, the First Solemn Communion was, as one of them put it, "the frosting on the cake." Mrs. Kulla commented, "The private communions during the fall and winter, some with private family parties and guests, built up to this celebration of all the year's first communicants and their friends and families together.

"When you've been as deeply involved in the child's religious training as this new system has forced us to be, there is great joy in the crowning occasion for all concerned."

Barn Fire Is Blamed On Vandals

An abandoned barn near Arlington Heights and Hintz Roads was destroyed Sunday in a fire believed to have been started by vandals.

The farm on which the barn was located is owned by developers of the Berkley Square subdivision. Fire Chief Harry Carothers said there was no property loss because the barn was destined to be razed to make way for new homes. The blaze did not endanger any homes in the area, he said.

He said four pieces of fire-fighting equipment were sent to the blaze. The farm is located on Hintz Road one-quarter of a mile west of Arlington Heights Road. (A

"Your Children are one of my most important responsibilities."
— Sen. John A. Graham

Nothing is more important to me as your State Senator than providing a quality education for our children.

During the last session of the legislature, our Republican State Senate team raised State aid to local schools by 31%.

We made it easier for young people to get a college education by creating a state-wide Public Junior College System and by increasing state scholarship funds. We created and financed a state-wide library system.

Charles Percy has called our Republican record on education last year the most impressive in the State's history.

We should be doing even more to provide a quality education for our children.

May I have your support on June 14th, so that together, we can continue to build a better tomorrow for all our families in the 3rd District and the State of Illinois?

Relocation Of Creek Is Requested

An application to relocate a short section of McDonald Creek just west of Wheeling Road and north of Kenilworth Avenue in the Gnarled Oaks subdivision is before the Illinois Waterways Commission, according to Secretary of State Paul Powell's office.

The request comes from Keith G. Wurtz, M.D., 1430 N. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights.

According to Dr. Keith, the creek flows across a piece of property owned by him and he wished to have it relocated for his own convenience.

That property lies outside Arlington Heights, and the relocation of the creek on it would not relate to the village's plans for the development of McDonald Creek, Dr. Keith said.

GOP Candidates Night Features Percy, Page

Chuck Percy, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, and Ray Page, Illinois superintendent of public instruction, have both indicated they will attend the Republican Organization's candidate night Thursday (tonight) at Old Orchard Country Club. They join a list of other Republican candidates, including Richard Ogilvie, Earl Eisenhower, Joe Woods and George Thiem who previously indicated they would attend.

Richard Cowen, Wheeling Township deputy Republican committeeman, emphasized that this candidate's night should be informal. "There will be a combo for entertainment and dancing, and there will be no political speeches. Each candidate will be introduced, but we want our guests to have the chance to talk to each candidate personally. We encourage them to ask about current issues or even discuss campaign strategy."

COWEN ALSO said this may be the only occasion to meet all of these candidates at one time prior to the primary election on June 14.

Other candidates who have indicated they will attend are Floyd Fulle, William N. Erickson, Charles Chaplin, Charles Grupp, Homer Fields, David Brown, Abe Eiserman, Gerald Marks, Dean Sodaro, Eugene Dibble and Robert Hanrahan. Also, Sen. John Graham, Robert Atcher and Bill Davies, all candidates for the state senate; Eugene Schlickman, Bob Hesse, David Regner and William Moore, candidates for state representative, and Schlickman as candidate for Wheeling Township Republican committeeman.

This candidate's night is open to the public and there is no admission charge. Candidates are scheduled to start arriving about 8 p.m. (ACM

Smoking-Cancer Tie Shown in Research

One out of 30, or about three per cent of smokers tested in a cancer research project at Park Ridge, showed "significant abnormalities," according to preliminary findings. Of the three per cent, all had negative chest x-rays.

Dr. Jonas Valaitis, chief pathologist at Lutheran General, reported that 2,000 persons participated in the study, aimed at finding a simple method for early detection of lung cancer. Of these, 500 were non-smokers and 1,500 were smokers.

THE STUDY began last fall and will continue on June 6, when Service League volunteers will begin contacting more Park Ridge residents to participate in the project. Dr. Valaitis hopes to have an additional 3,000 persons — 2,000 smokers and 1,000 non-smokers — participate in the study, the first of its kind in the country to be conducted on a community-wide basis.

Residents participating simply deposit a sputum sample in a small, cone-shaped sanitary plastic vial for three consecutive mornings. These samples are checked for abnormal cells at Lutheran General, using the so-called "Pap" Smear, an early form of cancer detection. It has been shown that cancer cells can be detected in sputum long before any symptoms of lung cancer will be found in a routine x-ray.

IF LUNG cancer is detected in time, it can usually be halted, Dr. Valaitis explained. Present methods of detection, however, often do not detect cancer until it has advanced too far to be treated successfully. As a result, lung cancer is now about 95 per cent fatal, killing 47,000 persons each year.

The study, being financed by a $22,500 grant from the Illinois Division of the American Cancer Society, will be concluded by the middle of 1967.

College Aid Battle Looms

William Rainey Harper College officials agreed Friday with leaders of other major Illinois junior colleges that they would accept no less than 75 per cent of their capital construction costs.

The agreement marked crystallization of efforts by an ad hoc committee, made up of administrators and board members from six of the nine class I institutions in Illinois, to exert some influence on the Illinois Junior College Board in determining distribution of $20.5 million available this year for campus construction. The committee was formed a few weeks ago at an informal meeting of officials from several junior colleges.

The committee was organized by Harper College board member Richard L. Johnson, who later was named its chairman. Officials have become concerned over how the $20.5 million will be divided among the six institutions which are seeking shares.

ROY deMARRAIS, administrative assistant to Harper College president Dr. Robert P. Lahti, said Monday, "They are not going to be satisfied to share up the pot. They are going to fight for their 75 per cent."

DeMarrais acknowledged this stand may mean some of the colleges will have to wait at least until next year to get their share of state funds.

Commenting on the committee's action, Lahti said, "The purpose of our group is merely to coordinate and cooperate with them (the state board)." Lahti said the committee reviewed the proposed state criteria for establishing a priority list on how much each college will get. The committee then sent to the state board a letter outlining their objections to the criteria and making its own recommendations.

PRINCIPLE objection to the state's criteria is the use of an "objective" numerical formula to determine how the funds will be distributed.

"We are not in any way attempting to second guess the state board," Lahti emphasized.

The state board at its meeting next month is expected to vote on the criteria to be used.

Organ Club to Meet June 6

The next meeting of the Lynn Lakin Student's Organ Club will be a dinner and class reunion on Monday, June 6, at 6:45 p.m. in the Maine Township East High School dining room.

Rollie Hudson, professional organist and teacher on the Lyon-Healy staff, will entertain at the Hammond organ. (B10

Negro Teacher to Take Industry Job

Ralph E. Wells, the first Negro teacher to be hired by a northwest suburban high school, will not be teaching in District 214 next fall after all.

Wells has been released from his contract at his own request.

The former Northwestern University basketball star explained to Nelson Lowrey, District 214 director of personnel, that he had been offered a much better paying post in industry and had decided to accept it.

WELLS SAID the industrial job will not start until well after the beginning of next fall's school term but he felt he should still ask to be released from his contract now, rather than resigning later.

At Monday's board meeting, Lowrey and school board members expressed appreciation at Wells' thoughtfulness in giving the early notice.

A specialist in remedial reading, Wells would have started work in the high school system this fall. He had not yet been assigned to a school. (B10

Operation Head Start Plans Bigger Pre-School Program

Operation Head Start this year has a much broader scope envisioned for its pre-schoolers program.

It is designed as a year-round program with five "child development centers" handling 200 children from Elk Grove, Wheeling, Schaumburg, and Palatine townships. The Northwest Cook County Opportunity Council (Norwesco) is its sponsor.

Last year's Operation Head Start was a summer program drawing 48 children from within the boundaries of Elk Grove School District 59, the official sponsor.

The federal government has granted $83,214 for the total program. Local sources provide $7,670 "in-kind" support.

A SUMMER tutorial program for 60 children will be operated at St. Mary's Catholic School in Buffalo Grove as an adjunct to the Operation Head Start program. A request for an additional $13,412 in federal funds has been made for this program.

Based on the experience gained last summer, this year's Operation Head Start will focus not only on giving children enriching "academic" experiences but also will give attention to health and nutrition problems. Families will be involved in the child development process.

David Fankhauser, director of the Operation Head Start, plans to have the teachers spend at least five hours per week in family contact.

FANKHAUSER, AS A result of the broader approach, has not recruited solely people with elementary school experience. Only seven of the 18 people involved in the program are certified teachers. Some of the others have had teaching experience.

"I didn't want the conventionally trained," Fankhauser explained. "These people needed special backgrounds that would make them more flexible and creative." The person in the classroom is not going to have a "master program" to follow daily, Fankhauser said.

The individual has to possess spontaneity and show warmth, Fankhauser said. They cannot get upset by the child's failure to respond.

The person in charge also will be trained to use volunteers. Fankhauser considers the volunteers crucial to the program's success. Under his concept, not all the children will be doing the same thing at the same time, and volunteers will be working with small numbers in independent activities. One of the characteristics of the 4 and 5 year-olds is a brief attention span.

FANKHAUSER HAS registered the program with the Volunteer Bureau of the Welfare Council, which screens people desiring volunteer work. Church groups will be another source of volunteers.

Some changes will be made in the program based on last summer's experience when Fankhauser was a social worker with the program. Field trips, for example, will be repeated. In the children's visit to O'Hare Airport, he said, they were so fascinated by the escalator, they could not conceive of the scope or real reason for the airport. Another visit would allow them more sophisticated viewing.

Physical examinations and dental check-ups can be spread throughout the year and disassociated from the school facility.

A limited amount has been provided in the budget to allow teacher training in colloquial Spanish. This will allow better communication to be established with children from Spanish-speaking families.

Fankhauser has asked Cook County Health Department nutritionists to plan snack menus aimed at introducing the children to new foods. The lunch provided last year will be eliminated, according to present plans.

FANKHAUSER considers his operating budget a "very tight" one. He can spend approximately $110 per child per month. Last year's program allowed $200 per child.

The original request was trimmed and a nurse eliminated as well as $484 worth of materials. Provision for a social worker aide was added.

Teachers in the program will be paid $450 to $525 per month for a full day. The salary negotiation for a teacher supervisor allows $675 to $800. The teacher supervisor will be responsible for the curriculum planning.

A written policy states salaries are to be comparable with salaries paid to those in similar positions in local school districts. The total for salaries cannot exceed that allotted by the regional Office of Economic Opportunity, but the director or education committee can make salary addjustments as needed.

Fankhauser based his budget on what suppliers told him materials would cost and on salary levels in the area. For example, the formal request included District 59's salary schedule for teachers and principals.

OPERATION HEAD Start has been delayed partially because of bureaucratic snarls. Fankhauser admits some of the people he has hired are stymied because they cannot begin now. Operation Head Start originally was to begin May 1. It will not start until early June and Fankhauser cannot be as assured the personnel are not seeking just summer employment.

Dealing at a local level through the Cook County Office of Economic Opportunity and through the regional office also has proved frustrating to the director. Clearance in Washington does not mean the program can be operational since an organization has to be established at the local regional level.

School districts supporting the program may have to lend temporary assistance in the form of supplies. A general services administration of the county OEO still has not established the organizational machinery to process the supplies.

Operation Head Start personnel now are enrollling chiildren for the program. Most children have been identified.

Fankhauser said he is not worried about children dropping from the program because of their families' evictions from substandard housing in the four township area. "That's the least of my worries," he declared.

Fankhauser also mentioned the estimated enrollment was made when no migrant families were living in the area.

OEO ALLOWS Operation Head Start to enroll up to 10 per cent of children from families that would not qualify on the economic basis. Families with eight children and less than $6,000 annual income, for example, are eligible for the program.

Children will be referred by schools, churches, individuals, and other agencies.

Fankhauser believes Operation Head Start has general community support. The summer program has been evaluated as successful.

In February a Johns Hopkins University department of child psychiatry suggested children had gained 31 to 40 points on the Peabody Picture Vocabulary Test after receiving Operation Head Start training. A standard intelligence test, the Columbia Mental Maturity Scale showed gains of 10 points for the Head Start children.

Other independent agencies such as the Staten Island Mental Health Society and the University of Texas showed the children had advanced when compared with others without training from Head Start.

'Help Wanted' At Norwesco

The "Help Wanted" sign is out at Norwesco these days—and everyone's glad of it.

Armed with the word that regional approval has been given for a $140,000 federally financed tutorial project, the Northwest Cook County Opportunity Council is looking for a director, several district coordinators and 200 volunteers.

Norwesco education chairman William Urbanek says if key personnel posts can be filled, and if final Washington, D. C., approval of the program comes through soon enough, the Norwesco tutorial program will start this summer.

URBANEK expressed confidence that approval would come. He said it was his understanding that regional approval of the project was the "key" to final authorization of federal anti-poverty funds for such a project.

Eligible for the program will be the area's disadvantaged youngsters — those who need special help and whose family incomes fall below $3,000 a year.

Urbanek said the 1960 census figures, on which proposals must be based since they represent the last authoritative study of the growing suburbs, show 1,200 youngsters with families below the $3,000-a-year level.

The Norwesco committee estimated about half of these—or 600 youngsters—probably are disadvantaged, and handicapped in their schooling, as a result. Half of that group, 300 youngsters in all, will be the maximum handled by the tutorial program.

"WE FIGURED," explained Urbanek, "that since we have to start almost from scratch we'd better plan just a 50 per cent program this year. We can expand it to a full program later."

For these 300 youngsters, there will be summer field trips and special tutoring, during or after the school day, throughout the fall and winter. Volunteer tutors will work directly with the youngster. The Norwesco proposal calls for a paid director and district coordinators, a paid secretary, and funds for social work and psychological specialists.

The director, who will act as "superintendent" to the project, should have a background in education, some organizational ability and — ideally —some prior experience in administration.

The district co-ordinators will be the equivalent of principals, Urbanek said, supervising work of tutors within each school district.

PERSONS INTERESTED in the tutorial project should contact Urbanek at Lakeview School, Lakeview Lane and Washington Blvd., Schaumburg, or call 529-1320.

A volunteer tutor program, started originally by the Northwest Church Council for Migrant Aid, previously helped some Spanish-speaking youngsters in this area.

The Norwesco project will expand that program, expanding its volunteer list from about 20 to 200, and providing training for the tutors.

"We want to make sure these people get some in-service help," Urbanek said of the volunteers. He said the training would include an explanation of the children's cultural background.

THE $140,000-PROJECT cost estimate provides for $113,000 to come from Economic Opportunity Act funds and the other $27,000 from the school districts themselves, by use of space or supplying of materials.

The budget includes $20,000 for field trips and $71,000 for salaries, including those of consultants and training personnel.

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Sue Smith, 439-4851 Dorothy Westphal, 392-8573
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298

The usual Sidelights opening paragraph is pre-empted this week to bring you the following message from Dorothy Meyer: "HALP!"

As of this week Dorothy is alone on the Sidelights staff; however, she also works full time (or should) at a job in Paddock offices and cannot devote the time needed to single-handedly maintain the column. If among Sidelight readers, there is a former columnist who's lately been itching to get back to the telephone-typewriter deadline routine, write (no phone, please) Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights-attention, Dorothy Meyer. Actually, experience is not necessary provided the applicant has an instinct for getting pertinent facts, keeping those facts correct in writing the item, and realizes that deadlines must be met without fail.

Until such time as the Sidelights column is again fully staffed, Dorothy will take news items phoned to her at home (CL 3-2298) after 7 p.m., and Saturday between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. But never on Sunday, hmm?

Small dinner-out celebrations and cake 'n' ice cream parties marked the occasion Friday evening for children in the confirmation class of the St. James Catholic Church of Arlington Heights. Typical of the family get-togethers honoring local confirmands was the one in the Warren Weed home, 410 Mueller, where Warren Jr. received congratulations at a dinner party before the church service. 'Round the festive board and witnessing the religious rites with the immediate family were Warren's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lanciloti, 3008 N. Schoenbeck Road, and his sponsor, cousin Joseph Scaccianoce of Franklin Park. A cake and coffee session back home, after church, climaxed the evening.

Another confirmand in the class in St. James Catholic Church Friday evening was Peggy Enright, daughter of the James Enrights, 1213 N. Dunton. Her godmother, Mrs. Richard Reiss, and Mr. Reiss were part of the after-church celebration in the Enright home, but Peggy's dad was not. He was in Florida on a business trip at the time, but now he's home again.

A dinner party before church services Friday evening marked her special occasion for St. James confirmand, Mary Hahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hahn, 701 N. Vail. Joining the family were May's grandparents, the Peter J. Hahns of Chicago.

For children in Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic parish Saturday was the big day as a record number of youngsters made their First Holy Communion. For the family of one of the communicants, Christopher Wrobel, the whole weekend was busy, beginning with Mom's trip to DeKalb Friday to get Chris' sister, Joanne, and ending with Chris' piano recital Sunday on his Dad's birthday. Except for a French poodle pup and the cuckoo clock, it was very quiet Monday at 616 W. George.

MARKING Christopher's special occasion Saturday following the church service, was a festive luncheon party in Rolling Green Country Club. His well-wishers included his grandparents, the senior Charles Wrobels and the William Vogels, all of Chicago, and of course his godparents, big brother Jerry and sister Joanne.

Chris made it through his piano recital without a hitch Sunday afternoon, Joanne returned to college early in the evening and their dad survived the day without feeling more than 24 hours older.

Another young pianist, Lorie Wickstrom, daughter of the Harry L. Wickstroms, 527 S. Dryden, appeared recently in a recital in Northwestern University's Lutkin Hall in Evanston. Lorie was 12 years old a week ago Monday and celebrated her success as a 12-year-old-Lutkin-Hall-performer at a hamburger and sundae supper party in the Red Balloon restaurant. Sharing the fun 'n' food session were four Dryden Place friends, Barbara Milazzo, Nancy Rudin, Ann Ward and Cheryl Keliogg.

Seven sisters, daughters of the William Klingenmaiers, 615 W. Wing, were together Sunday for the birthday of one of them in the home of another of them. Mom and Dad were there, too, of course, adding their best wishes to the bumper crop of congratulations extended to Mrs. Joe Nero of Oak Forest.

A family party with a Batman birthday cake on the menu, celebrated the second birthday of Jimmy Dougherty last Friday evening. Jim is the into-everything son of the E. E. Doughertys, 1212 N. Dunton.

THE WELL-TRAVELED Lewis Browns, 509 S. Chestnut, returned early last week from a 20,000-mile trip that held many "firsts" even for them. They left late in February for their first Pacific cruise aboard the Matson luxury liner, Monterey, and before they came home they had fallen in love with New Zealand and Australia, had been over-exposed to pineapples, had declined a native Fijian drink that too much resembled dish-water and came to a final conclusion that they wouldn't have missed a minute or mile of their trip for all the pineapples in the Pacific.

The Browns' first stop on the six-week cruise was at Bora Bora Island, a primitive French possession, so surrounded by coral reef that it was necessary to approach the island by launch. Rarotonga, another of the French islands, is also ringed by coral reefs and no attempt was made to go ashore. Instead the natives came to the ship in out-riggers and performed their tribal dances on board. Next came New Zealand and Australia where, the Browns report, affection for America is still strong. From Sydney the cruise continued to famed and unique Tin Can Island, so named because of the method of mail delivery. Here again the coral reefs are so heavy that mail is sealed in tin cans and floated to and from the mail-carrying ships. Pick-up and delivery is once every six weeks and Tin Can Islands postage stamps are collector's items.

A visit to the Hawaiian Islands concluded the tour for the passengers. The Browns climaxed their travel with a stay in San Francisco where they were visited by former Arlington Heights neighbors, the Carl Beckers now of the Los Angeles area. Other local friends of the Beckers will be interested in knowing that their son, Edward, was married March 19. Ex-Arlington Heighters, the Larry Middels, now of San Diego, were among the wedding guests.

BRIDAL SHOWERS here and in Denver, feted the former Janet Trever, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trever, 714 S. Dunton, who was married Saturday to David C. Miller of Salina, Kan. Denver University friends farewelled Miss Trever during a weekend at a mountain lodge in Denver, just prior to the bride-elect's return home several weeks ago. Miss Patricia Graham, who attended the bride in Saturday's nuptials, was hostess for the weekend party, which included a shower of miscellaneous gifts for Janet.

Starting a local marriage-go-round of pre-nuptial parties for Miss Trever was one given by a family friend, Mrs. Frank Harris of Elmhurst, and shared by her with another bride-to-be, Barbara McComb of Lombard. Fourteen mutual friends of the two showered them with miscellaneous gifts and enjoyed the reunion aspect of the evening get-together.

The next day, Friday the 13th of May, Miss Trever was again feted by family friends at the only surprise party on her happy-hectic schedule. Mrs. John McComb and Mrs. Kenneth Hull were co-hostesses to 17 neighborhood friends of the Trever family, at a morning shower given in the McComb home, 710 S. Dunton. All of the luck associated with the superstitious date was good; the surprise was complete. The guest of honor was delighted and the rest of the guests had fun too.

Climaxing the social whirl was a kitchen shower given a week ago Monday by Mrs. John Gibney of Palatine. Fourteen of Janet's college mates and their mothers were Mrs. Gibney's guests, all enjoying the final get-together with their friend as "Miss Trever."

Miss Trever became Mrs. David Miller in the nuptial service of the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights. The groom, graduated May 17 from the Air Force officer training school in San Antonio, will take his bride to their first home, Webb A.F.B. in Big Springs, Tex., following a brief honeymoon.

RICHARD MYER, son of the Victor Myers, 819 Bristol, was eight years old May 3. Nine friends and the usual cake and ice cream helped make things festive.

The Myers enjoyed the Northwest Community Hospital Ball on May 14 finding the music of Lou Breeze and Jimmy Durante's performance especially thrilling.

"It's true. Money doesn't grow on trees." This is the conclusion Mrs. Peter McQuillon, 760 Belmont, has come to. Their future retirement home in Yalaha, Fla., has 140 acres of orange groves. The unseasonal cold weather of this past winter proved damaging to the golden crop. Most of their winter vacation goes toward fixing up their home and grounds, with some golfing enioyed, too.

The Richard A. Malcomsons and their daughters, Kimberly and Karen, of 537 S. Vail, have moved to Los Angeles where he will work for the United of California Bank. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. Malcomson, 727 Belmont.

LORETTE PEDERSEN, 809 Davis, will spend her second summer as a counselor at Camp Reinberg. She attends the Illinois Teacher's College, North, in Chicago. Her parents, the Foster Pedersens entertained relatives at a family reunion in April. Mr. and Mrs. James Secker from Freeport, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. E. Beck and Mr. and Mrs. A. Konefes, Jr. from Norwood Park, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mayer and Mrs. Lindquist, Mrs. Pedersen's mother, were among the guests.

A combination birthday and christening celebration was given by Mr. and Mrs. H. Slottag, 29 N. Dryden, May 22. Their daughters Holly Marlene, 1, May 19 and Victoria Lynn Urhammer, 5, were christened in St. Peter Lutheran Church.

The John Sullivans, 211 Stratford, bought a colonial home in Upper Arlington, Ohio, a community that reminds Mrs. Sullivan of Arlington Heights. They will be moving in August. Their daughter, Gail, is a freshman at the University of Illinois.

"It was wonderful to have our husband and father home to celebrate his birthday," said Mrs. Ed O. McKowan, Jr., 206 S. Gibbons. A family dinner party was given for him May 12.

JOAN DUNLOP and Libby Lanzillo, 1101 Mayfair, entertained their new neighbor, Kay Burr, with a coffee at the Richard Dunlops, 1115 Mayfair, May 19.

The Norman Burrs and their children, Rickey, 4, and Sandy, 2, are new residents at 1002 Mayfair. Coming from California, they like Arlington Heights and Mrs. Burr is enjoying the Newcomers Club.

The Dunlops tried out truck camping in the Allegan Forest, Mich., last weekend. There are two scouts in the family to help and, if they survive well, the family will camp while father, Richard, researches the Santa Fe trail on a trip West this summer.

Gerri Boyle, of Omaha, Neb., a niece of the Kern Haggs, 112 Derbyshire, was married to Father Jack Pench, curate at St. Johns Episcopal Church, Mount Prospect, May 6. There was a reception on May 8 in Mount Prospect and another in Omaha May 18. The young couple will do mission work in Guatemala in the future. Marguerite Hagg drives for Village Nursery School, North, every day and teaches there in the afternoon. She is enthusiastic about her young charges and loves her work.

THE JOHN FOLEYS, 406 Carlyle, spent Mother's Day weekend in Milwaukee. They took their parents, Mrs. Mata Scheide and Mr. and Mrs. John Foley Sr., to dinner at the Boulevard Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. William Oakley, Belfast, Ireland, are visiting their daughter's family, William and Edith Forestell, 122 S. Brighton. Mrs. Forestell's mother was here a year ago when she was Mrs. McKibbin and was active in the "Over 50" group. The Oakleys have visited Mr. Oakley's daughter, the Frank Taylors, in Montreal and Mrs. Oakley's son, the John McKibbins in Denver.

They celebrated Edith Forestell's birthday last weekend with dinner and the Ice Show at the Conrad Hilton.

Scott Yeazel, son of the Gilbert Yeazels, 511 Beverly, really finished up his 12th birthday on May 16 with a flourish. After entertaining his friends at the driving range and with cake and ice cream, he blossomed out with the German measles.

His brother, Bob Yeazel, will graduate from Arlington High School in June and attend Tulane University in New Orleans.

We are sorry! On May 5, along with moving day at Paddocks, we moved Walter Kellin, 105 Stratford, and christened him Walter Kiesig. Please forgive. (A

Arlington Greens

Men's Bridge, sponsored by the Arlington Greens Community Association, completed their last games of the season on Wednesday of last week in the A. J. Tomaso home at 635 E. Clarendon Ave. High scorers for the month of May were Len Hauskey with 4320, Tom McCook, 4280, and Gary Waffle, 3[illegible].

Houseguests in the Jack O'Neil home on E. Oakton Street from Wednesday through Sunday of last week were Mrs. O'Neil's sisters, Mrs. Marie Klicker and Mrs. Eleanor Reynertson, both of Chicago. It was a pleasant visit after the past six weeks for the O'Neils.

May 1 officially ended 46 years with the First National Bank of Chicago for Jack, but the action began a month earlier. Several parties were given for him, including a luncheon with fellow employees and a dinner party at Jimmy Wong's. On hand for some of the celebrating was his son, Bruce, who is stationed at Chanute AFB.

In mid-April the O'Neils began their three-week vacation trip to Florida. First was an overnight stop in downstate Carbondale, where they visited their son, Peter, a student at Southern Illinois University. After a day at Daytona Beach, they continued on to Pompano to join retired or vacationing bank employees for ten days of sunning, swimming and relaxing.

MRS. BETTE JOHNSON of E. Olive Street and her sister, Mrs. Norman Press of La Grange Park, motored to DeKalb last Saturday for a weekend visit with another sister, Miss Virginia Whalen, a teacher at Northern Illinois University, who was preparing to leave for Columbia University, New York.

On Saturday of the week before, the Johnsons attended the St. James Bowling League dinner dance at Old Orchard Country Club.

Neighbors and friends extend condolences to Mrs. Gloria Gildemeister of E. Olive Street upon the death of her sister Mrs. Bernadine Kovacic in Morton Grove. A polio victim, Mrs. Kovacic spent the last ten years in an iron lung. The funeral was held on Tuesday in St. Martin's Church in Morton Grove.

Friday evening was confirmation in St. James Catholic Church, with Msgr. Francis W. Byrne, Chancellor of the Diocese, officiating. More than 200 people, boys robed in red and girls in white, together with several adults, participated in the ceremony. Among them were Janet Olson of E. Oakton Street. Her sponsor was Miss Blanche Heaney of Racine. The Heaney family was among the guests at a dinner party preceding the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

On Sunday, her brother, Alan, celebrated his 12th birthday with neighborhood friends Jack and Jim Jenkins joining him for cake and ice cream after a family dinner earlier in the day.

CONFIRMAND Roberta Finch of E. Oakton Street, whose sponsor was her sister, Kathy, observed the occasion with a family party.

A late Sunday afternoon buffet in their N. Douglas Street home marked the occasion of her confirmation for Audrey Ann Wirtz. Among the 30 relatives and friends attending was her sponsor and great-aunt, Mrs. Kay Edberg of North Pine.

Also confirmed was Jeff Yetter of N. Dryden Avenue, with his cousin, Jim Coleman of N. Beverly Lane, as his sponsor. The Coleman family were guests at a party after the ceremony.

Congratulations came from grandparents, Mrs. Gertrude Yetter and the Walter Morrisseys of Rochelle, who attended Jeff's Alter Boy Investiture on Mother's Day.

Also confirmed last Friday evening was Jeff Reed of N. Hickory Avenue. His sponsor was his uncle Caesar Petrillo of Wilmette, proxied by Oscar Josetti, friend and former neighbor. His party was attended by the Josetti family, the Don Wilczynski family, his great grandmother, Mrs. Elsie Hink, and his grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Petrillo of Des Plaines. Both Mrs. Hink and Mrs. Petrillo recently ended a ten-day visit with the Reeds when Mrs. Reed entered Evanston Hospital for surgery.

A family party after the ceremony observed the occasion for confirmand, Kenneth Schreiner of N. Beverly Lane. His brother, Wayne, was his sponsor.

A FAMILY party also marked the occasion for Kevin Roby in his N. Beverly Lane home. His brother, George, proxied as sponsor for Edward Podwojski of Santa Barbara, Calif. On Saturday the Robys, joined by former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Jennings, motored to Lafayette, Ind., for a weekend visit with other former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John Mundell, who moved to the Hoosier State earlier this year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller of N. Hickory Avenue, greeted guests, Harold and Glenda Teer, and their children, Rusty and Tracy, last Friday. The family arrived from Greenville, S. C. to begin a week's vacation in the Midwest. Also home for the weekend was their son Don, who left on Sunday evening for classes at Parsons College in Fairfield, Iowa.

HICKORY MEADOWS

An election meeting of the Hickory Meadows Civic Assoc. was held at Thomas Junior High School last Tuesday. New officers for the organization are: Charles Toth, president, replacing John Baldwin; Roger Snow, vice-president, taking over the new president's duties; Frances DeLuca, secretary, replacing Lynn Louis; Norman Nagel voted in for another year as treasurer; Ted Kries and Bill Oliver remain as directors. Guest speakers for the evening were Eugene Schlickman and Tom Novotny, whose talks were about duties of a township committeeman.

Houseguests in the James Wendt home on East Jules last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pulkownik. A flight back to St. Louis on Monday ended their visit. The weekend before, the Wendt family enjoyed a visit from grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Frommelt of Dubuque, who made the trip especially to attend the First Holy Communion of Mary Therese.

Kathleen Kreusch of East Jules was confirmed in St. James' last Friday evening. Her sponsor was her sister, Susan, home for summer vacation after completing her freshman year at Alverno College in Milwaukee. (A

ARE YOU AFRAID TO GO TO A PHYSICIAN?

Recently a physician told about one of his patients who was brought to his office almost in a state of mental collapse. For nearly a year this patient watched a growth on his body become larger and was afraid to go to a physician for fear of hearing the worst. He was just worried sick.

Fortunately it was a benign tumor, easily removed by minor surgery and now he is well again. But, if it had been cancerous, the delay might have permitted that growth to become incurable, instead of being easily removed before its poison infected the body.

Never fear the worst. If you have reoccurring pains or aches, or unusual body changes, consult a physician quickly. The odds are they will be curable.

"C'mon Bernie," said Bernie's wife.
"If we buy electric whole-house air conditioning now, we can save money."

So Bernie did.
Did Bernie save money?
You should see his smile.
Read how you can save, too.

The contractors who install electric whole-house air conditioning aren't busy right now (it's between seasons). In order to keep busy they are strongly inclined to make special money-saving deals for smart folks who want to keep cool.

Last year, 25,000 smart Chicago area folks installed electric whole-house air conditioning. Join the smart crowd. (Bernie did.) Your heating contractor can make you a member. Air-condition now.

With electric whole-house air conditioning you'll have the least expensive air conditioning available, both in the cost of the unit (as little as $800 in an average 6-room house) and cost of operation (about 40 cents a day during the air-conditioning season).

And with electric whole-house air conditioning you'll enjoy cool, filtered, dust-and-pollen-free air. You'll be really comfortable, and you'll sleep better and eat better. Best of all, you'll know it is one home-improvement you'll get your money back on if you ever sell your house.

Now you know why 25,000 electric whole-house air conditioners were installed in the Chicago area in 1965. And why you'd better beat the crowd in 1966.

Junior College Campus to Develop in Phases

'Lean and Clean' Designs Promised

(This is the second part of a series on the proposed construction of William Rainey Harper College. Last week an effort was made to explain the new concept of a two-year community institution and how Harper College fits into it.)

The citizens committee which last year led the drive establishing the two-year college district predicted with surprising accuracy many future needs of William Rainey Harper College.

Despite this foresight, some of their projections of actual land and classroom space requirements fell short. The committee estimated approximately 100 acres would be neded for the campus site. Land and building needs were estimated on the basis of an expected 2,200 students by 1967.

More recent studies by Arthur D. Little, Inc. predict full-time enrollment would be 2,800 by 1970 and about 7,000 by 1980. These revised projections forced the Harper College board to seek a site larger than 100 acres.

AFTER MONTHS of land investigation, the board tentatively decided on the old Rathje farm at Golf and Algonquin Roads. The decision on the site was scrapped a month later in the face of vocal opposition of Schaumburg officials who had planned to use the land as part of an industrial complex. Besides, the college board had located what they considered a much more desirable site on the northeast corner of Roselle and Algonquin Roads.

The 171-acre site, known as the Tri-Color farm, was owned by George Jayne and John Biddle. The board was successful in negotiating an option to buy Biddle's 80 acres for $5,000 an acre. This per-acre cost was $5,000 less than estimated by the citizens committee.

Negotiations for the 91 acres owned by Jayne are still under way. Undoubtedly the price will be higher than that for the Biddle farm because Jayne's land includes many property improvements. How much higher remains to be seen.

Dr. Robert P. Lahti is confident the price for Jayne's property will not affect estimates of the total project cost set at $29,500,000.

THE FIGURE we have budgeted for land acquisition is ample to cover whatever price we must pay Jayne," explains Lahti. If it is not adequate, adjustments would have to be made within the total estimated cost, he adds.

The drive to secure land for the college recently took on a new dimension when architects recommended to the board that an additional 28.5 acres bordering the site on the east be purchased. The college board has not taken an official position on the recommendation and repeatedly has emphasized acquisition of the additional land would be considered only in terms of long-range development.

Architects' master plan of the campus however, showed utilization of part of the 28.5 acres for parking lots and a small part of the building complex. But Lahti stresses the master plan is not rigid and can easily be adjusted if the land is not acquired.

Lahti says the key to building a fine educational institution is long-range planning. He praises the foresight of area elementary and high school districts in planning to meet fast-growing needs.

"Can we do any less?" asks Lahti.

THE PROPOSED building complex would cover 850,300 gross square feet. Features of the campus include an administration building, data processing facilities, a learning resources center, student center, community theater and auditorium, fine arts facilities, general classroom complexes, science classrooms, a lecture and demonstration center, an engineering and technology complex and athletic facilities.

The entire complex would not be built in one package. Rather, construction would move ahead in phases. Phase one, scheduled to be completed by 1970, would include all of the features of the finished campus but covering only 520,600 square feet — about one-third of the total. The whole project would be completed by 1980.

Lahti answers criticisms that the proposed campus is extravagant by pointing out that this is the type of college project backed by state law.

"Just because it is a new concept doesn't mean it is extravagant," he explains. He adds that building design will be "lean and clean" and will utilize only basic building materials, such as brick.

THE BUILDINGS will be both economical and attractive, he stresses.

Some criticism has been leveled at the college for proposing too elaborate a first phase. In response, Lahti again refers to the great flexibility allowed by building the campus in phases. This, he says, permits construction to keep pace with enrollment need.

In fact, Lahti notes, the college will probably have to build "phase within the first phase" during the first year of construction. The $20.5 million in the state till this year is hardly adequate to meet 75 per cent of the building costs for nine institutions each seeking a share.

AS A RESULT, Lahti explains, priority would be given to building those facilities most crucial to the first year's operation. Construction of a physical plant is vital, he says. Learning facilities probably would have to be combined. For example, the library could be built and used for both learning resources and classrooms, notes Lahti.

"We do know that we would probably have to build part of the science facilities," he adds.

There has been some questions fired at the college board challenging the need of physical education and athletic facilities. But Lahti and board members are vocal in answering these questions.

"What is a collegiate facility," asks Lahti? The declining physical condition of youth today has caused alarm all over the country, he notes.

"WE ARE NOT saying that we are planning to have a little Notre Dame or a little Bradley," he stresses. But, Lahti explains, physical education is "only part of a well-rounded educational plan."

Lahti promises that a minimum emphasis would be placed on inter-collegiate competition designed to develop a "good sense of sportsmanship." No athletic scholarships would be awarded. Intramural competition would be stressed most, he says.

How important are the aesthetic features of a campus? This question has been answered by many other than Lahti or the Harper College board.

The first citizen committee report stated, "The area in which the school is located should have suitable environmental setting. Such an area should be free from unsightly buildings, obnoxious fumes, noises and flooding conditions..."

THE ILLINOIS Chamber of Commerce stresses the importance of environment by stating, "Students of the junior college movement agree that bricks and mortar are vital in the success of community colleges. Functional but attractive facilities situated on a campus setting play an important role in generating local enthusiasm and public acceptance."

If the June 4 referendum is passed, college officials plan to let bids on the project by February, 1967, and hold groundbreaking ceremonies a month or so later. Opening date of the college would be September, 1968.

If the referendum is not passed, the opening date would be postponed at least one year because eligibility for state funds is based on successful passage of a bond issue assuring residents will pay 25 per cent of the total project.

(Next week — how much will the Harper College project cost the taxpayer?) (B10

School Remodeling Contract Awarded

A contract for life safety code remodeling of the south portion of Arlington High School was awarded Monday to the firm of F. & J. Vesecky.

The company was low bidder of three, offering a base bid of $29,422 plus an estimated $9,200 for time and materials needed in electrical work connected with remodeling. The total estimated bid was $38,622.

Peter Johnsen & Son bid $42,374, including a base bid of $32,924 and an estimate for the electrical work of $9,450. John Lindstrom, Inc. offered a bid of $42,828, including a base bid of $33,028 plus estimate of $9,800 for the electrical changes.

SEVERAL WORK order changes on the Elk Grove High School contract were also approved by the District 214 board at the request of Wayne Fritch of architects Berger, Kelley, Unteed and Associates.

Approved was a $1,432 added expenditure to provide storm sewers to carry runoff from the Elk Grove High site directly into Salt Creek to the south. Previous plans had been to end the storm sewer at the property line.

The change in the storm sewers had been approved by the State Waterways Commission, Fritch told the board. (ACM-E

Would You Believe Chee Chee Pinquay?

Valley Forge? A student choice? Or Chief Chee Chee Pinquay?

These were the latest offerings of High School District 214 in its continuing search for a name for its sixth high school on Willow Road near Rand.

The suggestion of Valley Forge came from Richard Bachhuber, board member from Mount Prospect.

Dr. Frank J. Smith, whose suggestion of Winston Churchill High has been knocked down twice, proposed both the Indian chieftain and a student selection of the school name.

"There were objections to Winston Churchill because he was not an American," Smith noted.

"Chief Pinquay is indeed an American — and still neither a Republican nor a Democrat," the school board member added, chuckling.

CHIEF PINQUAY, Smith said, was known to the white man as Alexander Robinson. Robinson Woods in the Cook County Forest Preserves along the Des Plaines River still bears his name.

A chief of the Pottawatomi, Chippewa and Ottawa Indians, he was granted two sections of land in the Treaty of Prairie Du Chien for saving the lives of four settlers during the Fort Dearborn Massacre and for preventing the Pottawatomi from joining the Sauks and Winnebagos on the warpath in 1827.

Chicago Historical Society records show the Indian chieftain later received a $200 annuity in the Treaty of Camp Tippecanoe and an additional annuity later of $300 a year.

Paper Ballot Use Hit by Candidate

Wheeling Township is scheduled to have "no less than six paper ballot precincts" in the June 14 primary election "and may have even more in the November general election," according to Eugene F. Schlickman, candidate for GOP committeeman.

Schlickman charged the need to use paper ballots "is due to the Democrat-controlled county board's refusal to authorize funds for the purchase of additional voting machines where new suburban precincts were created."

Schlickman added, "this is just another instance of Democrat majorities seeking to export Chicago-style ward politics to the suburbs. Time after time Democrats in the General Assembly have blocked election law reform. During the last session I introduced a bill to extend voting hours. This bill died in Committee on a straight party-line vote. Now the Democrat-controlled county board has taken another giant step backwards. In 1964, Wheeling Township did not have a single paper ballot precinct. Now it looks like we'll have at least six."

Schlickman challenged James Stavros, Democratic committeeman, to join him in speaking out against the action of the county board. Schlickman stated, "Stavros proudly claims he is an administrative assistant in the office of the county board president. Where was he when the county board refused to authorize funds for the purchase of additional voting machines? Certainly his judges of election will be no happier than ours when they must work long into the night counting paper ballots." (ACM

Forest View Netters Blank Elgin-Larkin

Forest View's netters whitewashed an opponent Elgin-Larkin entry last Wednesday (May 18). The final score was 5-0.

That triumph upped the record of coach Rog Steingraber's tennis forces to 10-7. It was the sixth FV win in the last eight duals.

A 6-0, 6-0 SCORE gave Rich Gillespie a first singles win over E-L's Chuck Barnes. Jim Buckholz picked up his 13th season win with a 6-2, 8-6 victory over Stu Vaughn in second singles. Buckholz has lost only four times.

Third singles competition went to three sets. Finally Howie Brasch beat Larry Chapins 6-2, 7-9, 6-2.

G. C. Murphy Chain Sponsors Two '500' Cars

The G. C. Murphy Company, a 514 store national variety chain with a store in Mount Prospect Plaza, has started its second year in racing as sponsor of two Indianapolis "500" entries.

Both entries are newly constructed vehicles powered with rear mounted Ford engines.

All American Racers is builder of the number one "G. C. Murphy Special" and Fred Gerhardt built the second.

Tentative plans call for the Gerhardt car to be used as a "back-up" vehicle at Indianapolis.

An Offy powered dirt car is also included in the sponsorship arrangements. This will provide a Murphy sponsored car for each 1966 Championship Trail race.

The Gerhardt built "G. C. Murphy Special" was running sixth in the April 25 Trenton "150" when mechanical difficulties forced it to retire.

In the 1965 Memorial Day Race, G. C. Murphy Company sponsored a Gerhardt Offy which rookie Mick Rupp guided to a sixth place finish. In its first year as a race car sponsor, the Murphy Company was co-winner of the annual Sponsor-of-the-Year Award.

Lion Tennis Squad Wins

St. George proved to be no match for St. Viator's varsity tennis team last week in Chicagoland Prep League action.

Coach Pete Dunderdale's Lions fashioned straight sets victories in four of the five matches in an effortless 5-0 triumph over the Dragons.

The victory was St. Viator's ninth in 13 league affairs.

John Allare (6-3, 6-2) and Bill Gordon (6-0, 6-0) coasted in the number one and two singles positions, but Jack Neimet had more difficulty in No. 3 before dumping St. George's Jim Egan 9-7, 4-6, 6-3.

In doubles Jim Hillenmeyer and Greg Leydig posted a 6-3, 6-3 win in the number one slot. Tim Plesko and Greg Sidor gained a 6-4, 6-2 triumph in second doubles.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Bo Wi Cans Camp Fire Girls completed one of their rank requirements on May 11 when each girl invited her mother, a grandmother and a neighbor to a ceremonial tea. The tea was held after school in the multi-purpose room at Park School where the girls hold their regular meetings. Punch and cookies were served.

On April 27 the Bo Wi Cans presented a program at the Lutheran Home for the Aged. The program consisted of piano solos by Nancy Martin, Nancy Sundeen and Francie Terrill; a clarinet solo by Louisa Hollmeyer; a vocal solo by Roxanne Wolf; a vocal ensemble by Lynn McCallister, Francie Terrill, Susan Kessenich, Joyce Conway and Louisa Hollmeyer, accompanied by Lynn McCallister on the ukulele; a monolog by Louisa Hollmeyer and square dancing by eight of the girls. The program ended with group singing.

The girls also delivered 45 baskets filled with home made cookies and individual favors they had made for the residents of the home.

They are planning an all day hike and cook-out on Saturday, May 21.

The Bo Wi Cans are fifth graders at Park School. Guardian of the group is Mrs. Edward Conway who is assisted by Mrs. Robert Martin.

Happy Go Lucky Blue Birds, second graders from Westgate School, have had many interesting experiences at their meetings this year including a trip to Sylvia's Flower Shop and to McDonald's to see how hamburgers are made. The group enjoyed free treats at McDonald's. These girls have also made many handicraft projects. They entertained the first grade girls at Dwyer School at a party last month which included games and treats, attempting to show the first graders what fun it is to be a Blue Bird.

Their meetings have come to an end for this year but all are looking forward to another year of fun and happy experiences.

Members of the Happy Go Lucky Blue Birds are Margo Baranowski, Lori Callahan, Donna Fidiccia, Susan Holzer, Gail Livermore, Ellen Nicholson, Kelly Rugsley, Nancy Vogel and Josephine Wroblewski. Leader of the group is Mrs. Elly Holzer with co-leader Mrs. Yolanda Wroblewski assisting.

The Blue Echo Bluebirds of Arlington Heights celebrated Armed Forces Day with a tour of the Nike base last Saturday, accompanied by a group of friends from Maryville Academy in Des Plaines.

The girls met last fall when the Bluebirds gave a party at the academy. It proved so successful they wanted to entertain the Maryville residents again. Using their share of the proceeds from this year's Camp Fire Candy sale — $12.60 — as a base, they began to make plans for the combined group of 28 girls.

A TRIP TO the Nike base sounded interesting, and was free, so was readily agreed upon. Then came the matter of refreshments. After careful addition the Bluebirds ascertained that 56 hamburgers and 28 sacks of french fries totaled exactly $12.60. However, when the personnel at McDonald's drive-in learned that the Bluebirds had only been able to earn enough to cover hamburgers and fries, they generously donated a malted milk for each girl.

At the Nike base, which held open house for Armed Forces Day, the girls took an hour and a half tour, during which they learned something of the intricacies of radar and viewed the howitzer gun and helicopter that were on display.

The guests from Maryville were Martha Melandez, Linda Lawcewicz, Mary Skimkus, Marie Benjamen, Marie Lopez, Linda Gale, Carmen, Yolanda and Josephine Flores, Tina Austin, Tammy Raymes, Corrine Coyne, Julia Stevens, Karen Berkley, Anita Mitchell, Joan Vincent and Teresa Osman.

Their Blue Echo Bluebird hosts included Linda Dal Compo, Anne Cooper, Kathy Farr, Maryann Loris, Cathy Schoepke, Carole Wilson, Barbara Wright, Annelise McDonnell, Linda Pohlman, Karen Schweitzer and Nancy Wetton. They were accompanied by Miss Dornbusch, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. J. McDonnell, G. Schweitzer, Mr. and Mrs. William Farr and Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilson.

MOUNT PROSPECT

The past month has been a busy one for the girls of the E-Ha-Wee-Wa - Ki - Ya camp Fire group. On April 27 they were hostesses to Mrs. Barbara Ivan's Blue Ladies Bluebird group at a candlelight ceremony. This was a preview of things to come next year for the Blue Ladies. The older girls explained what each honor bead represented on her bolero, and then served their younger guests refreshments.

At a recent meeting the girls honored their leaders, Mrs. Charles Linhart and Mrs. Charles Kirchoff, and gave them each a gift in appreciation of their leadership for the past two years. They have also made box puppets, and are planning to put on a show for their mothers this summer.

Their last meeting of the school year will be a picnic, with the girls doing their own cooking over an open fire. The highlight of their summer activities will be an overnight trip. The girls in this active group are Linda Bantz, Susan Bejcek, Carole Engibous, Janice Ibbotson, Mary Ellen Kirchoff, Renee Linhart, Marlene Lortie, Jane Lucarz, Susan Lundin, Susan Macchia, Ellen Marie Scheenberg. Director Says: 'It's Helping Students'

W.O.'s First Report Card Reads 'A'

by Mary Schlott
Staff Writer

Educators call them the "academically alienated."

To the classroom teacher this student is often a trouble maker and a pest—the one who acts up, doesn't learn and doesn't seem to care.

To help this youngster—the potential dropout with a history of unsuccessful school experience—a unique program has been set up in High School District214.

Canoe trips, cabinet making and incentive pay are among its features.

SET UP WITH the aid of a 75 per cent reimbursement state vocational education grant, the High School District 214 program — called the Work Orientation Program or simply W.O. — is new this year.

An adaption of an earlier, less successful "work experience" program, it includes about 50 boys and girls this year in four schools. For next year an increase of the program, to 120 students in five schools, has been proposed.

Expansion of the program is recommended by Warren Collier, District 214 coordinator, because he says he thinks the Work Orientation Program is doing its job. It's helping students.

Improvement in both attitudes and academic achievement has been noted by persons working with the 50 students assigned this year. Of 10 boys in the program in one school, eight have upped their grades.

BUT THE GOAL of the W.O. program is not improvement in just grades but in the high school student's total approach to school and to himself.

With this in mind, the W.O. program in this school system includes:

—A work phase, in which students subcontract for work to local industry or to the school system itself and earn money for doing their job well. As in the Junior Achievement program, the work phase gives these teenagers a capsule view of business — and a chance to improve their financial picture as they grow.

—Special help in class work, particularly in basic reading skills in which these youngsters often are not well grounded. If their general discouragement in school stems from not being able to handle the reading, they get the help they need.

—Extra counseling, both from guidance specialists and classroom teachers. When practicable, an effort is made to assign the W.O. student to teachers who will go that extra step, with the patience to keep on "being an example" despite trying times. Counseling of the boys' and girls' parents is also included if the adults wished.

WHY THE CANOE trips? For the same reason that the W.O. students at Forest View will go camping this Memorial Day weekend to the Indiana Dunes: to show these teenagers that they too can do things successfully.

"The thing we've most often found lacking in the W.O. students, the nonachievers," says Forest View guidance director Richard Stanowski, "is confidence. These boys just don't see themselves with ability to achieve."

So the District 214 has deliberately set out to give its W.O. students experience in achievement. The boys in the Forest View program tackled a tough canoe trip down the swollen Des Plaines River last month, as a kind of dare. As it turned out, one of the W.O. Boys, Ed Howell, was the hero of the trip. When Howell's canoe, last of the nine strung out on the river, capsized he swam to shore and found the help his canoeing partner, English teacher Ronald Rovin, needed.

THE WORK phase of the program, the technical processes course, is designed to teach achievement, too. In this phase, also, the teenagers have done well.

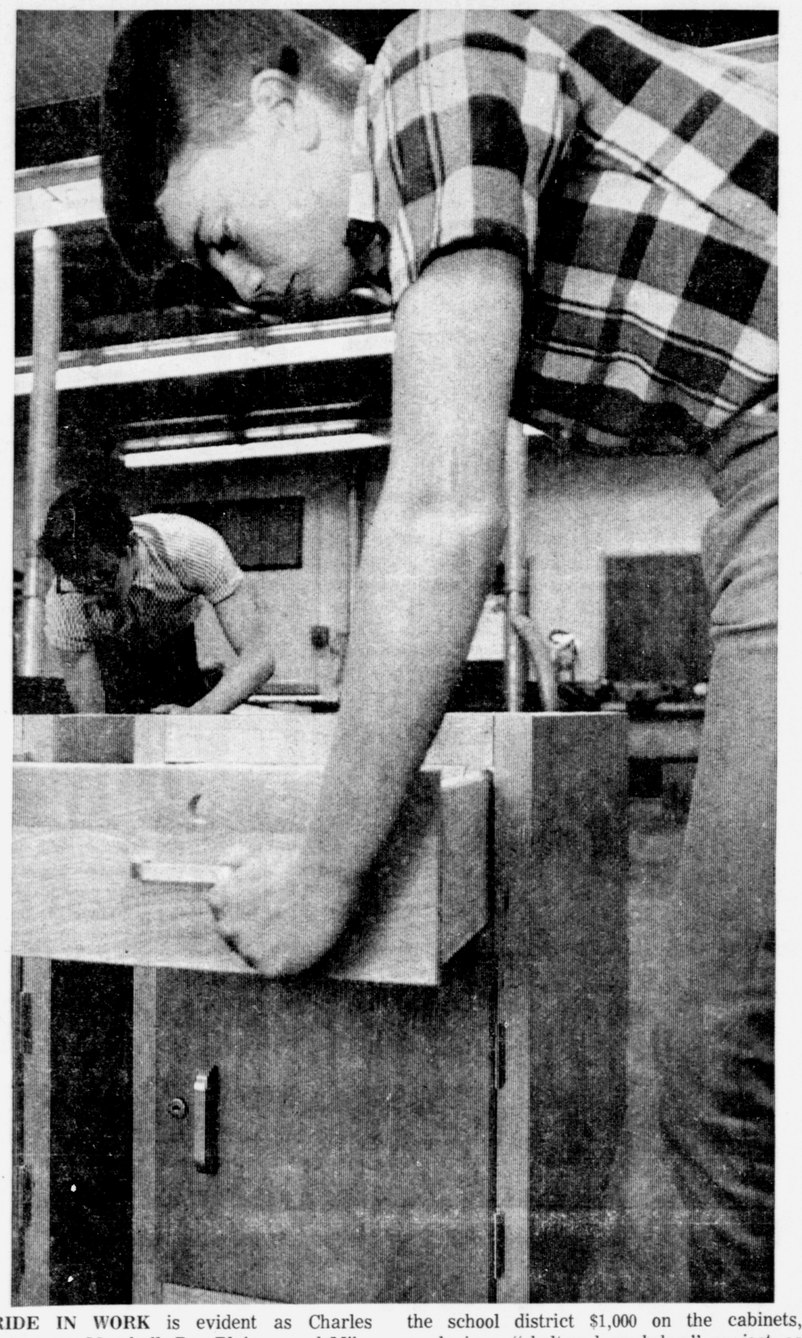
At Arlington High the W.O. students subcontracted for work from two local businesses, Klehm Nursery and Nelco Coil Supply.

At Forest View, the W.O. students have tackled successfully the ambitious project of building 72 cabinets for the new Elk Grove High School electrical shop. Bidding on the work as would any firm, they saved the district $1,000 over the commercial price and earned close to $2,000 for themselves as well, in wages and a year-end bonus.

THE BONUS WILL be paid on "shares," with a high of five shares going to the student with an "A". The idea in this is to help the student who can't always understand long-term school goals — the 10-year value of an "A", as an example — to see grades as advantageous as a short-term gain. Like the carrot and the donkey, this approach helps.

In reaching for such incentives, school personnel in District 214 have drawn from psychologists, from Boy Scout programs, and from industry. Already the program has drawn praise from throughout the state.

As its enrollment grows, evaluation will be needed. This, too, is being planned for, in the same manner that evaluation of the previous "work experience" program led the District to try the answer now called W.O.



PRIDE IN WORK is evident as Charles Nawrot, 382 Marshall, Des Plaines, and Mike Palmer, 3802 Eagle Lane, Rolling Meadows, do last-minute touchup work on cabinets their Work Orientation Program group at Forest View High School has made for the new Elk Grove High. The Forest View group saved the school district $1,000 on the cabinets, made in a "sheltered workshop" project as part of the program. Their instructor, John Hangey, couldn't be more pleased with the quality of their work—and the students earned $2,000 for themselves as well.

Art Center Slates Summer Program

The Countryside Art Center is now organizing its summer class program. Classes will begin June 20 and will continue for six weeks.

All classes will be held at Pioneer Park in Arlington Heights except the outdoor drawing class which will meet in the parking lot and then continue at various locations around Arlington Heights.

The children's art class will be held on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 10:30 to 12:30 p.m. The outdoor drawing class for adults and teens will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on Monday.

BOTH CLASSES will be taught by Russ Swayzee, art consultant for the Park Ridge elementary and junior high schools. He holds a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in art education.

A ceramics class will be taught by Russ Swayzee, art consultant for the Park Ridge elementary and junior high schools. He holds a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in art education.

A ceramics class will be taught by Mrs. Ruthe Karlin on Wednesday evenings and will include instruction in "throwing on the wheel."

A class in watercolor is being organized for Thursday evenings.

Students may register at the Countryside Art Gallery, 10 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights, Tuesday through Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. More information may be obtained by calling Mrs. A. J. Barbaro, 392-4026, or Mrs. John J. Alderson, CL 3-8542. (Bill

Two Township GOP Groups Back Atcher

Health became an issue in the 3rd district campaign for the GOP nomination for senator this week as Robert O. Atcher received endorsements from two township GOP organizations.

Carl Hansen, Committeeman of Elk Grove Township, in commenting on his group's endorsement made in a closed meeting last Saturday and publicly affirmed Monday, said "We have a great need for effective representation in this completely new 3rd Senatorial District.

"It is a large district, comprised of all or portions of eight townships. More importantly, our rapidly growing population which make imperative the need for energetic and articulate representation in Springfield.

"In this context, Sen. John Graham, (incumbent from Barrington), who aspirest to represent this new district, is a matter of grave concern within our organization.

"The workload to which our new senator will fall heir will be prodigious."

Graham, an eight-year veteran of the Illinois senate, formerly serving the district of Barrington, Schaumburg, Hanover and Palatine townships, was felled by a stroke earlier this year.

He has since recovered sufficiently to meet the demands of the job according to medical reports and sources close to him. He walks with a cane.

The district was enlarged in the reapportionment of the senate to include Wheeling and Elk Grove townships as well as portions of Maine and Northfield townships.

The second endorsement for Atcher over the weekend came from Maine Township, which has about 1,600 GOP voters inside the 3rd district.

In commenting on the endorsements, Atcher said "I anticipated the growing amount of grass-roots support for my candidacy, but I can't conceal my immense pleasure at this strong showing of organization support."

Hansen, commenting further on the health issue, which has been studiously avoided by Atcher and William Davies of Streamwood, who also seeks the nomination, said "Consequently it is our firm belief that our need for this effective representation can best be supplied by Mayor Robert O. Atcher, president of the village of Schaumburg." (B-10

Day Camp, Vacation School Announced by South Church

The summer day camp and vacation church school program for South Church Community Baptist, Mount Prospect, is planned to benefit children of the immediate church community and many from Chicago who have fewer advantages, according to Ronald C. Gabbard, Director of Christian Education.

The first program is from June 20 through July 1 and is designated the "South Church Day Camp." Started last year with 25 children the board of Christian Education has decided to increase it to 50 children this year. This includes children within the area of the church ranging from grades one through five. Each day they will be taken by bus to the Indian Boundry forest preserve.

"The experience of living together on consecutive days with a small group, working, playing, exploring, and worshiping together, offers boys and girls the chance to deal firsthand with problems in living with others as Christians," according to Gabbard.

SECOND PHASE of the summer program does not include children of the South Church community but instead provides the same advantages to 50 children from the so-called "inner city." The educational department approached the Garfield Park Baptist church with the idea of offering bus transportation and teaching staff to children from that community.

The staff for the second two week program will include two professional social workers, a few members of the Youth Corps, and South church staff and volunteers.

To make this phase of the program possible the church Camp Committee must secure a minimum of 40 scholarship gifts of $10 each. These may be made payable to South Church Camp and Conference.

The "Vacation Church School," an annual event at South Church, will be held the weeks of August 8 and 15 and will include children from three years old through eighth grade. All children are invited whether or not they are members of the church Sunday School, Gabbard said.

THE BOARD of Christian Education of the church is again sponsoring vacations for several children from the "inner city" for the first weeks of this school. They will live in homes of children attending the school, participating in the school activities in the mornings and activities provided by the host families during the remainder of the day. Visiting children will come from various sections of Chicago and several different ethnic groups including Indian, Chinese and Negro. Purpose of the program is to provide an experience in Christian living which children from both groups would not otherwise enjoy. The visiting children will be selected by a staff member of the Chicago Baptist Association. (M

The families and their sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bolt, Palatine, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas West; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ekey, Hoffman Estates, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. T. Dickinson; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Arlington Heights, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Kirke White; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kaufman, Arlington Heights, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Dale Francis; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Keyes, Itasca; sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Al Nelson;

Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Krikerian, Rolling Meadows, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lanigan; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Spellman, Arlington Heights, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Everett Huff; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Castle, Mount Prospect, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bottje; Dr. and Mrs. James Vetter, Arlington Heights sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carlton; and Miss Lynn Ann Harrison, Arlington Heights.

The new members were presented to the congregation by a member of the Diaconate.

Seek Federal Funds For Teacher Center

Elk Grove School District 59 is requesting approximately $400,000 in federal funds for a teacher training and development center.

It received a federal grant last winter to plan such a center.

Five universities have asked to work with the proposed center and two others have shown a strong interest.

THE TRAINING and development center proposal envisions a "consortium" of representatives from public, private, and parochial schools, universities, the Midwest Regional Laboratory, and curriculum development projects.

The center would demonstrate innovative teaching and establish particular training for teachers, administrators, and specialists who would become involved in the demonstrations.

The center's aim would be to close the gap between theory and practice in teaching. The proposal is based on the theory that local school systems using such things as team teaching, independent study centers, ungraded organization, and programmed materials can best train educators in their use.

AT THIS center, teachers and administrators would become critical evaluators of new programs rather than resisters, the proposal states. Often a lack of understanding is the hinderance to change in educational practice, it theorizes.

The idea of change in education is not as widespread as it is in other areas such as industry or agriculture, the proposal states. (A

Parks Plan 2 Softball Leagues

The River Trails Park District is planning two 16-inch softball leagues. One league will be for high school aged boys, 18 and under, the second for men above high school age.

The majority of the players should live within the Park District boundaries, roughly Wheeling to River Roads and Kensington to Willow Roads. However an out-of-district team may be allowed to balance the league.

ANYONE HAVING a team or wanting to form one may call the park district office at 296-4486.

An organization meeting will be held at the office in the Feehanville School Building, 1400 E. Kensington Road, Mount Prospect, on Wednesday, June 1. The high school league will meet at 7 p.m. and the men's league at 8 p.m. (M(G

THE PONY EXPRESS---SOME FACTS AND A SURPRISE

Ask any ten Americans how long the famous Pony Express service lasted in our country, and probably not one out of the ten will be able to give you the right answer.

For, although the Pony Express is one of the most legendary adventures of our past, most people don't realize it lasted just one year!

The Pony Express was established to carry the mail between the midwest and far west. It ran between St. Joseph, Mo., and Sacramento, Calif., a distance of almost 2,000 miles. Men rode horseback in relays and the trip took from eight to 10 days. The service was in existence from 1860 to 1861.

But despite its short life, the Pony Express is remembered because of those heroic horsemen who braved that rugged and dangerous ride to get the mail through.

GOP Unity Plans Are Outlined by Novotny

Thomas W. Novotny has pledged that, if he is elected Wheeling Township Republican committeeman on June 14, he will ask all of his opponent's supporters to take jobs in the local Republican organization.

"This means every single one of them," Novotny said. "They all have talents, time, and energy which we will want to make full use of in the fall campaign and after. Whatever our present disagreements may be, we are in accord that our main job is to defeat the Democrats next November. We will need all the help we can get to do it."

Novotny commented that he had been very pleased when, in a recent coffee, one of his supporters told those present that "she had been on opposite sides from me on several occasions, that I fought hard to win, but that I never held a grudge after the issue was resolved, win or lose."

NOVOTNY NOTED that a number of his present supporters have been "across the fence" from him in previous campaigns, including his campaign manager, H. F. "Pete" Bunnell, who supported Scott in the 1964 gubernatorial primary while Novotny was supporting Percy.

"I have also disagreed in the past with Fred Ainslie, chairman of Republicans for Novotny; Pat Friday, chairman of our women's committee, and my wife. She was working for Eisenhower in 1952 when I was supporting Taft."

"I am citing these instances to support my statement that I will fire no one, I will take reprisals on no one, and I will hold no grudges just because someone disagrees with me or elected not to support me," Novotny said.

Novotny repeated an earlier statement that he would make decisions, after he is elected, in consultation with the Republican precinct captain organization, the local Republican clubs, and other local citizens. (ACM

Junior Great Books Summer Series Set

A Junior Great Books program is being offered area high school students this summer for the first time as a part of the High School District 214 summer school.

Interested students may sign up for the eight-week, 90-minutes-each series by contacting the summer school enrollment person at Arlington High School.

First meeting of the Junior Great Books program for high schoolers will be during the week of June 20, with the last session scheduled for the week of Aug. 8.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR the Junior Great Books program are being made by Mrs. Theodore Seiler, supervisor of the program in Elementary District 25, and Mrs. Harry Jenkins, coordinator of the Junior Great Books program in Arlington Heights parochial schools.

Information about the high school Great Books program may be received by calling Mrs. Seiler at CL 3-1302 or Mrs. Jenkins at CL 9-0766.

The format of the Junior Great Books is a simple one, the two women said. Prior to each weekly discussion, students read an assigned selection from the Great Books series. If the student fails to do his reading, he must forego participation in the discussion of that selection.

Guides for the 90-minute session each week are discussion leaders, trained to facilitate the discussion but not to force it to any conclusion.

GOAL OF THE Junior Great Books program, the two women said, is to give students the opportunity to read and discuss some of the books which have shaped this civilization.

Discussion groups are usually made up of about 15 persons, with two adult leaders working as a team. Assignments to discussion groups are determined by the student's grade level and any previous experience in elementary school Junior Great Books programs.

Incoming freshmen will be eligible for the High School 214 (ACME

GOP Committeeman Candidates Agree:

First Job Will Be Putting Pieces Together

"AFTER THE ELECTION, it will be important to get together quickly with the other side . . . to work out assimilation with the losing team. I will seek out my opponent if he's the winner . . . it is up to the very top leadership to get together immediately."—Thomas Novotny. (Staff photo)

Purge Opposition? No, Both Promise

by DAN BAUMANN
Staff Writer

Putting the pieces of the Wheeling Township Republican Party back together again is the first job that will face the new GOP committeeman; on that, the two committeeman candidates appear to be in agreement.

A long and sometimes harsh comitteeman race has exposed in the Wheeling Township party cracks that exist in any organization. Each of the candidates, Thomas W. Novotny and Eugene F. Schlickman, has had a sliver of the party working under his skin during the committeeman race.

Both told Paddock Publications Wheeling Township staff members in interviews last week that they hope to match the slivers into mosaic of Republicanism rather than purging them.

Neither candidate feels that the fight is among conservatives and liberals for control of the party; although they acknowledge differences in philosophy among themselves, each points to support from several wings of the party.

IF EITHER SIDE can claim the advantage of being the mosaic from which the other side slivered off, it is the Schlickman camp.

Retiring committeeman Thomas J. Houser announced at the formal opening of the campaign that he was supporting Schlickman and would use his influence to get Schlickman elected. The Regular Republican Organization — the township's precinct captains — subsequently endorsed Schlickman overwhelmingly.

Houser said he expected opposition to Schlickman to come from "dissidents" in the party. That appeared to be the character of the Novotny effort early in the campaign. However, Novotny has built his support into what appears to be a serious challenge, and no one is talking in terms of Schlickman facing only a handful of dissidents.

CAUSES OF THE split appear to be steeped in personalities; however, only a part of the developing rift is on the record. Novotny supported a close friend, Thomas Hanlon, over Schlickman in the state representative race two years ago. Since then, relations of both Hanlon and Novotny with committeeman Houser seem to have gone downhill at a steady pace.

Houser fired Hanlon from his precinct captain job last fall, citing nonperformance of duties. He later fired Novotny from his post as captain-at-large.

His charges against Novotny indicate the degree of mistrust which existed. He said, for example, it was Novotny who "leaked" to the Herald an exclusive story about the Hanlon firing — a charge the Herald said was untrue.

He also charged that the Republican Workshop was a paper organization being used by Novotny as its president for his own personal political gain. And he charged that Novotny has failed to raise funds for the party as area chairman.

TO THOSE charges, Novotny replies that the workshop, like other organizations, went into a "slump" after the defeat of Barry Goldwater, and that he had indeed refused to participate in fund drives as a result of disagreements with Houser which led to Novotny's resigning as an area chairman a year ago.

IT IS HARD to weave these strands into the current committeeman election, but two results of the Novotny firing seem to have a direct bearing. By firing Novotny rather than tolerating their differences, Houser probably boosted Novotny's chances in the current campaign. He placed him clearly in the "out" group and by using a somewhat faulty bill of particulars created some sympathy for him.

At the same time, much of Novotny's campaign fire has been directed at the retiring committeeman rather than at the actual opponent. That takes much of the sting out of his campaign.

But Novotny has charged that a Houser-dominated "clique" has cast Schlickman into the role of committeeman candidate and it is therefore fair play to direct criticism of Houser's performance at his chosen successor.

BOTH MEN cite events during the campaign as below the belt tactics. One of Novotny's supporters early in the campaign distributed reprints of a fair housing advertisement signed by Schlickman. Another attacked his record as a Boy Scout leader.

Schlickman has also been charged with an attempt to "keep the seat warm" for Houser until Houser completes his campaign work for U. S. senator candidate Charles Percy.

Novotny cites an attempt to convict his wife — Arlington Heights Village Clerk Mrs. Jeanne Novotny — of using voter lists to personal advantage. (Mrs. Novotny took new voter registration cards home to work on them, and the county clerk's office told her to return them to the municipal building.) Novotny also complained that his poster was removed from township GOP headquarters.

Novotny acknowledged that some things done in his behalf have been embarrassing to him, and he said distribution of the fair housing ad came before he had an effective organization and his workers had instruction. He points out three of his top campaign workers signed the same ad Schlickman did.

And he expressed disbelief at the rumor that Schlickman would "keep the seat warm" for Houser:

"I've never said that. I don't think he would do that any more than I would."

(Noting he had "put my state representative seat in jeopardy" by taking on the committeeman campaign, Schlickman also denied he would resign it in favor of Houser.)

NOVOTNY SAID getting the party leadership together after the June 14 primary — when the committeeman is elected — will be the first problem he would face as committeeman. He indicated the leaders, as professional politicians, should not present a major problem. He has suggested a "get well" dinner shortly after the election.

He expects the rift among lower level party workers to take longer to heal, and he pledged he would not fire precinct captains who have worked for Schlickman.

Referring to the Novotny criticisms, Schlickman said he knows "nothing" about the rumors about misuse of voter registration cards. And he said Novotny's poster was removed from GOP headquarters because the headquarters is for use of the regular organization.

His first job as committeeman, Schlickman said, will be to "take steps to insure maximum solidarity" and he expects little difficulty.

"MY FIRST JOB will be to take steps to insure maximum solidarity . . . I have run . . . a campaign for committeeman which has been geared not to June 14 but to Nov. 8 . . . the general election."—Eugene Schlickman. (Staff photo)

"I HAVE RUN, since the beginning, a campaign for committeeman which has been geared not to June 14 but to Nov. 8 . . . the general election. My program has been a positive one; no release, no statement by me or any of my supporters has been negative or derogatory. I've offended nobody, so I don't think I'll have trouble forming a united front."

Precinct captains who have worked for Novotny, Schlickman pledged, "will be active after June 14. They are not going to be fired."

In addition to the 11 captains within the regular organization who have worked for him, Novotny has appointed precinct workers in most precincts for purposes of his campaign. He said where there is an existing pro-Schlickman captain, he may name co-captains.

In precincts where the captain is working for Novotny, Schlickman said he is likely to create co-captains to incorporate his precinct leader. (ACM

Novotny Cites Organization

Experience in party organization, campaign management, public relations and fund raising were cited as his main selling points by Wheeling Township committeeman candidate Thomas W. Novotny in an interview with Paddock Publications newsmen last week.

He cited the question of "one-man, one-job" as his main issue in the campaign against State Rep. Eugene Schlickman for the township party post.

To substantiate his organizational ability, Novotny cited his precinct work in Chicago before he moved here 11 years ago, and his subsequent work as precinct captain, area chairman and president of several township Republican clubs.

NOVOTNY NOTED he served in four recent campaigns, as township chairman for Cong. Donald Rumsfeld in 1962 and deputy chairman in 1964, as captain and area chairman for Committeeman Thomas Houser in 1962, as chairman of a committee that circulated petitions for Charles Percy in 1964 and as a township coordinator between the Citizens for Goldwater-Miller and the regular organization in 1964.

Fund raising activities cited by Novotny were as a company representative in the 1963 United Republican Fund, the township organization's "buck-a-voter" drive that won national attention and which Novotny said he was instrumental in developing, and charitable fund drives. Novotny cited press and public relations activities on behalf of Rumsfeld, the Regular Republican Club and the 1965 township slate.

Novotny has heavily stressed the organizational responsibilities of the committeeman in his campaign. On another aspect of the job—slating candidates for public office—Novotny called himself a "pragmatic conservative. He said he leans toward conservative candidates, "but I do not feel the cause of conservatism is served by a lost cause effort."

"I HAVE MORE conservatives in my organization. He (Schlickman) has more liberals. But many of my supporters have joined me because they were dissatisfied with the (organization's) method of selecting a candidate for committeeman or because they were unhappy with the Houser situation and didn't want it continued. This is not a conservative-liberal fight." (ACM

Schlickman: Leadership

Leadership qualities, a "positive program" and more time available to work in the township were cited by Eugene F. Schlickman as his main selling points in the campaign for GOP committeeman of Wheeling Township.

"The success of the committeeman depends on leadership. I've worked in the Republican organization for 10 years with two committeemen and all kinds of precinct captains." Besides his party work, Schlickman cited his experience as a village trustee and state legislator.

CITING HIS program, he said it is aimed at the Nov. 8 general elections and "my campaign has not given any comfort to the Democrats." Schlickman said his program will include development of a "Hi Neighbor" program to personally welcome new residents to the township, continuation of his citizens advisory committee and other programs.

Schlickman pointed to a campaign release from Novotny's campaign chairman which called the Schlickman program "bankrupt." He said it was "an offending thing to say," and "an example of the kind of campaign that is being run against me." He said his wife had helped originate the "Hi Neighbor" idea through the GOP women's club and the fact that it was not carried through did not make it a bankrupt idea.

Schlickman said a rumor that he would resign after the election to turn the job back to retiring committeeman Thomas Houser was "a malicious rumor which indicates the type of campaign being conducted by my opposition." Much of his opposition, he asserted, "is of an anti-Houser nature."

The Arlington Heights attorney said he spends more time in the township than Novotny, whose business is in the Loop—an assertion Novotny denies.

And Schlickman said he feels the jobs of committeeman and state representative are complementary, that holding one will allow him to do a better job in the other.

SCHLICKMAN characterized himself as a "moderate" but said his organization has a "balance" of conservatives, moderates and liberals. He charged Novotny supporters have attempted to identify their candidate with Cong. Rumsfeld and added Rumsfeld has not become involved in the committeeman race.

"We are offering the Republican voters of this township a program and the leadership needed to bring about citizen participation in the party. I see excellent features in our program. I haven't seen a similar, positive program on my opponent's part." (ACM

District 214 Backs Teaching Center

High School District 214 has voted its support of an Elk Grove elementary District 59 proposed cooperative area teacher training center.

The center would be financed by a federal grant under Title III of P.L. 89-10, the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

Application for the Title III project, for which District 59 had previously received a planning grant, went in Wednesday.

HIGH SCHOOL District 214's board unanimously approved a resolution endorsing the project after Dr. Edward Gilbert, assistant superintendent, told them it could provide the district with assistance in in-service training of teachers.

Colleges, Dr. Gilbert said, are also interested in having such a teacher training center started. They would like to draw on it for what he termed "preservice training," for prospective teachers. (ACME

2 Appointed To Service Academies

Two young men from this area were among five from the 13th District who received appointments to U. S. service academies, according to an announcement this week by Rep. Donald Rumsfeld (R-13th).

Robert J. Drabant, 339 W. Old Plum Grove Road, Palatine, a senior at Palatine High School, was appointed to the U. S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo., and Gregory S. Alexander, 509 W. Euclid St., Arlington Heights, received an appointment to the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, N.Y.

CONGRESSMAN Rumsfeld employs a competitive system of nomination to the service academies. Through this process he selects qualified young men from the 13th Congressional District and submits their names to the academies for available appointments. Final screening and principal selections are made by the academies.

Selection of all academy nominees is made on the basis of Civil Service tests, physical examination, and factors relating to high school work.

Rumsfeld is now accepting applications for classes entering academies in 1967. Write: Room 241, Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Town Board Endorses Dave Regner

William Rohlwing, Elk Gove Township supervisor, has announced the town board's unanimous endorsement of the candidacy of David J. Regner in his bid for nomination for a seat in the Illinois Legislature from the third house district.

Regner has been a member of the town board of auditors since his appointment to fill a vacancy in January of 1965, and subsequent election to a 4 year term of office in April of that year.

Rohlwing, spokesman for the group, consisting of himself, George R. Busse, town clerk; Arnold Scharringhausen, collector; Charles Hodlmair, assessor; Ronald Bradley, highway commissioner, and auditors Carl Hammerl and Joseph Anzelmo, described Regner as "thoroughly demonstrating his understanding of governmental affairs and sincerely aware of the responsibilities of public office". He added, "We wish Dave every success in his campaign, and will be sorry to see him leave the board."

Regner will resign his post as auditor if elected to the Legislature.

MONEY FOR YOUR CHILDREN — HOW TO HAVE FUN OUT OF IT

Retired parents accept in principle the advice often given here that everybody past age 65 should spend their money on themselves and not leave it to heirs.

They aren't about to follow the advice. But they think it's a nice idea.

Mr. Arthur R. Starnes, who has lived in California since his retirement two years ago, has just given $5,000 to a six-year-old grandson who bears his name. But not in cash. He put the $5,000 in one of the bluest of the Blue Chip stocks on the New York Stock Exchange, and put the stock in the grandson's name with himself as guardian. He has specified in a letter to the grandson and the grandson's parents that dividends from the stock are to be cashed and placed in a savings account in the child's name . . . for his college education. He has also specified that the grandson under no condition can cash in the stock until he is 21, which is 15 years. In that time, Grandpa figures, the stock may grow into a small fortune. And in the meantime, he is mailing his grandson once a week the stock market tables from the newspaper, with his stock circled in red, and is mailing all reports and news stories of the corporation. He's going to educate his namesake to be wealthy.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ramsey, a Pennsylvania couple who settled in a Gulf Coast apartment when they retired, started their giving before they moved. They wrote their four children, all married, and invited them to come home on a specified date for "A Family Treasure Auction Party." They isolated the few practical things from the household they wanted to move, then put everything else they had, from chinaware to a brass bed, on sale at the "Auction." They gave each child a handful of play money totalling $1,000, then over three days let them bid on things — to the extent of their play money — until they were broke. Everything went. Then Mrs. Ramsey, getting sentimental like a mother, made Mr. Ramsey agree to pay freight charges to ship the treasures to the children's homes.

A fellow named William Shoemaker, now 68 and retired, is setting out to have a ball with $2,000 of his money, and in the process revolutionize the candy business. He is trying to find a candy company, with stock to sell, that will pay dividends in candy bars instead of cash. He has eight grandchildren, all under 10-years-old. "What do kids know about a dividend check?" he asks. "It's just a piece of paper. But candy bars — that's a capitalistic system they can understand.

"And just think how they'll advertise the company as they spread those candy bars around the neighborhood every three months."

Mr. Shoemaker wants to buy $250 worth of stock for each grandchild. He thinks that will give them about 50 candy bars each per quarter. And frequent trips to the dentist.

Operator Became Mayor

by PAT HENSEL
Staff Writer

On Aug. 23, 1897, the Village of Arlington Heights granted a telephone franchise to the Chicago Telephone Co.

This marked the beginning of telephone development of northwest Cook County.

First, there were toll station sites, then small magneto exchanges, and finally, today, super-modernistic telephone service.

The R. C. Nehl drug store at 107 E. Davis, Arlington Heights, was the site of the Chicago Telephone Co.'s first toll station in the northwest suburbs.

On Christmas Eve of 1897, it was replaced by a 50-line Central Union magneto switchboard equipped for 10 lines at the same location. It was the first northwest suburban telephone exchange, and by the end of the year, there were three subscribers.

THE MAN who served as mayor of Arlington Heights from 1929 to 1941 was the village's first telephone operator—Julius D. Flentie. He was employed by the drug store to take care of the switchboard and run errands.

The exchange grew by leaps and bounds within a few months to serve a total of six customers.

They were druggist Nehl, a milk can factory, Klehm's Nurseries, Harris Foundry, E. P. Mueller and Dr. Best.

In June of 1898, the Chicago telephone directory carried the following listing under "Toll Station": Arlington Heights, Ill. —R. C. Nehls—25 cents.

WHEN THE burgeoning business leaped to nine customers, near the end of 1898, a new Chicago-Arlington Heights toll line was put up. The same year, party line equipment was added to the switchboard.

On Sept. 7, 1900, the switchboard was moved next door, to the jewelry store of J. W. Burkitt, where various members of his family and staff handled calls during the day.

On of them slept in an upper room to provide emergency night service.

At this time, Arlington Heights was a small village community of German-born farmers.

BY THE END of 1900, stations in service totaled 15 — two on metallic one-party lines, one on a grounded one-party line and 12 on grounded party lines.

On April 11, 1901, Mount Prospect won a toll station. It was installed in a store owned by William Busse. There is no information on Busse's address.

Busse's store became very popular with its public pay station, and he was running himself ragged calling neighbors to the phone.

He prevailed upon the Chicago Telephone Co. to install an eight-party line in Mount Prospect, which was connected to the Arlington Heights switchboard.

In June of 1901, the Chicago Telephone Directory carried the following listing: Mount Prospect, Ill. — 20 cents.

TELEPHONE customers cranked their phones to ring the switchboard. Sometimes getting a response from the operator took a good deal of cranking.

But, despite the drawbacks, there were 276 persons in the northwest suburbs who had telephones by 1907. In 1929, a telephones by 1907.

In 1908, the phone company moved into the Best Building, at 12 W. Campbell. Finally, in 1929, a new telephone office was built at 11 N. State Road, Arlington Heights. Cost of moving was $280.

And, finally, there were no more crank-type phones.

In 1945, fewer than 5,000 phones served Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Rolling Meadows, Palatine, Elk Grove Village and communities in between.

The year 1952 marked the construction of a new Illinois Bell telephone exchange at 106 W. Eastman in Arlington Heights. Telephone users began to dial their calls.

BY 1962, all calls could be dialed direct, without going through an operator. Then the new Touch-Tone telephone came into being.

This year marks another move forward, with better directories and an eye to still more innovations in the business of putting people in communication with one another.

It's a far cry from the old days, and it took almost 70 years of doing. (A15

SHORTLY AFTER the turn of the century, the Arlington Heights telephone office was a burgeoning business. After a good deal of cranking, the operator would respond to put through a call. Chances are "Jake down by the river" asked for "Slim at the general store." By 1907, there were 276 telephones in the northwest suburbs, with all calls going through the office above.

Format Urges 'Look It Up'

'Information' Costs Company Six Cents

It costs the telephone company six cents each time a customer calls Information.

Considering total cost of printing and distributing a telephone directory, it costs the telephone company about seven-tenths of a cent if a customer looks up the number he wants.

Telephone books are being made handier and brighter all the time. Illinois Bell believes it makes economic sense for everyone to get into the habit of looking up numbers.

The Arlington Heights-Palatine-Mount Prospect directory, which is being delivered now, has the standard cover made for most of the suburban area telephone books.

On it, a lot of people, young and old, are enjoying themselves out-of-doors.

WHEELING rated a special cover commemorating Wheeling High School's prize-winning band.

Along with the new directories will go promotional reading, urging customers to use their phone books instead of calling Information.

The telephone company hopes the three-in-one format of local white pages, local yellow pages and regional white pages will inspire callers to "look it up."

Emergency numbers have a special place in the directories, and desk-sized personal directories are being offered to all customers. (A15

Enthusiasm For Organ Sweeps Land

Enthusiasm for the mighty theatre organs of the 20's and 30's is sweeping the country. A new compact home organ from Baldwin Piano & Organ Co. now available at Ray Baumann Music, 24 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, reflects this theatrical heritage in both styling and voicing.

"The new Baldwin CT 2," explained Baumann, "is completely up to date with its transistorized circuitry and convenient size for the modern home, but there's a touch of nostalgia in its theatrical voicing and horseshoe console."

Inspired by the big romantic sound of the old-time theatre organ, the Baldwin CT 2 has 23 independent voices including a full selection of Theatrical Tibias and a genuine Kinura voice. In addition, a standard five-stop percussion ensemble includes chimes, orchestra bell, string, organ harp and vibra harp. Also standard are five rhythm stops for Xylophone, bass drum, and solo, accompaniment and pedal brushes.

THE BALDWIN CT 2 has a 49-note solo manual, a 48-note accompaniment manual and 13-note pedalboard. Standard tonal controls include two-speed theatrical tremolo, light and full vibrato with vibrato cut-off switch, piston pre-sets, a coupler, over-all tone control, individual volume controls for manuals and pedals, pedal and percussion sustain and two-channel Panoramic Tone.

Completely transistorized and self-contained, the Baldwin CT 2 has a three-channel amplification system. This new Baldwin home organ, now on display at Ray Baumann Music is available in walnut or antique white finish. (O

STRATEGY TIME—Bill Davies, right, a candidate for the Republican nomination to the Illinois senate from the 3rd district in the June 14, primary, and Joseph McHugh, left, of Northbrook, examine some electioneering materials during a recent strategy session. McHugh is chairman of the Attorneys for Davies Committee. He is a precinct captain in Northbrook and vice president of the Northbrook Jaycees.

John Woods Endorses Moore for Legislature

William J. Moore, a Republican candidate for State Representative from the Third District, this week announced the endorsement of his candidacy by John G. Woods, president of the Village of Arlington Heights.

Moore told the group that Woods' public support was a "significant addition to our campaign team, and is representative of the growing affirmative response from Republican leaders in all areas that my candidacy in this race is attracting."

Woods, twice selected by the Arlington Heights Village Caucus to head its local slate in village elections, and twice elected president, had Moore as a running mate in the 1961 campaign.

FOLLOWING THE successful race, Moore served as village trustee for four years during Woods' first administration.

In announcing his support for Moore, Woods stated, "I have earlier indicated my complete support of Eugene Schlickman, both in his battle for re-election to the State Legislature, and in his campaign for Republican Committeeman.

"On June 14, we will also nominate a second Republican State Representative Candidate. In my judgment, Bill Moore is well qualified to run with Gene Schlickman and to serve the citizens of the Third District as one of their representatives.

"During his four years on the Arlington Heights Board of Trustees, Bill Moore demonstrated qualities of leadership, ability and integrity. He served as Chairman of the Legal Committee much of the time that the Comprehensive Village Code was being drafted.

"His participation in bar association activities and his varied law practice give him an understanding of the legislative processes. By background and experience, William J. Moore is well qualified to serve the Third District as one of its Representatives in the Illinois State Legislature."

Moore also took the occasion of this meeting to again challenge his opponents in the race to let the voters know where they stand on the major issues of the campaign.

Citing his own published platform, Moore said, "The voters have a right to know if their candidates are thinking about the problems which are to be faced in this district, and the candidates have a responsibility to the voters to tell them.

"Thus far, none of the other four candidates has indicated any desire to meet this responsibility. No platform but mine has been published. No public statements of position but mine have been delivered.

"I HAVE indicated my support for greater Home Rule in the municipalities. I have stated my belief that we need state planning and involvement in the areas of flood control, preservation of open spaces amidst this exploding population influx, and in securing alternate water supply sources.

"I have promised to support efforts to increase safety on our highways through annual vehicle checks and periodic driver qualification reviews, to support efforts to secure additional entrance and egress from the toll road, and to support legislation designed to protect homeowners from exhorbitant charges by private water utilities.

"I have declared my opposition to a state income tax and to punitive open occupancy legislation."

In closing, Moore told the group that time was drawing very short for candidates to stand and be counted, and that a failure to do so had to be interpreted as a desire by his opponents to keep the voters uninformed — a tactic which he described as "totally opportunistic and not in the best interest of good government in Springfield." Carstens New Chief Of 'Y' Federation

Big Waters Indian Federation of Northwest Suburban YMCA recently elected new members to its adult council. The federation is composed of fathers and sons in Indian Guide groups throughout the northwest suburban area.

The new federation chief, Bob Carstens of Arlington Heights, was installed by the former chief, Bob Werner, also of Arlington Heights.

NEW MEMBERS of the council are Frank Friday, Mount Prospect, serving as medicine man; Brodie Herndon, Arlington Heights, who is tally keeper; Ken Sahs, Mount Prospect, wampum bearer; and Fred Vollhardt, Mount Prospect, tom-tom beater.

"During the past year a full-blooded redskin could not have done a better job to guide the federation to its present strength," commented Carstens. "Extensive recruiting resulted in the necessity to expand into three Nations named after the three lakes, Michigan, Huron and Erie."

EACH OF THESE Nations is made up of 20 individual tribes, and more are being formed as fathers of 6- to 9-year-old boys recognize the value of getting out together in games, campouts and other lad-dad activities.

Northwest Suburban YMCA now has one of the largest 'Y' Indian Guide Nations in the country, with a membership approaching the 1100 mark.

John Woods Backs Atcher for Senate

John G. Woods, village president of Arlington Heights, Wednesday announced his endorsement of Bob Atcher for the state senator nomination in the June 14 Republican primary.

Woods, who is also president of the Northwest Municipal Conference, said his endorsement of Atcher came "because I am convinced Bob will do the best job in representing our district, especially in light of its expansion."

The third district, when incumbent Sen. John Graham was elected to represent it, consisted of four townships but has been redistricted to eight. Arlington Heights is now the most populous village in the district.

"BOB ATCHER has impressed me as a man of ability, integrity, and judgement," said Woods. "I feel sure he will effectively represent us in Springfield. Bob's experience with the problems of municipalities will be a valuable asset on matters relating to our rapidly growing area. I urge all Republicans of the third district to join me in voting for him June 14."

Atcher, village president of Schaumburg, is opposed by Sen. Graham and attorney William Davies of Streamwood on the GOP ballot. (B10

Teachers Advised: Education Is News

Education is news.

That was the basic theme of a publicity clinic held last week for members of the Northwest Suburban Division of the Illinois Education Association.

"When teachers and administrators confront the challenges of teaching, they should be just as eager to have the public understand the difficulties associated with them as they seem always to be when they've conquered them," said John Reddy, reporter for the Chicago Sun-Times.

REDDY WAS ONE of several journalists addressing the dinner meeting held Thursday night at Old Orchard Country Club, Mount Prospect. Other speakers were Charles E. Hayes, executive editor; Nancy Anderson, associate editor; and Tom Grieger, assistant photo editor, all of Paddock Publications.

"Teachers can do a lot for their community, their school and their profession in addition to just instructing," advised Reddy. They can be sentinels for good news about young people, schools, parents.

"Parents and people who aren't — are interested in school and education. If they aren't, they should be. And that's our business, your's and mine."

MISS ANDERSON stressed that teachers and journalists share the responsibility of keeping the public informed. "Both are in the education business."

She said school representatives have a responsibility to alert the press to significant school activities before they take place.

The essentials of good news photography were outlined by Grieger in an illustrated lecture. He said few schools take advantage of the great interest potential in student activity.

Serving as moderator for the discussion, Hayes emphasized that good school public relations meant more than "mere propaganda." He urged educators to be "open, thorough, and factual" in answering questions from the press, even if the news event had "negative aspects."

The dinner was attended by staff members of Paddock Publications 17 newspapers, Arlington Day, Prospect Day, Pioneer Newspapers, the Hanover Adviser, and representatives of all school districts in northwest Cook County. B-10

Candidate Pushes A Shopping Cart

"I think taxpayers should choose their state representatives as carefully as they shop for groceries," says candidate William L. Means. "That's why I'm pushing a shopping cart into every area of this district."

Means, who boasts no regular organization support, and claims to have spent less than $50 on his campaign, has taken to meeting people wherever he can.

LATELY he has been especially active around various shopping centers and at railroad stations. "I feel that it's more helpful to meet the people face-to-face," he says, "Rather than just my own supporters. Besides—somebody has got to remind the voters that they can select two state representative candidates. It's a shame not to play an active role in the selection of both candidates."

Means hopes to campaign in Arlington Heights today; Mount Prospect on Friday, and Palatine areas on Saturday.

On Monday, he'll stop off in Des Plaines. Tuesday will find him in Northbrook, and Wednesday, Wheeling. "It's a lot of ground to cover," he reports. "But I find interested people and support for my campaign wherever I go."

Hesse Gets Backing Of Barrington GOP

The Republican organization of Barrington Township has endorsed Robert L. Hesse for State Representative from the third district.

The third district includes Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, Hanover, Schaumburg and Barrington townships and parts of Northfield and Maine townships.

In response to the endorsement, Hesse said, "I am honored by this expression of support from one of the strongest Republican townships in Cook County."

Hesse said, "Barrington is the last township in the district to make endorsements. It has had time to look over the field of candidates, and its decision to back me for State Representative is most encouraging for victory on June 14."

HESSE PREVIOUSLY received endorsements from the Regular Republican organizations of Palatine, Hanover and Schaumburg townships.

Last week the Better Government Association also announced that it was recommending Hesse for Republican nomination in the June 14 primary.

Hesse is a lawyer and member of the faculty of John Marshall Law School. He is a former village trustee of Palatine.

A "Young Citizens for Hesse" organization has been formed in several townships of the third district.

During the past two weeks teen-age groups have formed in Arlington Heights, Palatine and Elk Grove Village.

In charge of organizing the Young Citizens for Hesse is Mrs. Randall Tobutt, 1438 Gloria Drive, Palatine.

The youth groups will take on two assignments for the June 14 election. They will distribute Hesse campaign literature in shopping centers and old-peoples homes.

THEY WILL also distribute literature in areas of Elk Grove Township where the Republican organization does not man the precincts.

In speaking to the youth groups Hesse said, "The best hope for the future of the Republican Party is found in new voters. For too long we have overlooked our best asset — dynamic, concerned young citizens."

Hesse told an Arlington Heights group of teen-agers, "Our party needs you and I welcome your support."

THE 1919 OWEN MAGNETIC

Those who are distinguished for their Owen Magnetic Motor Cars are strict individualists, though not bizarre.

Their town and country houses, their gardens, all their possessions are far from the commonplace.

And so when it comes to a car, they insist on getting away from the monotonous. Up and down the Avenue, or at the Opera, or at the Country Club — wherever the world of fashion congregates — certain cars distinguish the vivid personalities from the drab.

Each Owen Magnetic expresses this idea of obtrusive elegance. Exterior and interior colors and upholstering are decided upon by the owner.

All the appointments show careful selections — such as the silver hardware, the lighting fixtures, the carpeting. The most casual observer knows instantly that the owner is a person of faultless taste.

Just as the Owen banishes the commonplace in appearance, so does it eliminate the mechanical crudities of yesteryear. At the touch of finger-tip this great car is in complete control — giant power leaps across an air space from engine to wheels. No gear shifting — no clanking noises — no jerks nor lunges — just a quiet, floating sensation, entirely different!

Attractive brochure, adequately describing the Owen Magnetic, will be mailed upon request.

Pollard Motors Begins Expansion

IN HIS OFFICE at 300 W. Lake St., Elmhurst, Marvin Pollard, president of Pollard Motors, discusses the expansion program which will give the dealership 6,500 square feet of facilities for serving Volvo and International Harvester customers in the Chicago area.

One of Elmhurst's oldest automobile dealerships, Pollard Motors, 300 W. Lake St., is in the process of an expansion program which will add approximately 6,500 square feet to the present facilities. Jaskowiak & Petrauskas, architects, designed the addition. J. A. Brettsnyder is general contractor.

A member of the Elmhurst business community since 1936, Pollard Motors has been in its present location since 1954. International Harvester dealers for 20 years, the firm acquired the Volvo franchise in 1958 and is one of the first agencies in the Chicago area to represent the Swedish automobile company.

ACCORDING to Marvin Pollard, president, the expansion program will provide Pollard Motors with a new indoor showroom and a new and enlarged parts department. The size of the service department will be doubled to accommodate the increasing number of Volvo owners. A machine shop will also be added.

When construction is completed, Pollard expects to introduce evening service hours for his Volvo customers. The garage presently services International Harvester trucks until 9:30 p.m. each week night. (UC

New Legislators' Seminar Planned

The Illinois Legislative Council, the fact-finding agency of the state legislature, last week approved a seminar for newly-elected legislators. It will be held Dec. 1-2, 1966, at Monticello.

The seminar was originated and developed by a sub-committee of the Council, consisting of State Representative John H. Conolly (R.-Gurnee), State Senator Paul Simon (D.-Troy) and State Representative Eugene F. Schlickman (R.-Arlington Heights).

THE TWO-DAY program will feature presentations and discussions on the legislative process in general, rules and procedures, state financing, education and mental health. The Governor and other state leaders are expected to attend.

"This new legislators' seminar," said Schlickman, "is designed to assist freshmen with acquring a 'feel' for their job earlier so that they can better cope with the myriad of bills and subjects that descend upon the legislature."

Schlickman Reveals Legislative Plans

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R. Arlington Heights), a candidate for re-election in the 3rd Representative District, revealed this week some of the subjects upon which he intends to introduce legislation in the next session of the state legislature.

In 1965, his first session, Schlickman was rated an outstanding freshman legislator. His first four bills passed both houses of the legislature.

Currently, Schlickman has under study the role of the referendum in the authorization of general obligation bonds and tax increases.

"During the last session," he stated, "I noted a trend in taking away from the taxpayers their control over tax levies by local governments." Schlickman's opposition to such steps was praised by the Illinois Taxpayers' Federation, a non-partisan organization.

Schlickman and State Sen. Gordon Kerr (R.-Brookport) are co-sponsors of a study covering state recreational facilities and methods used in other states to develop and improve them.

A BILL TO curb the awarding of contracts for professional services by state officials without being required to report them is certain to be introduced by Schlickman.

"Many other states require central filing for public inspection or the approval of a board or agency," commented Schlickman. "It's scandalous for Illinois to allow state officials to award huge contracts to political supporters and to go undetected."

The problem of overlapping library districts will be the subject of another Schlickman bill. In 1965, he was successful in the enactment of law which eliminated dual taxation resulting from the overlapping of rural fire districts.

"We find that there is no disconnection procedure available to the residents of a territory overlapped by two separate library districts, Schlickman explained.

"In cooperation with the Illinois State Librarian, I am preparing corrective legislation."

DURING THE remaining weeks of the current campaign, Schlickman intends to disclose more proposed legislation he has under consideration, and he welcomes suggestions for any others.

"I believe an incumbent legislator must run on his record, as I have done," Schlickman stated. "I also believe the voters should know what his plans and thoughts for further legislation are. In the above subjects, I have partially set forth a detailed program, supported by a record of success, that is unmatched by any legislative candidate in the 3rd District. (B10

Day Camps Slated for Handicapped

Three day camps for mentally handicapped children will begin operation in this area during the month of June.

Earliest opening date for such a program is June 13, when the Countryside Association for Retarded Children will begin the first of two four-week sessions at its Countryside Farm School, Shirley Road, Palatine, for children aged 3 and up.

THE COMMUNITY Day Camp, co-sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park District and Clearbrook School for Retarded Children, will meet at Recreation Park, 500 E. Miner, Arlington Heights, beginning June 27; and on that same date the DuPage County Summer Day Camp, sponsored by the Community Welfare Assn. for Retarded Children, will begin sessions in Salt Creek Park, Elmhurst.

A complete listing of suburban day camps and residential camping facilities for mentally handicapped children is available to parents by writing the Illinois Association for Mentally Retarded, 343 S. Dearborn St., Chicago. The directory lists camping dates, age and residence requirements, tuition and application information. It also notes where scholarships are available. (A15

Put It in Writing

Death may not be certified as a suicide in some states unless the victim leaves a note declaring his intent.

Vital Legislation Listed by Davies

State Senatorial candidate William T. Davies, spoke to a group of Arlington Heights residents Sunday and emphasized the areas where he feels legislation is desperately needed in the State of Illinois.

1. Credit Abuses —long overdue legislation needed to curb the expanding credit abuse situation in the State of Illinois. A strong truth in lending bill plus stronger deceptive practices laws are desperately needed.

2. Insurance companies — two areas of legislation dealing with insurance companies are needed in Illinois, one to put stronger controls on the operation of insurance companies in Illinois, and the other to do away with the inadequate financial responsibility law and make liability insurance compulsory for all Illinois drivers, with adequate safeguards to protect the safe driver from high rates.

3. Home rule — not only a concern of Chicago but of all Illinois Municipalities. Broader powers should be given to the individual communities to govern themselves and conduct their business in a better fashion.

4. Illinois Commerce Commission — continued abuse by the Illinois Commerce Commission for the rights of the citizens of Illinois necessitates a thorough investigation of operating methods and procedures of this commission. Long delays and extremely high costs involved in Petitions to the Illinois Commerce Commission are without foundation.

5. Legislative Code of Ethics— A strong legislative code of ethics is needed and should be enacted.

Davies indicated that there are many areas of importance, and that he would seek action on all of the points mentioned in his talk. (B10

Scholarship Help Pledged by Davies

State Senatorial Candidate William T. Davies, announced this week that if elected State Senator of the Third District he would donate one-third of his annual legisiative salary, or $3,000 a year, for scholarships to be given to students from the Third District for the study of Political Science or Government, at one of our State Universities.

Davies indicated there is a great need to interest young people today in the study of our government and of our political way of life.

"As I go along the campaign trail, I am amazed by the vitality shown by the younger residents of our district in politics, and I want to further encourage these young people by making available these scholarships," Davies stated.

DAVIES SAID he feels a representative should become actively involved with the problems and concerns of his district, and return to the District something of himself.

"What greater gift could a representative give to the people of his district than helping to further the education of the younger people in his District."

Davies indicated that the scholarships would be given without regard for race, creed, color, or political affiliation of the parents. A board of prominent persons would be set up to choose the recipient each year with need and desire being the most important criteria in determining the winners.

Davies feels that a total of $12,000, over his four year term of office would provide for approximately twenty five tuition scholarships in the State Universities. (B10

Do's and Don'ts Of Using Color

Color is magic. It is the chief factor in achieving a beautiful decor. Whether your home is extravagantly or modestly furnished, you can have beautiful interiors by using colors wisely.

Quality paint is the easiest and most economical means of using color. Ten dollars is the approximate cost of repainting an entire room. Before choosing your paint colors, consider these important "do's" and "don'ts" which will help you take full advantage of the power of color in your home.

DO USE DEEP colors in a large, barn-like room to create a friendlier, more intimate atmosphere.

DON'T use colors in equal proportions in any one room.

DO use light colors in a small room. Light colors create an impression of greater size.

DON'T use too many cool colors in a room with northern exposure. Cool colors will make the room seem even cooler.

DO emphasize the warm reds and yellows in rooms that face northeast or that are windowless.

DON'T USE very bright colors on large areas because this will detract from your furnishings.

DO mix both warm and cool colors in each room.

DO mix both light and dark colors in each room.

DON'T paint the woodwork and trim a different color from the walls in a small or average size room. This will make the room seem smaller and more cluttered.

DO keep in mind that colors are relative and must be seen together.

DON'T USE GLOSSY paints on ceilings or on walls except in kitchens and bathrooms where washability is a necessary factor. Flat paints are your better choice because they distribute light evenly without glare.

DO make your ceiling colorful and attractive. If the ceiling is very high, paint it a deeper color than the walls to make it seem lower. Paint low ceilings a pale tint or your wall color.

DON'T use too much red, orange or yellow in rooms with southern exposure or they will seem warmer. Cool blues and greens are ideal for such rooms.

DO REMEMBER when selecting colors from paint chips, that color looks darker on a large area than on a small area.

DON'T choose neutral colors simply because they are "safe." You want colors that will be flattering to you, your room and your furnishings.

DO study colors in both artificial light and daylight. Artificial light tends to change colors.

Car Rental Boom

Car renting and leasing now accounts for about 4% of the auto market, or over 300,000 vehicles yearly.

Does Your House Pass Trash Test

Have you inspected your refuse storage area lately?

If not, it might be a good idea to do so now.

Health officials estimate that more than 10 million households need an old refuse can replaced or an additional container to serve a larger family.

THE AVERAGE family with once-a-week refuse collection service requires three 20-gallon garbage containers, health surveys show. The containers should be made of galvanized steel as a health and safety measure.

Refuse containers made of substitute materials are neither fire-resistant nor rodent-proof.

The presence of a food waste disposer in a house does not eliminate the need for a garbage container. You still need something in which to store bottles, cans, food packages and the various food items that a disposer will not accommodate.

In checking your refuse storage area, be sure to determine if the garbage can covers are still intact and usable. If the covers are missing, the cans have no value from a safety or sanitary standpoint. If the cans are bent out of shape and the covers no longer fit properly, likewise the cans need replacement.

OVERLOADING is the chief cause for the unusable condition of garbage containers. Excessive and consistent overloading of a garbage can does not damage the can in itself, but when the refuse collectors have to strike the can against the truck in order to loosen tightly packed garbage, the can will bend or crack.

In checking your refuse storage area, too, consider good appearance as well as fire safety and proper sanitation. A storage rack to house refuse containers is used by some homeowners while others build small sheds for this purpose. In any event, it only takes a little effort to keep your storage area looking neat and clean and safe for your family. (O

Indoor-Outdoor

Real indoor-outdoor living can be achieved by adding a deck extension to any room of the house. A trellis roof over part or all of the deck will control sunlight and wind. Douglas fir 2x4s laid flat or on edge are tops for the deck. (O

Garden Room

You can make a room in the garden with an arbor, a simple bench, and a privacy screen.(O

Harboard Beams Add Richness

Rugged wood-beamed ceilings — dramatic highpoints of many old houses — are being duplicated in modern homes.

It's done with hardboard panels that simply fold into the shape of a beam. Rich wood-grained finishes give the simulated beams a realistic timber-look.

Installation is easy enough for a do-it-yourself homeowner. Thin wooden strips are attached to the finished plaster or drywall ceiling or over ceiling tile. Then the panels are folded and nailed to the strips. Like all hardboard paneling, the beams are sturdy but lightweight for easy handling.

Simulated wood-beam ceilings are appropriate for contemporary as well as old-world architectural design, and add dramatic impact to any room. (O

3rd District Senate Race Vital to GOP, Says Atcher

THURS., MAY 26, 1966

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS

Auto Section

Outcome of his fight for the Republican nomination as State Senator from Illinois' 3rd District is vital to the GOP, candidate Robert O. Atcher declared this week.

"The contest is more than just a political race," he declared. "Its outcome literally will help determine the very future of the Republican Party in this area.

"Every day we see independents and young, could-be Republicans — even staunch party members — turning away from the GOP when there is an unrealistic approach to modern-day problems.

"What we need are positive Republicans who deal forcefully with the modern-day problems of our district . . "

Atcher's statement, contained in his campaign brochure being distributed throughout the district this week, was amplified in frequent appearances in the townships of Hanover, Barrington, Palatine, Schaumburg, Elk Grove, Wheeling, and parts of Maine and Northfield townships.

"This is more than just a matter of differing campaign issues," he said, "though it's that, too."

SAID THE candidate, challenging incumbent John A. Graham of Barrington for the 3rd District State Senate seat:

"This is a political contest in which the voters are asked to decide between Graham, proud of a record barren but for his constant 'no' votes," and Atcher, who, according to his campaign brochure, "stands proudly as a modern-day positive Republican . . ."

If elected, Atcher said, he will "stop advancing a 'program' whose sole 'plank' is the no vote. (Instead I will) sell the positive elements of Republicanism."

"I'll introduce legislation enabling our school districts to use a reserve 'school building fund' — tax monies now, which our school districts know is forthcoming, for the current educational needs of our children."

Atcher said he'll also "try to solve our growing highway and drainage problems and give increased attention toward attracting industry, where desired," to the district.

Atcher unveiled his campaign slogan, "The Senator You'll See," in his brochure and elaborated on it in personal appearances.

The "weaker sex" is becoming powerful in Atcher's campaign for the Republican nomination.

ATCHER PREVIOUSLY proclaimed the "vital role the fairer sex plays in political races such as ours," and called on women throughout the 3rd District to unite behind his campaign.

"I know wives are supposed to keep quiet and let the men do the talking," wrote Mrs. Atcher, "but my husband says he's convinced the so-called weaker sex can be plenty powerful in a campaign such as ours.

"Besides," she declared, "there's a lot at stake for us — mothers, all — in who gets elected."

Among other things, she said, her husband "can help the 3rd Senatorial District get more business and industry where it wants it."

ATCHER CHARGED his opponent with practicing "part-time, negative Republicanism in the legislature."

"His record is weak and we never see him between elections," Atcher said.

Speaking before a group of Wheeling Twonship Republicans, Atcher said, "Sen. Graham's brand of Republicanism is dangerous for our party and our district — the fastest growing area in the nation."

Atcher pointed to Graham's "sorry record" in the last session of the legislature, in which a total of 3,500 bills were introduced.

"Sen. Graham personally introduced 15, of which only five directly concerned his district," Atcher noted.

"Of course," Atcher conceded, "our senator did lend his name to 93 other bills, but 54 of them were congratulatory messages, memorials, get-well wishes and anniversary declarations."

"To sit back and merely cast votes — without producing the positive measures we need — is to preside at the destruction of the great potential of the district we call home," Atcher said.

ATCHER PLEDGED he would introduce a bill in the Illinois legislature designed to enable the northwest suburbs to solve their flood problems "on their own.'

"Apparently the headlines and radio reports shouting our plight haven't reached the eyes and ears of Senator Graham," Atcher charged. "Why else would he be so strangely silent on this matter?'

"As soon as reports of imminent danger to district homes and residents began streaming in," Atcher said he plunged into a "round of conferences with Republican leaders and village officials in the third district."

He saidhe is "now firmly convinced that we must ask the Illinois general assembly to act on our findings," Atcher told a group of Northfield Township Republicans. "I pledge to do just that in the next biennium," he said. (B10

Cook County YRs Endorse Regner

At a luncheon and business meeting marking the close of their annual convention, the Cook County Young Republican Organization last week endorsed unanimously the candidacy of David J. Regner in his bid for a house seat from the 3rd district.

Regner, who attended the meeting at the Sherman Hotel, has long been associated with Young Republican activity, and is President of the Elk Grove Township group.

Delegations from other 3rd district areas also attended, including Wheeling and Northfield Townships. (B10

Barrington GOP Backs Schlickman

State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R.-Arlington Heights) last week was endorsed by the Barrington Township Republican organization for re-election to the state legislature.

According to Harold B. Smith Jr., Barrington committeeman, the endorsement for Schlickman was unanimous.

Schlickman expressed deep appreciation for the Barrington endorsement. "Barrington Township supports the type of public service and party leadership I demonstrated in the last session of the state legislature."

BARRINGTON joins with five other northwest townships that have endorsed Schlickman in his bid for a second term. Others are Wheeling, where Schlickman is also running for township committeeman, Palatine, Schaumburg, Hanover, and Maine. He is also recommended for re-election by the Better Government Association.

The Republican Party will nominate two candidates for the Illinois House on June 14. Schlickman is the only incumbent among five candidates.

Dr. Prince To Tour Suburbs

Dr. Donald Prince, Democratic candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction in the November general election, will tour Arlington Heights and the northwest suburbs Friday.

Dr. Prince, who is a professor of Education at Illinois State University in Normal, plans to visit schools and newspaper offices during the day. He will be accompanied by State Rep. Eugenia S. Chapman (D-Arlington Heights), who is seeking election to her second term in the General Assembly, and by James Stavros, Wheeling Township Democratic Committeeman.

"IT WILL BE a great honor to introduce Dr. Prince to the northwest suburbs," Mrs. Chapman said Wednesday. "In my opinion, he is the best candidate for the superintendent's office any party has ever put forward. His election in November would help greatly in furthering educational progress in Illinois."

Dr. Prince has a thorough background in his field. He was born and raised in Downstate White county where his mother and father were teachers. He received a bachelor's degree from Murray State College in Kentucky, and a master's and doctorate from the University of Illinois.

During the 1950's he taught and coached at high schools in Crossville and Norris City, served as principal in Knoxville, and put in four years as superintendent of Princeton Township High School in Bureau County. In 1960 he joined the ISU staff, where he is currently on a leave of absence as director of the Center for Educational Administration.

HE HAS SERVED as president, chairman, and director of numerous educational organizations, among them the Governor's Task Force on Education.

Dr. Prince, so far in his campaign against incumbent State Superintendent Ray Page of Springfield, has come out strongly in favor of making the office he is seeking appointive. He also favors the establishment of a state board of education to better guide the state's school system. (B10

Chapman Women In All-Out Effort

An all-female team of volunteers announced plans this week to assist State Rep. Eugenia S. Chapman (D-Arlington Heights) in her bid for re-election to the Illinois General Assembly.

Led by Mrs. Robert Grabitz, 509 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. William Gallagher, 726 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, the Women's Committee for Chapman promised an all-out effort to reseat their "favorite daughter," one of seven members of the current legislature from the distaff side.

"THE FACT THAT Eugenia is a woman doesn't really mean that much to us," the co-chairmen said Tuesday. "However, the fact that she is an excellent legislator, with a broad background in the field of education, does mean a great deal, and makes her re-election very important to us."

Mrs. Chapman is a former teacher and past member of the Board of Education for High School District 214. She was the chief sponsor of the Junior College Act in the 1965 session of the legislature.

Mrs. Robert C. Buckley, 222 N. Derbyshire, Arlington Heights, will serve as coffee chairman for the group. She will be assisted by Mrs. R. B. Yadon, 826 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, Mrs. H. Robert Powell, 110 S. Kennicott, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. James Arnold, 194 Glendale, Buffalo Grove.

COMMUNICATIONS chairman will be Mrs. Randall Thomas, 510 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Waterhouse, 1425 Birch, Mount Prospect.

Mrs. Chapman's headquarters chairman will be Mrs. Thomas Pritchard, 500 S. Dryden, Arlington Heights.

Anyone wishing to schedule a coffee for Mrs. Chapman may do so by calling Mrs. Buckley at 392-1888. Those who would like to join the women's committee should contact Mrs. Grabitz at CL 3-5007, or Mrs. Gallagher at CL 5-6047. (B-10

Sen. Arrington to Speak At Graham's Fund Dinner

Senator W. Russell Arrington (R-Evanston), President Pro Tem of the Illinois State Senate and majority leader, will be the featured speaker at a fund raising dinner to be held Saturday, June 11th.

The dinner is in honor of incumbent Sen. John A. Graham of Barrington who is seeking re-election from the 3rd district in the June 14, Republican primary.

The dinner will be held at Flick Reedy Auditorium, located at York Road near O'Hare Field.

Among the dignitaries attending will be Margueritte Stitt Church, former U.S. Congresswoman; Harold Rainville, Senator Everett Dirksen's chief administrative assistant; Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie, candidate for president of the county board; and most of the Republican candidates for county and state offices running in the primary.

ALSO ATTENDING will be a large delegation of Senator Graham's colleagues in the Illinois State Senate and House of Representatives. They will be coming from all over the state to honor Graham.

Ticket chairmen are Kimball Hill, contractor and developer of the city of Rolling Meadows; Dr. Karl H. Siedentop, M. D., vice chairman of Graham's campaign, will supervise ticket sales in Palatine and Wheeling Townships;

Clark King will be responsible for Northfield Township ticket sales; Fredrick Downey for Schaumburg Township; Mrs. Pat Trandel for Elk Grove Township;

John A. Metzger for Hanover Township; and Ray Klepper, vice-president of the Barrington First National Bank will supervise ticket sales in Barrington Township.

Music will be furnished by the Bud Brinkman Orchestra, with June Gayle as vocalist.

Tickets can be purchased from any of the township chairmen.

GRAHAM HAS announced additional township chairmen to his campaign staff.

Mrs. Carol Van Heltebrake will be chairwoman of women's activities in Wheeling Township. She has been Republican woman leader in the township and is a precinct captain in the Wheeling Township Regular Republican Organization.

Named as general chairman for Graham in Wheeling Township is Allan Peters of Arlington Heights. He is an attorney with his own law practice and a vice-president of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce. He was formerly treasurer of that group.

PETERS IS A former assistant state's attorney for Cook County.

Downey will be Graham's chairman in Schaumburg Township. He lives in Hoffman Estates and is a computer systems analyst for the Honeywell Corp. He is also a member of the board of education in Schaumburg Township.

Graham said this week the people of Illinois deserve and should expect high standards of conduct from all government officials.

Graham's comments were included in remarks made at a series of "Meet Your Senator" coffees held in the new 3rd Senatorial District.

IN OUTLINING the Republican position, Graham said, "All who serve in government have particular responsibilities to guard against the use of a position of public trust for private gain."

"Illinois needs stronger legislation to deal with this protection of the public trust in relation to state employees and officials," he said.

Republicans will continue to press for the establishment of clear directions regarding the conduct of state employees, officers and members of the legislature," he said.

Graham said also that one of the major problems facing state government today is how to keep top-qualified personnel in government service when private industry usually offers so much more in terms of wages and fringe benefits.

"THE ONLY way," Graham said, "we can attract the quality people we need is to work toward legislation that will make state government employment attractive and offer at least some of the benefits individuals can receive in private industry."

He went on to say, "Many of our Republican efforts in the senate last year were designed to help solve this problem. We Republicans believe in a strong civil service system for state employees and positive support to attract and maintain a high quality professional staff to perform the necessary functions of state government." (B10

Peskin Warns of Erosion To Rights of Individual

Bernard M. Peskin, Democratic candidate for re-election as state representative in the new 3rd District this week urged voters to pay close attention to attempts to erode their constitutional right of privacy.

He coupled it with a challenge to re-examine our definitions of "conservative" and "liberal" philosophies.

Speaking at a rally of Elk Grove Township Democrats in Mount Prospect and, earlier, at a meeting of Arlington Heights businessmen, Peskin referred to attempts at the last session of the legislature to pass legislation legalizing wiretapping and to authorize the stopping, questioning and searching of citizens on mere suspicion. The wiretap bill was defeated. The "stop-and-frisk" bill passed both houses and was vetoed by Gov. Kerner.

BOTH BILLS violated the constitutional right to privacy, Peskin charged. "There has been no real evidence that wiretap has helped reduce crime in any state where it is legal. In New York, the majority of the taps were placed on public telephones . . . and opens the door to shakedown and abuse."

The stop-and-frisk bill would have been a complete departure from our long established policy against unlawful search and seizure, said Peskin. The 4-term legislator praised Governor Kerner for his action in vetoing the measure.

Support for both measures came from legislators who claim the "conservative" label, Peskin stated. "But those legislators are really conservatives only where social reform or the dollar is concerned," Peskin charged. "The liberal, who presses for social reform and governmental action where private initiative either will not or cannot act, is the one who invariably fights attempts to intrude on our constitutional rights as guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.

"THE LIBERAL places his emphasis on those rights which are personal to all of us — due process, privacy, equal protection. The conservative philosophy in Springfield has been demonstrated to be . . . no social reform, don't spend the money whatever be the need, protect property rights . . . but he offers little or no concern for the personal rights of the individual."

Peskin, who is chairman of the House Banking Committee, has served four terms in the General Assembly. He has been active in Springfield in the fields of education, mental health, children's services and revenue reform.

Twice honored as a "Best Legislator" by the Independent Voters of Illinois, Peskin was recently awarded the Illinois Welfare Assn.'s "Distinguished Service Award" for his efforts on behalf of the new Juvenile Court Act which he sponsored and helped draft — the first time in over 20 years that the award was given to a legislator.

PESKIN RESIDES with his wife and two children at 821 Timber Lane in Northbrook. He is a director of Door, Inc. and Little City, Inc., and is known statewide for his origination and sponsorship of programs offering assistance to retarded children and their parents. (B10

On-the-Job Training For Student

A Northern Illinois University journalism student will move her classroom into the newsroom of Paddock Publications this summer.

Kathleen Gosnell, junior from DeKalb, will be one of the first 11 participants in the NIU journalism department's new internship program.

Purpose of the program is to provide upperclass students with meaningful professional experience in their field, said Dr. Donald J. Brenner, assistant professor of journalism and program coordinator.

INTERNS WILL work for a minimum of 10 consecutive weeks at a salary equivalent to that of beginning regular staff members.

Employers will submit a comprehensive report form at the end of the work period including a critique of the student's work. The students, when they return to campus in September, will prepare a detailed report of their work experience for class discussion.

"We feel that participating employers will recognize the program as a great help in building the interest that keeps top students in journalism" Brenner commented. "And they have obvious opportunities to do some direct recruiting for their own staffs."

He added that the program will be expanded next summer when 25 students are expected to participate.

Miss Gosnell, who was recently named editor of the Northern Star, NIU student daily newspaper for 1966-67, also worked for Paddock Publications news staff last summer.

Opel Kadett Fastback Cars Arrive at Bill Cook Buick

Newly arrived models of the Opel Kadett fastback sport coupe are now on display at Bill Cook Buick, Euclid and Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights.

Built by General Motors at its subsidiary plant in Bochum, West Germany, the Kadett first appeared in 1962. Immediately popular in Europe, the line was introduced to the United States through Buick dealers two years ago.

GM initially concentrated its Opel dealer network on the East and West coasts and ignored the Midwest, but Bill Cook Buick has been handling the line since its introduction.

THE KADETT two-door sport coupe features fastback styling with the roof and rear window following the contours of the rear deck. It appears designed to appeal to economy-minded buyers who want a sporty-looking small car.

Other new 1966 Kadett models include a four-door deluxe sedan, a standard two-door sedan, Deluxe two-door sedan and the Deluxe Kadette station wagon.

The models range in port-of-entry price from $1,657 for the conventional two-door sedan to $1,898 for the station wagon model—making the Kadett the lowest price postwar car to be sold in this country by GM. The fastvack model lists at $1,786.

The 1100-cc Kadett engines have improved acceleration and performance over earlier models with horsepower up from 46 to 54 on the 1966 model.

IN ADDITION, there is a performance package option which offers a 60 horsepower engine and front wheel disc brakes for $56 extra.

As its appearance suggests, the Kadett has its engine in front with spare and gas tank in a rear trunk.

The Kadetts have a wheelbase of 95 inches and are 162 to 164 inches in over-all length. These are increases over earlier models and have resulted in more room inside the car. Trunk capacity has been increased 13 per cent on all models except the fastback.

ANOTHER improvement is a standard 12-volt battery system.

Standard safety items on all Kadett models this year include back-up lights, front and rear seat belts, non-glare windshield wiper arms, windshield washer, padded visor and padded dash.

The four-speed, floor shift transmission has been retained and on the fastback the shift is mounted on a console. (UC

Use Too Much Water?

How much water does your family use every day? 100 gallons . . . 200 gallons . . . 500 gallons?

If your water bill is big, you are probably using more water than necessary. There may be a leaky faucet or Junior may be forgetting to turn off the water after brushing his teeth.

Chances are you do not know how much water is consumed in your house in a day. But the amount you use may vary widely from what your neighbors consume.

A RECENT study shows that there are big differences in the amounts of water used by various families. The study, conducted by the Water Conditioning Research Council in a major U. S. city, indicates a wide range in usage . . . from as little as 22 gallons per person each day to a high of 97 gallons, according to J. L Bruner, president of the Water Conditioning Foundation.

What is normal usage? If yours is a family of four, you probably use somewhere between 220 and 250 gallons of water a day for personal needs, cooking and housekeeping tasks or roughly 55 gallons a person.

Are the variations in water usage due to the number of bathrooms and water using appliances in the home? While these factors may make some difference, the study shows they are not significant. Contrast two families in this study. In both cases the homes are equipped with washing machines, and the laundry is done at home.

FAMILY "C" in a 1½ bathroom house not equipped with an automatic dishwasher or garbage disposal averages 97 gallons of water a day per member. Among them the five members of this household use nearly 500 gallons of water in a 24 hour period.

In contrast, family "O" in a two bathroom house equipped with both dishwasher and garbage disposal uses only 39 gallons per member each day. The six members of this household consume only 240 gallons a day.

"If you suspect that your family is using excessive amounts there are a number of ways in which you may be wasting water," states Mr. Bruner.

"Start by checking all faucets. A leak of one drop per second can produce a loss of four gallons a day. A new washer will often stop the leak.

"BRUSH YOUR teeth with toothpaste on a damp brush. Use water only for rinsing. You can save up to a gallon per brushing with this simple procedure. And be sure Junior shuts off the faucet when he is through. There's no telling how many gallons of water he can waste this way.

"Be efficient in washing dishes. Scrape dishes well; then wash in proper sequence - glasses first; plates, silver and finally pots and pans. Place stopper in sink and fill to proper level for both washing and rinsing.

"If you have an automatic dishwasher, run it only when you have full loads.

"If careless or poor use of water is irritating to you, don't overlook getting maximum efficiency from your water supply by having it fully softened as well," declares Mr. Bruner.

HE ADDS, "When water is mechanically softened, it is free just as nature intended it.

"Water that is free of invisible hardness minerals is an excellent solvent. It works wonders for dishwashing, laundry and 101 other homemaking tasks plus showers, shampoos and baths.

"Avoid wasting water either through leakage or through failure to remove invisible hardness minerals from your household supply."

You can get good advice on the proper type of water conditioning equipment for your home from your local plumber or water conditioning dealer. They will help you to determine whether purchase of equipment or a softener service is best for your needs. (O

Don't Forget To Check The Pipe

Summertime, when the children are out of school, is moving time for many families. If you're house-hunting now, here's an important tip from the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau:

Don't forget about the piping. Make sure it can handle all the plumbed-in appliances you have or expect to buy soon. Since most pipe is hidden from view home shoppers sometimes forget about its importance. Yet it constitutes the arteries of the home.

The use of water-connected equipment has increased over 60 per cent in the last decade and will double in the next five. A home with piping that's barely adequate now will be a very inconvenient place in which to live a couple of years from now. And it will be a drug on the market if you ever decide to sell.

HOW CAN YOU tell if the pipe is right? Noisy plumbing or water trickling instead of flowing from a faucet are two telltale signs that the diameter is too small. An informal but effective test is to have different members of the family turn on the water at the same time at various points of use. If the water flows as it should, the piping is probably big enough.

The best way to determine the adequacy of the piping is to have it checked by a plumbing contractor. When you buy a house you're making a major investment, and about 10 per cent of that investment is in the plumbing. The small cost involved in a check by a professional is well worth it. (O

Our sports writers really get involved in the games they cover, though we hope they don't try this hard or we're likely to have one sports writer listed in the box score.

Fans and coaches, alike, expect Paddock sports writers to know more about what's going on in the local sports scene than anyone else. It's one of the things that makes our paper the best in the area (and the heaviest).

Sure, it takes time and talent to develop such an outstanding sports staff, but our readers expect the best in a Paddock paper, and we're determined to give it to them.

So next time you see sports writers covering a local event, smile at the one without the press card in his hat — he's our man.

THE ACCEPTED INFLUENCE IN THE NORTHWEST SUBURBS

Sugar Maple Fad Growing Rapidly

The planting of sugar maples especially in the northern and middle states is growing sharply, with home owner expectations for eventually making their own maple syrup and maple sugar, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

If they should not make the syrup, the home owners still have a handsome ornamental shade tree with comparatively large foliage.

Sugar maples thrive in the northern and in some of the middle states. They are one of the most valuable shade trees, growing in several forms.

CONSIDERABLE romance has in the past, been connected with the trees especially in New England and New York, where their sap was tapped in late winter for boiling down and making thick maple syrup which was spread on clean snow for what were once known as "sugar eats."

"Sugar eats" were held in the country. Couples on cold spring nights, snuggling under fur robes, rode to them in large tallyho sleighs, which added to both comfort and romance. While not expecting the practice to reach the proportions of bygone days, "sugar eats" are still being held in some areas.

In the fall months, at the first frosts, sugar maple foliage turns brilliantly yellow, orange and scarlet, to brighten the landscape with a variety of color seldom seen outside of sugar maple areas.

SUGAR MAPLE planting can be extended into some areas where they presently are quite scarce providing there are severe snowy winters followed by sunny spring days and frosty nights. The trees tolerate most soils, usually on the moist side.

A mature sugar maple tree will give gallons of sap which can be boiled down to syrup, or, by further condensation, to maple sugar, both of which are valuable crops in northern New England, bringing high prices.

The tree's sap is tapped by boring a hole in the trunk and inserting a hollow tap through which the sap drips into a pail hung on to the tap. By boiling this sap, it gradually thickens into pure maple syrup prized by gourmets for eating with pancakes and waffles especially. (O

Locate Key Appliances With Care

When planning your kitchen, place major appliances in areas where they can operate at maximum efficiency.

Don't, for instance, locate a refrigerator-freezer next to a clothes dryer or where it will be hit by direct sunlight for long periods of time. By exposing it to heat, you may be forcing the appliance to work extra hard to keep foods at their prescribed degree of coldness.

IN THE DAYS before no-frost refrigerator-freezers, other efficiency drains could occur. Excess frost on manually-defrosted units often made the appliance work hard to stay cold. With no-frost models, which do not permit frost to form in either the freezer or refrigerator compartments, this is never a problem.

Absence of frost, together with precise temperature controls and improved thin-wall foam insulation, make it easier for modern refrigerator-freezers to operate at peak efficiency. Ease of operation means that power consumption — and costs — are also kept down. (O

Lady Bird's Appeals for Beauty Plantings Heeded

Beautification plantings, spurred by the First Lady's nationwide TV program, as well as by the various states are continuing at a record clip throughout the country, according to the American Association of Nurserymen, with some states accomplishing far more than others.

Generally, the association reports, beautification activity in California surpasses that of other states.

The District of Columbia, however, is far in the lead in beautifying with trees and shrubs largely due to prodding by Mrs. Johnson.

In the east, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland seem to be the best organized to further the beautification efforts. In the midwest, Michigan apparently is ahead. In a few states, following governors' conferences, nothing further has been heard.

That beautification is proceeding at a strong pace is evident in the heavy demand for nursery stock of landscape sizes in all parts of the country says the Association. Where shortages exist, every effort is being made by growers to meet them from supplies in nearby areas. There are no serious shortages, it is reported, except in large sizes of trees. Demand for fruit trees is picking up.

Heavy frost damage in certain of the growing areas in the south caused some shorages of shrubs normally grown for northern markets, but more northernly grown plants will fill the gap in relation to outdoor beautification, it is said.

The industry is planning ahead to meet the demands of the market, but it takes from three to 10 years for woody plants to grow to marketable size.

The growing of a tree cannot be speeded up as can the production of manufactured goods, it is stated, although the industry is making every effort to do so to the extent Nature will allow. Present expansion of growing schedules will in time take care of the increased demand, it is said. (O

I'm told people come from miles to view the magnificient rare-old dotted Hawthorne. Surely inspiration for latter day "Joyce Kilmers."

Fescue, goosegrass, knotweed and scores of other weeds are often mistaken for crabgrass by inexperienced gardeners. Be sure you know what your weed is before you spend a lot of time and money on eradicators that may not do the job. There are many places that will help you with weed identification, the University of Illinois Extension service, 201 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, is one. O. M. The rose is the flower of the month. By far the most popular garden flower, roses love plenty of sun and lots of water, but detest "wet feet." They come in almost every color except blue. We all have our personal favorites, but I guess I'm stuck on Crimson Glory, Peace and Chrysler Imperial.

Landscaper Warns Of 'Humus Hucksters'

Green thumb enthusiasts and arm chair gardeners are urged to move with caution if they are contemplating "professional" help this spring, according to the president of the Illinois Landscape Contractors Association.

In a general warning to the public, Bacil B. Hurr, of Chicago, says that many thousands of dollars are wasted each year by homeowners in Northern Illinois who patronize unscrupulous and unprofessional "landscapers."

Hurr said his organization, which is dedicated to fostering high business standards in landscaping, receives numerous complaints from duped householders each year.

HE URGED homeowners to beware in particular of the door-to-door peddler of evergreens or the "humus huckster" whose bushel of "peat soil" may be of questionable value.

"Deal only with established, reliable nurserymen and landscape firms," Hurr recommended. "Size is not the criterion. A small-scale landscape specialist may in fact do quality work. The important thing is to check his references.

"The larger the job," Hurr said, "the more you need a written contract, complete with all details. Seeding, sodding, fertilizers, plant material, maintenance, guarantees — every item should be thoroughly worked out in a written agreement, and the reputable landscaping firms in the Chicago area will do this as a matter of course.

"Consider landscaping a long-term investment," he said, "to be pro-rated over a period of years. Don't try to buy temporary solutions to your landscape problems, when they are likely to cost you extra in the long run. Reputable landscape contractors will not recommend cutting corners."

HURR SAID one of the most important recommendations is for homeowners to look for membership in an organization that promotes high standards in landscape work.

Besides the Illinois Landscape Contractors Association, Hurr said the homeowner could buy with confidence from firms who are members of other state and national professional landscape groups, including the Illinois State Nurserymen's Association, Ornamental Growers of Northern Illinois, American Association of Nurserymen, and the National Landscape Nurserymen's Association. Firemen Say: Clean House Seldom Burns

Any fireman can tell you it's actually a fact that a clean house seldom burns.

It's just as true that a clean stove or furnace seldom burns up the house.

Dirty, defective heating and cooking equipment is high on the list of fire causes. It was responsible for close to 200,000 fires in the United States last year, according to National Fire Protection Association estimates.

Now is an excellent time to have heating equipment serviced and repaired before you let it go and get caught by the first cold snap of next fall.

IT COULD BE time to check the chimney too — it's particularly important if you burn wood or coal. And a clean, tight chimney means fuel saving as well as fire safety.

If you have an exhaust fan and duct over your kitchen stove, how long since it has had the greasy residue removed?

A final reminder: Make sure that any kerosene or oil room heaters are clean and in sound working condition before you put them away for the season or get them ready for summer camp use. A dirty, defective one is about as dangerous an object as you can have in your home. (O

Realtor Head Scores LBJ Housing Proposal

Ralph H. Bruns, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, has strongly criticized President Johnson's housing proposals in the new civil rights bill and urged their defeat.

"Under the facade of banning bias on the ground of race, color, religion, or national origin, this bill would empower the federal government to force an owner to sell or rent his property to a person not of his choice, whether the property is his home, rental housing, a room for rent in his home or boarding house, or even land to be used as the site of housing," Bruns said.

"While the objective of open occupancy is praiseworthy, this proposed means of accomplishing it is 100 per cent wrong, since true and lasting acceptance of neighbors by neighbors can be accomplished only by understanding and education fostered voluntarily by churches, schools, and all men of good will. It cannot be achieved by the federal government with its vast power wiping out freedom of choice and contract for all citizens under the guise of providing a new right for minority groups.

"THE CITIZENS feel strongly about this human right of real property ownership, and in every instance where they have had an opportunity to express their views at the polls they have decisively exhibited their attitude. In every referendum on the subject, forced housing has been overwhelmingly rejected.

"Voluntary efforts to provide equal opportunity in housing are under way quietly in many communities, and one indication of the success of this desirable approach was reflected in the recent report of the California Real Estate Association that a vast supply of desirable houses for sale is available to Negroes and other minorities who have the financial ability to buy them. More than 99 per cent of the 286,406 listings in the multiple listing services of 170 real estate boards in that state for the first 11 months of 1965 contained no racial restrictions, the California survey showed."

Besides appealing to Senators Dirkson and Douglas and Reps. Rumsfeld, Collier and McClory to help defeat the federal forced housing proposal, Bruns urged home and property owners to express their opinions to their Congressmen also. (RE

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

How Much Do You Know About Colors?

by Jane Sherrod Singer, M.A., University of California

Colors are so much a part of our life that we take them for granted. Yet, we have our favorites and they affect our moods more than we realize. Our language is filled with "colorful" expressions - "green with envy," "a blue mood," "seeing red," "yellow coward". This quiz, based on the work of Dr. Isay Balinkin, Professor of Experimental Physics and color demonstrations will open your eyes as to how much you know about one of man's greatest treasurers, the phenomenon of color.

	YES	NO
1. Which major hues make up sunlight?	( )	( )
2. Who discovered the spectrum of color and with the beginning of the science of color?	( )	( )
3. Is there a reason for wearing white in summer and dark colors when it is cold?	( )	( )
4. What causes color-blindness?	( )	( )
5. Which are the most popular colors?	( )	( )
6. If you asked someone to move one of two boxes, exactly the same size and weight, but one painted pale green and the other dark grey, which one would a person most likely to pick up?	( )	( )
7. If you asked a person to place a box on one of two benches both twenty feet away, but one painted red and the other blue, on which bench would he most likely place it?	( )	( )
8. What is the difference between the colors of light and the colors of pigment?	( )	( )

ANSWERS:

1. Sunlight is composed of six major hues, red, orange, yellow, green, blue and violet. These however can be reduced to the three primary colors: red, green and blue.
2. In 1666 Isaac Newton, by "bending light through a prism of clear glass, discovered the spectrum, the seperation of colors in light. What he saw, is shown us by nature when raindrops separates light and we observe the spectrum in a rainbow.
3. There is a very good reason for changing the color of clothing when it is hot or cold. White reflects the radiant energy of light and less heat is absorbed. Dark clothing absorbs light and you are warmer.
4. Color is perceived by the cones on the retinas of the eyes, the inner layer. When a person does not have cones operating perfectly, he or she may be color-blind to some extent. One man in twelve is color-blind while only one out of two hundred women have difficulty distinguishing color.
5. Red is the universal favorite with women, blue is most popular with men, certain shades of yellow are least favored.
6. Working visually, the average person would most likely pick up the pale green box because it "looks lighter."
7. The chances are that a person would place the box on the red bench. Red is an advancing color and appears to be closer. Blue recedes.
8. Light from the sun is visible radiant energy. Without sunlight, there is black or darkness. Light, or white, is the combination of the basic hues. In pigment, the opposite is true. White is the absence of color but to make black, one must combine primary colors of pigment; magenta, Yellow and cyan (blue-green).

Lake Park Awarded Charter From A National Math Club

Lake Park High School received national recognition last week when it was awarded a charter in Mu Alpha Theta, international high school and junior college mathematics club.

The announcement was made by Dr. Harold V. Huneke, national secretary-treasurer, who is an associate professor of mathematics at the University of Oklahoma, national headquarters.

Only those schools with excellent mathematics programs can earn membership in the club since all courses in mathematics and the qualifications of the mathematics faculty and students are examined by the club's governors and officers.

TO BE ELIGIBLE for membership, minimal requirements are that a student must have completed, with distinction, at least four semesters of college preparatory mathematics and be enrolled in the fifth semester. He also must have an overall grade of at least a "B" in all of his high school work.

"Membership in Mu Alpha Theta is the highest honor possible for a high school or junior college student of mathematics," Huneke said. "Club activities consist of work in areas of mathematics not usually covered in the classroom."

Mu Alpha Theta was founded in 1957 at The University of Oklahoma and has grown to more than 1,000 clubs in the 50 states and Canada, England, Switzerland, Japan, Mexico, Puerto Rico, the Canal Zone and Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The club is sponsored by the Mathematical Assn. of America and has attracted the attention of mathematics scholars in this country and abroad.

NORBERT Wesolowski, who received his MA degree from Roosevelt University, is the sponsor of the new Mu Alpha Theta club at Lake Park High School.

High School Highlights

The outstanding students who are charter members in the club are: Sharon L. Luschen, Kathleen S. Hultquist, Richard A. Pump, Douglas S. Hight, Robert A. Marshalla, Chester R. Goodin, Ralph E. Dulaney and Allen E. Black. (5Y

Yearbook Dedicated To Teaching Couple

The Lance 1966, Lake Park High School's yearbook is dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. William Dexter, both teachers at the high school.

The announcement was made to the student body by yearbook editor Ann Blair at an assembly last week.

According to Miss Blair, each year's staff picks a teacher who they feel is dedicated, knows the subject matter well and makes it interesting, has a sense of humor and good rapport with the students.

"We like a teacher," she says, "who will talk to us about things other than the subject of the class."

THIS YEAR THE staff felt two teachers, husband and wife, best exemplified these principles and practices. After discussion, the entire staff voted by secret ballot on the dedication.

William Dexter teaches Algebra I and II and his wife Phyllis, shorthand, office and secretarial practice, and busi-

The Dexters' romance budded and bloomed at Lake Park, for it was there they met. Phyllis had been at the school three years, Bill one. They were married two summers ago.

Besides looking forward to seeing the Lance when it comes out next September, the Dexters are excited about two other future events. They are expecting their first child this summer, and have recently bought a six-year-old house in Bloomingdale.

THEY WILL MOVE in as soon as summer vacation begins, and once moved in, will leave to spend most of the summer in Champaign where Bill will be attending a six-week National Science Foundation Mathematics Institute.

Mrs. Dexter will not return to Lake Park next year, expecting to devote full time to motherhood. (5Y

MUTUAL FUNDS AT AGE 65—
A LOOK AT WHAT THEY OFFER

"I would like your opinion regarding the monthly income plan being offered for retirement by some of the Mutual Funds.

"The plan I am considering calls for me to deposit a minimum of $10,000. From this sum will be deducted an eight per cent commission fee. The remainder will be given to me in shares of the fund. I will be able to sell these shares any time I choose, at whatever the market price of the shares is at that time.

"Under the plan I may commence drawing $100 a month, starting one month after my account is opened. The salesman offering the plan has referred me to a local resident who has drawn this $100 a month for 63 consecutive months and now has in her account a balance in excess of her original deposit.

"I know there can be a decrease as well as an increase in the value of Mutual Fund shares. But their history has been most favorable.

"The appeal of the plan to me is that it offers a good income, and that I would not have to forfeit my principal as I would if I took out a lifetime annuity. Also, the increase in the value of my shares would act as a safeguard against inflation . . ."

Probably the best general advice that can be given on these Mutual Fund plans is this: If you can afford to see your $10,000 shrink, or if you can afford to use up all of the $10,000 in five to ten years, then you might try it. If you can't afford either of these developments, then you'd better watch your step.

Many of the Mutual Funds offering these monthly income plans invest their money heavily in common stocks. If you are old enough to retire you are old enough to know about 1929 and the collapse of common stocks.

But just as pertinent to you in retirement is the simple arithmetic of some of these plans. A Mutual Fund probably would be able to provide you about four per cent return on your investment . . . certainly not much more. On $10,000 this would be $400 a year. But under the $100-a-month plan it would be paying you $1,200. Where does the extra $800 a year come from? From the sale of your shares.

If hard times come, the four per cent return presumably would drop. This would mean more of your shares would have to be sold to come up with the $1,200. But if the four per cent return dropped, so presumably would the value of the shares. Which would mean even more shares being sold. In brief, in a falling economy you probably would be selling more and more shares for less and less money.

Now the history of Mutual Funds over the last 10 years or so has been good. So indeed has been the history of nearly everything else. Maybe prosperity is here to stay. Who knows?

SQUARE DANCE CLUB NEWS

Dorothy Meyer CL 3-2298

SUMMER SCHEDULE

There won't be a column next week because of super-early holiday deadlines and beginning next month we'll revert to our usual summer schedule of one column per month, rather than every week.

In order to give advance notice of a few summertime dances we have set the following schedule, based on information we now have: columns will appear in June 9, July 7 and Aug. 11 issues, with deadlines of June 4, June 30 and Aug. 6. Depending upon your reporter's vacation schedule the August date may change; however all publicity chairmen will be notified via the July column if there is a different deadline for August.

Past experience has taught us that everyone (including you know who) tends to relax during the summer montbs, never doing today what can be put off until a week from tomorrow. Therefore we urge all publicity chairmen to send in news of summer dances as soon as details are known, even if it's a month early.

Under no circumstances should anyone plan to get a last minute item in via telephone—Paddock staffs will be vacation-shorted in all departments from editorial to press room and, in addition, personal plans of your editor include out-of-town weekends when your phone call will go unanswered.

PALATINE SQUARES

Last call for dancers for Palatine's last dance of the season comes via Lil Langerock's last note as publicity chairman for the club. Lil's been on the ball and on the job for three long, deadline-ridden years and is retiring as of this news release. Her thanks to all who have helped her include a flattering aside to this reporter — and you're welcome, Lil.

Caller Jim Stewart will be at the mike in Pleasant Hill School Saturday night for the season's finale, squarin' 'em up at 8:30 and resting between tips while "rounders" Jerry and Dot Daniels take over. The school is located at Cedar and Illinois Streets in Palatine, and on square dance nights its doors are always open to guests. In addition to fine dancing there'll be information available regarding summertime opportunities to keep swingin'. Be there!

ARLINGTON SQUARES

It's "last chance to dance" time, too, for the Arlington club which has its final fling of the season tomorrow night in St. Simon's Episcopal Church of Arlington Heights. Lenny Roos will start things swingin' at 8:30, immediately following the one-hour round dance workshop with Jerry and Dot Daniels.

Guests will be welcome as always, and to the many enthusiastic guests who have appeared at Arlington Squares dances throughout the season the club extends hearty thanks. It's been the best year in the club's history, and officers credit their hard-working committees and the fine turnout of guests for the sizzling success.

A members-only dinner dance in Long Grove Country Club is scheduled for June 3; golfers in the membership are reminded that tee-off time is 12 noon.

BUCKS AND DOES

Elk Grovers invite everyone to join 'em for the last of their regularly scheduled dances of the 1965-66 season, coming up Saturday night and featuring guest caller, Don Chafa of Iowa. Don will square 'em up at 8 o'clock in Dempster Junior High School (Dempster Road and Route 83), and Carl and Marie Peterson will lead the rounds. Area square dance enthusiasts are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to hear Don; club campers, holiday weekending at Fish Lake, plan to return to Elk Grove for an evening rather than miss the occasion. Join 'em?

Memorial Day parade spectators in Arlington Heights will see a group of Bucks and Does as well as representatives of several other area clubs, and this veteran parade-watcher wonders if John Philip Sousa ever dreamed that somebody would some day do-ci-do to his marches.

Club members remind everyone that Bucks and Does' annual jamboree is a June 11 event, one of the major dance opportunities of the summer season. Callers include Pat Braffet of Big Rock, Art Mathews of Chicago, Ralph St. Pierre of Herscher, Earl Thompson of Racine, and Jerry Whitebread of LaGrange, co-starring with club regular, Paul "Foggy" Thompson. The Petersons will be there, too, to keep round dancers happy and in step. It'll be an 8 p.m. occasion, in Dempster Junior High School's two big gyms.

June 12 will wind up Bucks and Does' current doings when they appear with the WGN Barn Dance show in Forest View High School as part of Elk Grove Village's "tencennial" celebration. Performances are at 2 in the afternoon and 8 o'clock in the evening; tickets are available via Danny Hagen, phone 824-3870.

MOHAWK COUNTRY CLUB

Square dancing on the intermediate level begins Friday, June 10, in Bensenville's Mohawk Country Club, where Frank Hurkmans will square 'em every Friday night throughout the summer months. Dance time is from 8:30 until 11 p.m., and no reservations are necessary. Just be there.

ROSS PATERSON DANCE

Non-dancers as well as dancers will be welcome Saturday night at the Ross Paterson Memorial Dance in Arlington High School girls' gym, where six area callers will take turns at the mike. It's hoped that even clubs scheduling dances of their own Saturday night will find time to put in an appearance in tribute to one of the area's finest young square dance advocates. Ross, a charter member and officer of the former Cardinal Promenaders—the first high school club, was killed in Viet Nam Feb. 16.

Saturday night's callers will be Wally Paulson, Don Finfrock, "Tib" Tibbetts, Danny Hagen, Lee Simpson and Bill Davis. Square-'em-up time is 8 o'clock. There will be no admission charge, but rather a free-will donation accepted from dancers to establish a Ross Paterson Memorial Fund. Further information is available via Mary Sauerland, 392-3824. Finest Rubies

The finest rubies come from upper Burma, where they have been mined since the fifteenth century.

LOOKING PROUDLY at their masterpieces in the art exhibit held recently at Sacred Heart of Mary High School are Rose Ann Kennedy, ('66), Mary Schafer, ('68), and Kathy Kirkham, ('67). The purpose of the exhibit was to display the work done by the art students, sponsored by Miss Mary Ellen Akers, during the past school year.

THE VERSTAILE Three Twins, instrumental and singing trio with a flair for comedy, are now appearing at Landers Chalet, Oakton and Higgins Roads, Elk Grove Village, in the Crescendo Room. Organized in 1946 at Illinois Wesleyan University, the Three Twins have moved from the campus to leading hotels and clubs, radio, television and on records.

JASON ROBARDS reminds Barbara Harris of the little red car in the circus that throws open its doors to emit a thousand clowns, whooping and hollering. It's a key scene form "A Thousand Clowns," opening tomorrow (Friday) at the Randhurst Cinema. The comedy also features Martin Balsam, Academy Award winner as best supporting actor.

About Time to Jack 'em Up!

The Way We See It

Suburbs Need Help For Planned Growth

Large-scale residential building outside municipal boundaries continues to pose problems to residents and officials.

A few current examples come to mind.

Wheeling and the backer of a multi-million dollar development just beyond the village have failed to come to terms on water supply and other issues.

Palatine is concerned about a proposed spate of new projects just beyond its borders, including many high-rise buildings.

Arlington Heights is involved in a lawsuit stemming from the annexation of Arlington Gardens subdivision, which was built under county rules and served by a private utility, now taken over by the village. Taking over a private utility generally is an expensive procedure.

Mount Prospect has been tangled in frequent disputes centering around a private utility serving homes both inside and outside the village.

Arlington Crest subdivision, now a part of Palatine, faces large assessments to close the gap between its facilities and village standards.

Police protection is generally lacking outside village limits because the sheriff's force is woefully lacking in manpower. It is unfair to the villages to expect them to police unincorporated areas, although they often do. Furthermore, it is unfair even to expect municipal residents to pay a county tax for an enlarged sheriff's force, because this amounts to a double police tax.

It all adds up to the fact that large-scale home building outside municipal jurisdiction is illogical and ultimately expensive to the taxpayers.

Additional steps are needed to make it possible for municipalities to grow in a more controlled and orderly manner.

One possibility is for the county to be given the power to require builders to adhere to the building and subdivision codes of the municipality their project borders. This would provide an incentive for the builder to do what is logical—annex.

It would also give an incentive to municipalities to agree among themselves on what their future boundaries should be.

Another suggestion is new state laws making it easier for cities and villages to annex. At present, consent of property owners is required. However, if tracts are destined sooner or later to become part of a municipality, it is only logical that the municipality have the power to annex them before construction takes place, not after.

This permits planning, avoids crazy quilt development, against shoddy construction, assures the newcomers that they will receive adequate services, and avoids costly assessments needed later to bring things up to standard.

The problems of achieving orderly community growth are particularly the problems of the suburbs. It behooves our suburban lawmakers to explore every avenue for modernizing the laws so that crazy quilt suburban growth patterns can be avoided.

Challenge for GOP

Arm-chair politicians have long accepted a stereotype of the American suburb as a prosperous, tree-lined enclave, populated by gray-flanneled organization men, all of whom vote Republican.

In recent years, however, professional politicians in the northwest area have known there was something wrong with the picture. Their concern is supported by a recent study of Frederick M. Wirt of Denison University, who has used 1960 census data and election returns from 154 suburbs for the years 1932 and 1948-1960 to get a more accurate picture of the political, economic, and sociological character of suburbia.

First of all, Wirt found that only about half the suburbanites actually vote Republican: the GOP percentage of the Presidential vote in this sample ranged from 51.3 per cent in 1932 to a high of 60 per cent in the second Eisenhower election of 1956 and back down to 47.3 per cent in 1960.

When Wirt analyzed returns from elections for President, Congressmen, and Mayor to characterize party structure in the sample suburbs, he found that out of every six suburbs three are Republican, two are Democratic, and one is two-party.

When the economic level of suburbs is measured by income, rent, and employment in manufacturing, Democratic suburbs turn out to be largely low income, low rental, with a large percentage of the population employed in manufacturing. Republican suburbs are the reverse.

Clearly, blue collar and lower middle-class citizens have also fled the city in post war years, and taken their Democratic voting habits with them. The trend for the future, Wirt predicts, is toward increasing Democratic strength in the suburbs.

To offset this increase in northwest suburbs, Republican leaders will be called upon to broaden the base of party support and to be more responsive to the changing needs and aspirations of the electorate.

Junked Car Eyesores

Junked autos are becoming an increasing problem.

Apparently this is partly due to the greater number of autos and partly to a decreasing demand for scrap metal in the steel industry. In any case, more and more autos are abandoned in public places, or sit rusting on private property. They are major eyesores.

Much valuable police time is wasted in tracing the ownership of abandoned cars and obtaining payment for towing charges, or a surrender of title so the car can be auctioned off for what it might bring.

Getting rid of junked cars on private property is likewise a time-consuming procedure, involving proving in court that the car is a hazard or a nuisance.

One element in a solution is providing a place where junked cars may be taken by their owners—in other words a car dump or disposal operation—and giving it wide publicity.

If there exists a place where cars may be junked, then the penalties for failing to use it can be strengthened and streamlined.

In many places, authorities have the right to cut weeds where property owners fail to do so, and place the cost of the weed-cutting as a lien against the property. Perhaps the same approach could be used on property which is cluttered with junk.

Critic's Corner

High Rises Not All Bad

by DAN PRIBILSKI

High rise buildings, apartments—they're not as bad as a lot of home owners in northwest suburbia make them out to be.

Many virtues exist for the single family home, but it is silly to make the single family home the absolute.

This is especially so in most of our growing communities because they are growing via tract developments. The developments may not be ticky-tacky but most are hardly much more inspiring.

PRIBILSKI

Not all people, not all business for that matter, should be molded into one style of structure, the single family home or the one-story business building. How dull if suburbia remains completely a one-level area.

Chicago has set a bad example in many of its areas with high rises and apartments.

PEOPLE OUT here, myself included, would not want to see a duplication — an eventual little Chicago in Arlington Heights for instance.

But the experience of Chicago has jaded the thinking of people that apartments and high rises are no darn good — tax-wise, land value-wise, esthetically — no darn good.

Certainly the "oderous" rise is not wanted, the crummy barracks apartments not wanted.

But this is not what they have to be.

PERHAPS villages need more home rule to control the type of structure I am talking about. And, perhaps, just as equally, communities need more home rule to control tract developments.

Ticky-tacky homes to me are no more a virtue than the much-abhored ticky-tacky apartments people always believe will result when a builder talks apartments.

The old timers in northwest suburbia fought the people who moved out here to the tracts. It seems to me to a large extent, people today fighting high rises and apartments offer no better reasons for their prohibition than the old timer who didn't want the newcomer.

Blind prejudice is a root of many objections.

HIDING BEHIND slogans of "country living" and "a real home town" and "where town meets country," the people tend to fire from the hip in opposing high rises and apartments.

Do they want 50 miles or 100 miles more of flat tract developments?

This is what will happen unless we go "up."

High rises and apartments (more and more a market grows for them) could through planned developments provide a needed balance to our communities.

The concept of planned development needs legislative work to give some real controls and teeth to municipalities but the concept should not be scrapped because their administration today is difficult.

OPEN LAND — something which should go hand in hand with high rises and apartments — would be one of the chief aims of planned developments.

In particular, people most of the time after they have a few kids want a home, a refuge, a security. But let's not make the other type of dweller in suburbia, the apartment guy or gal or family, into bogeymen.

As for high rises, I think architect Frank Lloyd Wright was correct that a high rise in the country is a much better place than in a city where the virtues of tall buildings are lost because all buildings are tall and sandwiched together.

The only problem, esthetically, with good high rises out here is the dweller or businessman who occupies space in such a building today would have nothing to look at but flat tract developments.

'Wielder of Mop'

By DAVE CRIPPEN
Staff Writer

Brother Gregory leaned back in his creaky chair, raised a bushy eyebrow and joked, "Wielder of mop."

It was a funny description of what role the superior-administrator of the new St. Alexius Hospital in Elk Grove Village must play. But it was more truth than humor.

Since February, 1964, Brother Gregory has directed the many complex phases of constructing the $8 million hospital. The task has demanded he study blueprints, purchase equipment, decide on color schemes, develop a medical staff and undertake numerous other duties required of a hospital administrator.

BROTHER GREGORY

BUT BR. GREGORY is a modest man serving in a modest religious order. His position knows no prestige.

"I also planted trees, scrubbed floors and dumped trash," he added.

The old farmhouse which has served as an administration building for more than two years, stands in sharp contrast to the new hospital nearby.

His small office on the second floor is hardly typical of an administrator's office. The desk is old and cluttered. Sitting next to it is a small portable typewriter. In one corner hangs a shiny construction helmet Br. Gregory uses when he goes out to look over the job.

THE OLD quarters have become a source of humor for Br. Gregory and other members of the staff.

"When we started here this place was more than adequate," he jokes. "Now it is more than cramped."

Hard work has been a steady companion of Br. Gregory since he entered the Alexian Order one week after he graduated from high school in 1942. As a high school student in Denver, Br. Gregory had an intense desire to devote his life to helping mankind. The principal of his high school recommended the Alexian order. After two and a half years of study at the novitiate in Signal Mountain, Tennessee, Br. Gregory came to Chicago where he entered nurses training at the order's hospital. Since then he has worked in every capacity from nurse to administrator at most of the five Alexian hospitals across the country.

He served as the first administrator of the hospital at Boys Town, Nebraska. He then returned to Chocago where he was made director of nursing.

Until recently Br. Gregory carried double-barreled duties, serving as administrator of the Chicago Hospital and as director of the Elk Grove Village project.

"You look at blueprints and all that and after a while it becomes unreal," he explained, commenting on more than two years as project director.

But now the beautiful seven-story hospital which rises up several hundred yards west of the administration offices makes all the hard work worthwhile, he added.

THE HOSPITAL will be dedicated the middle of next month. But, Br. Gregory notes, the job will be far from completed. The coordination and organization of the new staff requires great effort.

Br. Gregory will head the hospital for at least three, and possibly, six years. At the end of six years, however, he will be assigned another job. Rules of the order do not permit any brother to work at the same assignment for more than six years.

After his term is completed, Br. Gregory will be assigned any number of tasks which may range from nursing to supervision.

"We're available for any assignment the brothers might have," he explains.

How does Br. Gregory sum up his 22 years with the Alexian order?

"It hasn't all been peaches and cream," he points out. "But I do not think I could have found anything more satisfying."

Training for School Names

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

I see that High School District 214 is face to face with that old problem — finding a name for the school.

One member proposed Winston Churchill, but that name was turned down because Churchill was a foreigner.

CUMMINS

If you name a school for a Republican, the Democrats will protest. If you name it for a Democrat, the Republicans will protest. If you name it for a Socialist, everyone will protest.

IF YOU NAME it for a vegetarian, the packing houses will object. If you name if for a cowboy, the vegetarians will get mad.

The essence of the problem is this: the school must be named for a person of heroic stature who doesn't offend anyone. Such persons are hard to find. The eligible names are gobbled up quite fast: Lincoln, Washington, Emerson, Hawthorne, Sandburg, Salk.

The parochial schools don't have this problem. They are usually named after saints, who meet the test outlined above. But the doctrine of separation of church and state frowns on naming public schools after saints.

SO WHAT IS to be done? Can this chronic problem ever be overcome?

I think it can — but it will take time and patience and massive use of resources. My solution is to train an elite group for the special goal of having schools named after them. Statisticians should immediately determine the number of future schools which will need names, then an appropriate number of persons to meet this need should be selected and begin their training.

It would be best if these persons can be selected in infancy, if possible even before they begin sucking their thumbs. Who would want to go to a school named after someone who sucked his thumb, anyway?

THE GOAL OF their training, naturally, would be to make them heroic but noncontroversial.

This immediately rules out certain activities. Baseball and football are examples. These sports produce legendary heroes but they are also tainted with controversy between players and umpires. Much to be preferred for our elite group would be such a sport as mountain climbing, where the element of controversy is at a minimum.

Should our elite group vote in elections? This is a difficult problem. If they fail to vote, they will be accused of not being good citizens, and therefore cannot have schools named after them. If they do vote, they must make a choice, and if they make a choice they become committed and therefore controversial. Perhaps the proper thing for them to do is to participate in every election but to cast blank ballots.

The problem of achieving heroic stature is difficult, but even that can be solved.

Here again certain fields of activity must be avoided. Wars are becoming quite controversial, so I think our elite group should not seek their glory on the battlefield.

CERTAINLY THE controversies raging in the fields of literature make seeking fame as a writer out of the question.

The answer seems in having our elite group pick their spots carefully.

For example, I would train one of them as a navigator and station him among the icebergs. When some transoceanic liner collided with an iceberg, he could fly a helicopter to the stricken vessel, quiet the panic, then pilot the ship to the nearest haven. Presto! some just-finished high school could then be named.

Another of our people could be trained as a microbiologist, then flown to some steaming jungle to await the outbreak of malaria. When malaria came, he would walk among the feverish victims, shooting them full of serum, and presto! another school would have a name.

I urge the immediate adoption of my system. As far as I can determine, it is the only system for naming schools that also does anything for shipwreck and malaria victims.

Staff photographers of Paddock Publications won three awards in the monthly news photo competition sponsored by Illinois Press Photographers Association.

Results for April were released this week.

Third place honors went to Mike Seeling for a silhouette of a man shoveling sand. Two honorable mentions went to Bob Finch for photos of a measles inoculation and a relay team race.

Competing in the monthly contests are photographers from daily and community newspapers throughout the state.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK
Sports Editor

Pollard Joins Elite Group . . .

Jack Pollard of Prospect High School placed his name among the top half-milers in Illinois track and field history Saturday afternoon with a sizzling 1:54.2 clocking in the state 880 yard run.

Only nine preps in the state have dipped down lower than the mark Pollard registered on a calm, warm afternoon at the University of Illinois' Memorial Stadium.

Three of those runners finished ahead of the Prospect High senior in the state finals.

Rick Wohlhuter, St. Charles' fabulous junior, won in 1:52.0, one-tenth of a second off his career best of 1:51.9. John Davis of New Trier was second in 1:53.4 and Mike Waters of Moline third in 1:54.0.

Other boys who have achieved half-mile clockings better than 1:54.2 in Illinois have been Larry Kelly of Maine (1964), Tom Sullivan of St. George (1961), John Laidlaw of New Trier (1964), Craig Grant of Proviso West (1964-65), Mel Porter of Chicago Harlan (1963-64), and Ralph Schultz of Evergreen Park (1965).

The top mark in history, of course, was the 1:50.4 recorded by Maine's Kelly at the 1964 state finals, a national record for one year until Richard Joyce of California fashioned a remarkable 1:48.8 last spring.

Because some of the nine boys ahead of Pollard on the half-mile list have several impressive clockings, Jack's 1:54.2 actually ranks 15th in all-time Illinois rankings.

Pollard, whose father Jim earned all-pro recognition as a member of several powerful Minneapolis Lakers basketball teams, is the third boy in Paddock area history to place in the state 880 yard run.

Chuck Phelan of Arlington High School placed second in the 1960 state half which was won by Jim Simmons of Chicago Phillips in a weather-hampered 2:01.8.

In addition to a rainfall which fell at the 1960 finals, a gale-like wind, which at times reached a velocity of 40 miles per hour, blew away all chances of creditable marks in the track events.

Three years later Bob Frost of Palatine gave the area a third place in the state 880 yard run.

Pollard's 1:54.2 took over two seconds off the previous best mark recorded by a Paddock area trackman. Palatine's Gordon Dreyfus, who won the state mile last spring, posted a 1:56.4 in one of his few half-mile appearances.

Fritz Petterson's latest victory was one of his best. The New York Yankee left-hander, who prepped at Arlington High, worked eight strong innings Sunday in a 2-1 victory over powerful Minnesota. Fritz now has a 3-3 record for the Yanks with eight walks and 20 strikeouts and a 3.65 earned run average in 36 2/3 innings.

Competition Set for Saturday

West Suburban Track Finals Slated Saturday at Hinsdale

By BOB FRISK

A talented field featuring the state pole vault champion and fastest mile relay team in Illinois prep history will assemble at Hinsdale Twp. High School Saturday afternoon for the West Suburban Conference headliner.

Team and individual championships will be determined at both varsity and frosh-soph levels with competition set to get under way at 12 noon in the cinder carnival that brings down the curtain on the 1966 campaign.

Arlington High School, making its final appearance in a West Suburban track meet, is not expected to threaten the leaders in varsity ranks but could make a strong run for frosh-soph honors.

DEFENDING champion York, fourth in the state meet last weekend, looms as the overwhelming choice to annex the varsity crown. The Dukes topped Hinsdale by four and one-half points for the 1965 title.

The featured entries in the varsity division will be Chris Hill of Glenbard West, state pole vault champion, and York's dazzling mile relay team.

Hill cleared 14 feet in Champaign to gain first place honors in a strong field, and York clipped off a brilliant 3:18 mile relay, fastest mark in Illinois history.

YORK FEATURES three individuals who placed in the state 440 with a 48 flat clocking. He also has a 9.9 century this spring so could rule the West Suburban in both events.

John Mauzey of York finished second in the state discus throw and has a season best of 174 feet. The Dukes' Lou Drinka, who was fifth in the state shot put, will be favored to win the conference shot and place high in the discus.

THE DISCUS FIELD is exceptionally strong in the WSC with Mauzey, Drinka, Rich Brennan of Riverside-Brookfield, and junior Greg Zachwieja of Arlington. Mauzey and Zachwieja were district winners.

Other boys to watch in the field events will be Randy Lipschultz of Hinsdale in the shot put; Bob Bescezny of Riverside and Bob Wallich of Downers Grove in the pole vault; Tom Teeter of Glenbard and Don Turner of LaGrange in the high jump, and Jim Wrisley of Hinsdale in the broad jump.

In the running events Janulis will be favored in the 100 and 440 with Wrisley of Hinsdale expected to rule the 220, an event in which he finished second last spring.

PAT DUNNIGAN, Forest View's outstanding senior hurdler, has the lead on Bloom's Randolph Jackson in qualifying heat of 180 yard low hurdles at state track and field finals last Friday afternoon in Champaign. Dunnigan had a 19.4 over the low sticks to lead all qualifiers but was bumped at the outset of Saturday's finals and ran sixth. Lonny Poole of Bloom won the event in a record-tying 18.9. Four Teams: Four Each

19 Players Selected On MSL Star Nine

The all-Mid-Suburban League baseball team—selected this week—reflects the race that decided the loop's baseball title.

The diamond chase was a four-way struggle among eventual champion Maine West, Wheeling, Palatine and Prospect, and the way the M-SL all-stars worked out, it's no surprise.

Each of those contenders placed four players on the 19-man team, designated by consensus of the coaches Monday night. Forest View and Conant, which thrashed it out in the second division, had three choices between them, the Falcons getting two, Conant one.

The mythical team has a heavy sprinkling of underclassmen, reflecting another aspect of the MSL in 1966. Seven of the 19 are juniors and one is a sophomore.

It is also a solid hitting team, because of the players selected other than the pitchers, only four were hitting less than .300 and three were at .400 or better.

The team breaks down into four pitchers, seven outfielders, two catchers and six infielders.

The selections include:

PITCHERS

Wheeling senior Mark Newman leads the hurling staff, his 5-0 loop record including all five of the Wildcats' MSL victories. He's also a threat at the plate.

Bill Gastorf, a Maine West senior, had a 5-1 league standard, and had two no-hitters during the season. A left-hander, Gastorf had to carry the burden when injury sidlined Warrior starter Al Fritz.

Palatine's Barry Yurtis, a

Pirates Track Favorite, But Other Meets Open

by Michael Hess and Ken Knox

Three coronations will be staged this weekend, as the Mid-Suburban League dispenses the riches signifying supremacy in track, golf and tennis.

The six teams of the league will meet at three different centers to decide by combat who will wear the crowns, and in only one case—track—is there little doubt about who will reign.

The golf throne—weather permitting—will be occupied first. The golfers are to tee off tomorrow morning (Friday) at 8:30 at the Mount Prospect Country Club, with competition on both the varsity and frosh-soph level.

The varsity tennis players will begin their challenges at 9:00 a.m. Saturday at Rand Park in Des Plaines, with Maine West the host. The frosh-soph will begin at the same time at Maine East High School in Park Ridge.

Last to begin competition will be the trackmen, who'll gather at Palatine's Hale Hildebrandt Field, 1000 S. Quentin Road. The field events—shot put, discus, high jump, pole vault and broad jump—will begin at 12:30 p.m., and the track events—including a two mile run—will get under way at 1:00 p.m.

One MSL spring victory wreath has already been awarded, Maine West claiming its third consecutive baseball title with a 7-3 record. Of the three titles still to be decided, the essence of the competition should be as follows:

Track

VARSITY

If Palatine does not win the 1966 track and field title, the event—to the Pirate coaches—might be considered as cataclysmic as the Johnstown flood.

Palatine, though not necessarily to be a runaway victor, certainly must command the favorite's role, and the meet may resolve into a battle for second, with the rest of the entrants all entitled to aspire to a mound of points.

THE PIRATES, through Tuesday, had lost only to state champion Evanston in duals, having decimated MSL rivals Maine West, Wheeling, Prospect and Conant, having won their fourth consecutive Lake Shore Meet, tying for the Class A title of the Palatine Relays, and scoring nine points in the state meet.

The Pirates will boast several of the state meet veterans who will be on hand for the conference action, chief among them junior Bill Bahnfleth. Fresh from establishing the amazing state 440 record of :47.3, he and teammate John Blanchard—with a best of :49.2—will be an imposing entry in that event.

They're also keys on the mile relay team with Rick Ortman and Randy McWilliams, with their 3:18.7 downstate the third best ever in Illinois. No one in the league has been close to that, with Prospect's 3:30.2 the best. McWilliams, however, continues to ail from a low grade infection, and he may miss the meet. With a 1:57.9 half-mile to his credit, that'll hurt Palatine in the 880.

But the Pirates have plenty of strength elsewhere, perhaps even now in the 220, for Bahnfleth this week ran that event in :21.5, one of the state's best times. John Ekeberg went to the semi-finals downstate in the 220.

The Pirates are deep in hurdlers, with Bill Meister and Art Dannenberg threats for high places in the lows, and Jerry Kissner and Bob Payne in the highs.

IN THE SHOT put, Duane Hosimer—with a best of more than 55-10—is the odds-on favorite, and teammate Joe Coffaro could be second. Coffaro, flirting with the 150-foot mark, could rule the discus.

Palatine has another potential champion in the high jump, with Wayne Render having done 6-1, and in the 880 relay, depending on the alignment used. But the real telling factor will be the team depth that has been assuring the Pirates of points in almost all events in all their meets.

The others assembled will all depend for strength in certain events, with each team boasting some exceptional performers.

Maine West, the defending titlist, is primed in the distance events. Sophomore Lee LaBadie, though he missed a place in the state meet, has the state's best mile time with 4:20, and teammate Phil Martin has done 4:22.9. In the half-mile, Kevin Flurkey has run 1:55.1 and ended sixth downstate.

Bahnfleth Blazes To Illinois 440 Record

Pirate Mile Relay, Pollard Also Tally

by KEN KNOX

There were six of them left, and a tense excitement united the more than six-thousand persons that watched them as they settled into their starting blocks.

They were the half-dozen who emerged from the preliminary trials of the day before, the distillation from the greatest assemblage of quarter-milers ever gathered for the Illinois high school track and field championships.

Theirs was the premier event of the afternoon, the feature race designated by consensus of the track partisans, the coaches and the sportswriters, and someone among those six was expected to circle the 440-yard oval of cinders faster than anyone ever before in Illinois.

In the inside lane—actually lane two, because rain the night before had left lane one wet and slow—was Charlie Bareither of Urbana, almost overlooked by the local press in their handicapping, but nevertheless the author of a :48.5 in his preliminary heat the day before.

Staggered a few yards ahead of him in lane three: Roy Houston of Evanston, the defending champion, a preliminary heat winner in :48.6, less than 24 hours from having defended his broad jump championship with a record-setting leap of 24-4.

In the middle lanes: Bill Bahnfleth of Palatine, second to Houston the day before with :49.1, fifth in Illinois as a sophomore the year before, but rated mostly as one of those who would press the winner to his record; and Duwayne Hickman, a surprising qualifier from Springfield Feitshans who had also done :49.1.

In lane six: Al Janulis of York, the one they said would dethrone Houston if anyone was to do it, the one whose :48.6 had led everyone in Illinois until the state meet, and who—as suggested by his coach and the Champaign sportswriters—might be capable of a sensational :47.5 open quarter. He had run :49.2 in the preliminaries.

In the outside lane—there by virtue of a :49.6 in a preliminary heat—was Stan Mazon of Joliet West, a good quarter-miler not expected to threaten in such a stellar field.

The starter's gun pointed skyward and fired, and all six simultaneously bolted from their blocks for that race that requires almost the ideal blend of speed and stamina.

For one-third of the race they stayed as they were, a staggered but speeding procession around the first oval.

Then, the unxpected. The runners headed into the long straightaway on the far side of the track, and the crowd gasped—then roared—as it recognized what was happening.

The slender and swift junior from Palatine—a glaring vision in his bright red and white uniform—suddenly sprinted to the head of the pack, and at the halfway point one watch caught him in an amazing :21.4.

He stayed there as the runners reached the other end of the oval, and the question was: could he hold off the challenges of the five behind him?

The runners flashed through the shadows of the stands at the far end of the track, turned into the stretch toward the finish, and still the lead held, more than five yards over the number two runner, who was — incredibly — Bareither.

And it ended that way. Bahnfleth, drenched in the hysteria of the crowd, snaped the thread that marked the finish. Then Bareither. Then Janulis. Then—troubled by a recurring leg muscle pull—Houston. Then Hickman and Mazon.

A frantic cluster formed around the timers, because the watches they held had suddenly become the most important objects in the stadium.

Dick Welty—Palatine's assistant athletic director again helping out at the meet—was one of the first to reveal it? "IT's in the 47's!!"

The actual time: an amazing :47.3, the best ever run in the state of Illinois, fully one second and one tenth under the Illinois mark of :48.4 set by Thom Walters of Urbana in 1961. Bareither came in at :47.8, Janulis at :48.0, Houston at :48.8. The crowd—getting confirmation—roared again.

Thus ended the most stirring moments of the 1966 Illinois track and field meet at Champaign, a meet that proved unequivocally the thesis that the state's trackmen need only a reasonable break from the weather to perform with the nation's best.

The legendary and cursed wind that had foiled so many record attempts in the University of Illinois' Memorial Stadium kept away from the track Saturday, and only a drenching rain the night before provided some concern. But it meant nothing by 1 p.m., finals time.

The meet ended as the greatest in history, with five new records set and two more equalled, and with performances in every event but the pole vault and shot put superior to those in 1965.

The record that took the most severe battering—as expected—was the mile relay, and there again Palatine was one of the principals. The mark—a 3:20.3 set by New Trier in 1964—went first Friday afternoon when Rockford Auburn's fleet foursome zipped to a 3:20 flat in its preliminary heat. Palatine's John Blanchard, Randy McWilliams, Rick Ortman and Bahnfleth qualified with a 3:21.8 in the first preliminary heat, third best behind York's 3:21.5

In the finals, last event on the Saturday card, the Pirates blazed to a staggering 3:18.7, the third best ever run in Illinois. But it came as York—which held the lead it took on the third leg—flashed in with 3:18.0 and Auburn with 3:18.6, the first and second best ever.

The three points collected by Joe Johnson's crew in the mile relay gave the team nine for the meet, by far the best of any area entry. The only other team to score was Prospect, with two points.

They came from half-miler Jack Pollard, who crowned his varsity career by running fourth in the 880. His time: A school and Paddock area record of 1:54.2, only a few strides behind the predicted winner, Rick Wohlhuter of St. Charles. He came in at 1:52.0.

One other Paddock area boy made the finals at Champaign, as Forest View's Pat Dunnigan—winnng a semi-final heat in a Friday best of :19.4—became one of the elite six in the schoolboy hurdlers in Illinois.

Dunnigan ashioned a swift 19.4 to top all the qualifiers Friday afternoon in the lows and was the only hurdler in the state to go below 20 seconds in the qualifying sessions.

Pat finished second in his first heat of the lows to Bill Buzzard of Dixon (who placed fourth Sunday) but got a rocket start in the semi's en route to his sparkling 19.4.

In winning the semi-final heat of the lows Dunnigan whipped Mel Hilliard of Chicago Phillips, and Mel went on to place third in the finals.

Sixth place among all low hurdlers in Illinois is nothing to be ashamed about, but you'll have a hard time convincing Pat that he couldn't have finished at least in the top three at the finals.

Pat's start out of the blocks is something to watch, and it prompted some words of praise from an official at the district meet this spring.

"That boy has one of the fastest starts I've ever seen," this official exclaimed. "Unless you watch closely you might suspect he's jumping the gun, and I'm sure some starters see it that way. But actually he's just moving out at the proper time.'

He wasn't in the state track meet, but 15-year-old Curt Anders of Moline's Coolidge junior high school, recorded a startling leap of 24 feet six and three-fourths inches in the broad jump last week in a junior high meet. Anders' distance was the second best ever recorded in state history. Evanston's Roy Houston sailed 24-8 for the top mark.

Champ Works Out on Grass . . .

The state champion in the 100 and 220 yard dashes has to practice on a grass track.

Trico High School just inaugurated a track program this year and state champ Al Deppe admitted to reporters Saturday that "we're not really too sure if the school track is 440 yards."

"We just marked it out on the grass, and it's under water most of the time," the personable little dashman from southern Illinois told the astonished press corps.

Deppe was a baseball player before this spring, and the 5-7, 145-pounder still finds time for the diamond sport.

He pitched a no-hitter against Cobden three weeks ago, winning 11-0 and banging out three hits.

Deppe won the state 100 yard dash in a photo finish at 9.9 but was an easy winner in the 220 yard dash at 21.2.

The Trico speedster cracked both the 100 and 220 yard lists on Paddock's first prep track and field honor roll back on April 21 so he wasn't a complete unknown at the state finals.

Now we can say, "We told you so." Two weeks ago we predicted in this space that Evanston, Bloom, and East St. Louis would run 1-2-3 in the state track and field meet. That's exactly the way they finished Saturday in Champaign. . . . . .

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington finsihed third in the west Suburban Conference track meet behind York and Maine East. . .Dave Schimmel won the 180 yard low hurdles in 19.5 and Dennis Striegel took the shot put at 54-10. . . The Cards were seventh in league tennis. . .Outfielders Ron Ashley and Dan Vittum, pitcher John Sujack, and infielder Bob Getts were named to the all-conference baseball team.

CONGRATULATIONS, CHAMP. Harry Fitzhugh of Franklin, Ill., custodian of awards at the Illinois Interscholastic track and field meet in Champaign, congratulates Palatine's Bill Bahnfleth at the victory stand after Bahnfleth's spectacular record-setting performance in the 440 yard dash. The boys who aren't so happy on the stand are (l. to r.) Roy Houston of Evanston, defending champ who finished fourth; Charlie Bareither of Urbana, second; Al Janulis of York, third; and Duwayne Hickman (partially hidden by Fitzhugh) of Springfield Feitshans, fifth. low hurdles.

But Dunnigan—in the finals—seemed to have lost his stride at the first hurdle and ended last in the race, won by Bloom's Lonnell Poole in the record-tying time of :18.9. Earlier, Dunnigan went out in the preliminaries of the 100 yard dash, and the FV 880 relay team—of which he was a member — failed to qualify when a droppeed baton scuttled the team in the prelims.

Most disappointed of the area's entries may have been Palatine's Blanchard, who won his 440 qualifying heat in :49.7, thus missing the finals by one-tenth of a second. Palatine's John Ekeberg went to the semi-finals of the 220, but dropped out there. Miler Dennis Denton finished out of the money, and of the other Pirates on hand—Duane Hosimer in the shot put, Wayne Render in the high jump, Bill Meister and Art Dannenberg in the low hurdles, and the 880 yard relay team—none made the finals.

Conant miler Dick Ledford—first state qualifier from his school—ran in the second fastest heat, but failed to get a place.

Of Arlington's entries—Greg Zachwieja in the discus, and the 880 and mile relay teams—none got beyond preliminary activity, the mile relay team doing best with a third place 3:28.9 in the heat won by York.

AL DEPPE

Prospect's Phil Cordina in the pole vault and Vaughan Pedersen in the 440 were other entrants from this area who didn't make the downstate finals.

The meet had only one double winner, a somewhat unexpected hero in little Allen Deppe of Trico of Campbell Hill, who won a large share of the crowd's sympathy by racing to victory in the 100 and the 220. He gave his school 12 points and fifth in the meet, a singular accomplishment in that Trico hasn't had track on its athletic program until this year.

The meet, of course, was won by Evanston's defending titlists with 30 points, but only Houston's broad jump was a record set by a Wildkit. The marks that did go—besides those in the broad jump, 440 and mile relay—were the 880 relay to East St. Louis in 1:28.1, one-tenth under the 1961 effort of Taft; and the discus to Tom Bayless of East St. Louis with a heave of 175-5½, bettering by three inches the 1962 mark of Highland Park's Jim Sternfield, and his second best toss of the season. John Johnson of Champaign tied the high hurdles record of :14.2, but the mark may be taken away in a dispute over whether there was a favoring wind.

Besides Bahnfleth and Wohlhuter, two other juniors won titles: Bloom's Hershel Benberry in the shot put (59-5) and Proviso East's Ken Ward in the mile (4:20). The other titlists were Evanston's Steve Campbell in the high jump, with a 6-5 effort just under the record 6-5¼ of Arlington's Bill Palmer, and Glenbard West's Chris Hill, with a 14-foot pole vault.

But the one they will remember the most—especially next year—will be that quarter-mile.

Pirates Nine Triumphs; Slips Past Knights 5-4

by MICHAEL HESS

Down to the wire. . .

Palatine and Prospect baseball units battled until the final out on Monday. The Pirates fnially edged the Knights by a slim 5-4 margin.

That one run difference was the product of a homer struck by Mike Ferguson in the top of the seventh. Irv Hahnfeldt's four-bagger and John Grove's single had produced earlier Palatine tallies.

In the bottom of the seventh Prospect crept toward the lead as a walk, single and two infield outs sent one run across. Tom Lundstedt's single drove in his team's fourth marker and put the tying run on second.

BUT, BARRY YURTIS relieved Hahnfeldt on the Pirates mound. Yurtis worked the count to 3-2 before fanning the Knights' Don Whitlock and wrapping up the narrow victory.

Hahnfeldt had been locked in pitching combat with opponent J. D. Thorne. Both struck out eight, walked two and issued a wild pitch. Both were hurt by spotty fielding support. Both had their Mid-Suburban League records evened at 2-2.

At the plate Thorne cracked a double, Prospect's only extra base hit, a single and picked up two RBI's. His showing raised Thorne's conference leading average to .483, a figure resulting from 14 hits in 29 trips.

Palatine's Grove and Ferguson, who went two for three and two for four respectively, upped their M-SL averages to .400 and .387. Grove became 10 for 25 in league and Ferguson 11 for 31.

OF IMPORTANCE IN the 5-4 outcome was the fact that that final broke a tie. Pirates and Knights nines had been tied in Mid-Suburban standings but the winners rose to 5-4 while the losers slipped to 4-5. Each had only one conference game remaining.

Palatine opened a 4-0 lead over the first 4½ innings of the contest.

In the second inning an error allowed Dick Smith to reach first and brought up Hahnfeldt. He jumped on a 2-2 Thorne offering and sent it whistling into outer left field regions. Hahnfeldt rounded the bases with his second home run of the year.

Grove singled to left to open the second. Ken Johnson forced Grove and moved up on a bad throw. Johnson stole third with room to spare and raced home on a Thorne wild pitch. Hahnfeldt's drive to right in the fifth bounced past fielder Whitlock for a double and Grove got an RBI with a single to left.

PROSPECT BEGAN to come back in the bottom of the fifth.

Vince Franzone began the frame with a bouncing single in back of the mound. Next up, Rick Lott banged one back to Hahnfeldt who turned and tossed to second trying to start a double play. However, shortstop Johnson let the throw get away and all hands were safe.

After pitch hitter Rick Froemling and Maury Gallagher had both fanned Thorne's single to left scored the Knights' first run. When Johnson bobbled Lundstedt's grounder Dwayne Davis, running for Lott, scored. Thorne and Lundstedt moved up on Hahnfeldt's wild pitch but Whitlock ended the threat by looking at a third strike.

There was no scoring in the sixth.

HAHNFELDT BEGAN the top of the seventh by grounding out to second. Then Ferguson sent a towering, wind aided drive to deep left center. The junior speedster never hesitated as he rounded the bases and easily scored what was to be the decisive tally. Grove bounced to third and Johnson took three strikes.

Davis began Prospect's last of the seventh by walking. A line single by John Phillips followed. Paul Peterson ran for Phillips. Gallagher's bounce out to first pushed the runners ahead and Thorne's bounce out to second scored Davis. When Lundstedt singled to left, Peterson scored and the margin was 5-4.

Yurtis came on for Hahnfeldt at that point. Whitlock was the batter. Yurtis threw a strike and a ball which eluded catcher Bob Hoffman allowing Lundstedt to take second. When Yurtis came in with two more balls and another strike the count was full.

The last pitch was just on the outside corner, Whitlock was called out and the Pirates had their triumph.

All-Star Baseball

hard-throwing right-hander, is another senior on the honor pitching corps. He has a 3-2 mark in the league campaign, and was a principal in Palatine's march to the regional-tourney finals.

Dave Kingman, a Prospect junior, is the fourth selection. A fastball specialist, he had only a 1-2 mark in the league, but was 3-3 overall.

FIRST BASE

Prospect's J. D. Thorne — also an effective left-handed pitcher — was an obvious choice. His .483 batting average — based on 14 hits in 29 at bats is the best in the MSL, and the Knight senior is one of those players who's literally always a threat at the plate.

Bob Banger, a Maine West sophomore, was another choice at first, though he had to finish the season at catcher. He was a .321 MSL hitter.

SECOND BASE

There was only one choice here, Palatine junior Mike Ferguson. One of the most dangerous base-runners in the league, he's also a strong fielder and author of a .355 average through nine MSL games.

THIRD BASE

Another single selection was that of Wheeling's Dan DeVito at third. A junior, his special strength was in hitting, with a .393 league average that includes two home runs and 11 hits in all.

SHORTSTOP

Palatine's Ken Johnson led the choices here. Strong in the field and on the bases, gifted with a powerful arm, Johnson also had five home runs over-all through Tuesday and a league batting average of .321.

The other pick at short was Forest View's Kurt Koentopp, like Johnson a senior, and hitting .250 in the league.

CATCHERS

Rugged junior To mLundstedt of Prospect was one of two selections behind the plate. A .308 hitter, he's also a valuable utility man, able to pitch or play the infield.

Wheeling's Bob Krug, a steady receiver, was another pick. He carries a .296 MSL average, and is a senior.

OUTFIELDERS

Biggest batting average and one of the best gloves of the outfielders are those of Conant's Dan Grueneich. A senior and the only Cougar to make the squad, Grueneich has been on a nine-game hitting streak that's helped boost his batting mark to .440.

Two Maine West operatives cracked the list: senior Tony Gyssler whose 14 hits included two home runs and made for a .343 loop hitting mark; and Rich Farias, a junior hitting at .242 in the league.

John Grove of Palatine is another consistent hitter in the group, a senior single-slapper with 10 hits for a .400 average, obviously one of the keys in the Pirate attack.

Senior Mike Holstrom of Forest View is the other Falcon on the team, with a .333 league batting average helping insure his selection on the potent alignment.

Not so productive at the plate — but very effective in the field — is Prospect's Maury Gallagher. The junior was hitting at .222 going into his last league game.

Wheling's John Hittman rounds out the team, and he, too, brings offensive force to the lineup. He's a .321 league hitter, including one home run, and he'll be back next year for the Wildcats.

THURS., MAY 26, 1966

Mid-Suburban Meets

HELPING make the 880 perhaps the most thrilling race at the meet will be Prospect's Jack Pollard, fourth in Illinois, owner of a best time of 1:54.2.

The Knights will be a definite threat in the pole vault, where Phil Cordina's 13-3¼ dominates in an otherwise weak field. Broad jumper Leroy Rateike—with a best of 20-11½—is a potential champion, and Vaughan Pedersen, with a :50.6 quarter, could get a place there and in the high hurdles.

Wheeling has a strong hurdler in Bob Bromley, who's had :15.3 in the highs and :19.8 in the lows, an ample half-miler in Paul Fiegen (2:01), and a good discus man in Jim Lemerande (140-1). The Wildcats, with a 3:30.5 mile relay, are also a threat there.

FOREST View will lean heavily on the efforts of senior Pat Dunnigan, the man to beat in the low hurdles, where he's had a best of :19.3 and ran sixth in the state meet. He's also the person to beat in the 100 yard dash, and anchors an 880 relay team that's done 1:31.7. Spencer Dreischarf has been near 140 feet in the discus, and Craig Brown—the MSL cross country champ—could threaten in the two mile run.

Conant's chief strength will also be in the distance events, with junior miler Dick Ledford having a best of 4:26.1 and half-miler Dave Troy flirting with the two-minute mark. Ledford, Larry Robertson and Ed Johnson have all shown particular strength at two miles. In George Schenck, the Cougars have a high jumper, who could threaten, and in Dom Furio a broad jumper, who has been around 20 feet. Pole vaulter Jim Carter—with a best of 11-6—could also place.

FROSH-SOPH

The frosh-soph half of the meet—if past records are any indication—should go to Wheeling. The 'Cats have a 6-1 dual mark outdoors, boasting an exceptional freshman hurdler in Tom Johann, a strong pole vaulter in Stew Oakley, a successful high and broad jumper in Mike Mitchell, and winning mile and half-mile relay teams.

Golf

VARSITY

Prospect has won the past two M-SL links crowns but the Knights, though playing on their home course, will have a tough time repeating.

Chief challenges to the defending champs will come from Palatine and Forest View. Both surpassed Prospect in the district meet, the Pirates taking first and FV ending 11 strokes back in second.

Palatine, under head man Leonard Fiocca, won its first three conference duals and finished 15th in the state after picking up the district title. Doug Miller paced the Pirates with a 75 in district and an 82-83—165 for 36 holes in state play.

BEHIND MILLER the best for Fiocca's crew has been Bob Doan who had a 76 in district and carries an 80 average. Others on the team, with Bruce Adams and Doug Sheldon turning in the lowest scores, are capable of hot rounds but have lacked consistency.

Al Piehl led Forest View to three wins in its first four Mid-Suburban duals, the lone loss being to Wheeling. For coach Al Kintzle an 82 was turned in by Piehl in the district. Doug Locke carded a 76 to lead the Falcons' district entry. Bill Schindler and Doug Turner have also helped a late season drive which has put the Falcons dual record at 8-2.

At Prospect the problem has been consistency. Everyone on Mike Nisen's team has had a variety of high and low scores though all can compete with the best in prep links play. In opening league competition the '64 and '65 champs lost one of three duals, that to FV.

Dave Lovgren, Neil Rowe and Bob Phelan have been the best recently for the Knights. Lovgren and Phelan had 79's in the district to help their team to fourth place. Rowe has been hot in duals and Joe Rosanova and Doug Lytle should help.

Those three teams should be clustered near the top of the league, leaving Wheeling, Maine West and Conant in the second division.

WHEELING IS probably the most improved team in the league. After ending a poor eighth last year, the charges of coach Jack Berry have won three of five M-SL duals and could be fourth in '66. Dave Quirsfeld has topped the 'Cats with Bob Phelan and Steve Poulos helping their team's resurgence.

Maine West has had a poor year winning only two of nine early duals and none in the conference. Gene Zuccarini has fielded a team composed mainly of underclassmen and they have had their troubles. Ken Helfers is the Warriors' best with Dave Krowka not far behind.

In their second season of competition the Cougars have lacked experience causing them to drop five of their opening seven duals. Cal Miller, with a low 40's average for nine and 88 in the district, is best for coach Bill Holm's crew. John Polito, a junior transfer, has been next low.

FROSH-SOPH

Also the defending champ at the lower level, Prospect won't have much trouble repeating here. The Knights won their first three F-S duals and must rate as the odds-on favorite. Wheeling and Palatine should should battle for the number two spot.

Tennis

VARSITY

In 1965 the net entry from Maine West walked off with Mid-Suburban League honors and that should happen again this year.

The Warriors swept through their initial four duals in conference play without a loss. They dropped just one of their first 13 duals over-all. MW, under coach Roger King, will be tough to stop.

Best chance to pull an upset belongs to Prospect, 3-1 in early M-SL duals with a 3-2 loss to Maine as its only setback. The Knights, under Chuck Sandine, captured 11 of their first 14 duals.

FOREST VIEW and Palatine should battle for positions in the middle of the pack though either rates as an outside possibility for second or even the title. FV is 3-2 in league duals and 11-7 over-all for headman Rog Steingraber. A 1-3 league mark and 7-6 over-all standard is the Pirates under Doug Tolman.

Wheeling, 1-3 in league and 2-11 overall, and Conant, without a win in nine duals this season, will battle to stay out of the cellar. Coach Ted Ecker's 'Cats have been held back by inexperience while director Dick Gavigan's Cougars haven't even had their own courts for practice.

In Mid-Suburban action the net play should break down as follows:

First Singles — Maine's Gus Herrero, an American Field Service student from Buenos Aires, can't miss at first singoes. He has a 17-2 match mark for the year, one of those losses to eventual Illinois champ Dave Armstrong of Oak Park in the state tourney semi-finals. Runner-up honors could go to either FV's Rich Gillespie or Prospect's Craig Morton. Gillespie has whipped Morton twice this season and each has lost to Herrero.

Second Singles — Jim Buckholz of Forest View and the Knights' Craig Wolf should battle for honors here. Buckholz is unbeaten in league and carries a 14-4 over-all mark while Wolf is also untouched in league and is 14-2 overall. In an early non-conference match Buckholz beat Wolf. Dennis Doyle of Maine has lost to both but should be a strong third.

Third Singles — some of the meet's keenest competition could come in third singles. The Warriors' John Stone, the Falcons' Howie Brasch and Brian Kiehl of Prospect should all be in the running. Stone defeated Brasch in three sets earlier this yer but Brasch has won in seven of his last eight duals. Kiehl, hurt early in the '66 schedule, will try to come back.

First Doubles — A combination of Jeff Long and Tom Johnson could bring first doubles points to Prospect. Long and Johnson haven't dropped a match in league and are 10-4 over-all. Palatine's Scott Rose and John Gustafson have lost only once in nine outings this year. That setback came at the hands of the Long-Johnson team.

Second Doubles — Scooter Smith and Gordon Hominick may team for a Pirate title in second doubles. They're 9-2 over-all and unbeaten in league. A strong Maine West entry, one strong enough to sweep the field, is the Larry Scully - Don Clark duo.

FROSH-SOPH

Wheeling is a top heavy favorite here. The 'Cats took their first four Mid-Suburban duals and 10 of their first 12 over-all outings. Jim Cuca, 8-2 in F-S matches, Scott Decker, 8-3, and Walt Kreis, 11-1, give their team strong first, second and third singles entries.

Forest View and Prospect should fight over second place in the league. Jim Musgrave, 14-4 in first singles, and Dave Erickson, 10-5 in second singles, pace FV while the Knights' Dave Johnson, at 10-3, is strong in first singles and teammates Jim Schiesser and Craig Weber form a tough second doubles combination.

West Suburban

wide-open although Bill Benesch of Maine East was a state qualifier at 1:56.8. John Schafer of York, Bob Kinny of Glenbard West, and Bob Busby of Downers Grove North look like the best bets in the mile run.

There doesn't appear to be an abundance of crack hurdlers with junior Greg Myrha of Maine East favored to rule the highs where he has hit 14.8 and the lows (19.3). Myrha will be running his final race for Maine as he is moving to Detroit, Mich. Dick Frey of Hinsdale Central is a possibility in the lows.

The West Suburban features several outstanding relay teams, both in the mile and half-mile.

York, Glenbard West, Arlington, Hinsdale Central, LaGrange, and Maine East from the WSC qualified for the state meet in the mile relay. Arlington, Hinsdale, Glenbard, and LaGrange earned state spots in the half-mile event.

It's difficult to evaluate the frosh-soph competition, but Arlington certainly should be at or near the top. The Cards have been impressive in duals with such standouts as Dave Dieters, Rory Cassidy, Paul Tollefson, Bob Graham, Terry Pitts, Tom Swanson, and Dave Steele.

New Trier Tops Card Net Squad

New Trier toppled Arlington's varsity tennis team last week, 4-1, with Jim Esser the only Cardinal able to pull out a victory.

Esser, playing No. 2 singles, posted a 6-4, 6-1 victory over Doug McLaurey.

In first singles Chris Nielsen of New Trier whipped the Cards' Bill Von Boeckmann 6-0, 6-0. Brian Hewitt of the Indians handled John Jarecki in the No. 3 slot, 6-3, 6-1.

In first doubles Andy Crawford and Chip Clements of New Trier were extended to three sets before disposing of Brian Burke and Dave Milligan, 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Arlington's Matt Weeg and John Brost lost to Howard Husum and Bob Landman, 6-3, 7-5, in the No. 2 slot.

Legion Tryouts Friday

The first tryout for Arlington's American Legion baseball team is scheduled for Friday afternoon at four o'clock.

All boys 18 years of age and younger interested in trying out for the legion team should report to Manager Lloyd Meyer at Recreation Park in Arlington Heights.

The opening date for legion tryouts hinged on the high school baseball schedule, and the varsity Cardinals are scheduled to conclude their season today (Thursday).

However, if rain postponed the high school finale, the legion tryouts will be pushed back accordingly.

Workouts are also slated for 3 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday at Recreation Park.

Arlington Heights achieved national recognition in legion baseball last summer by winning 42 of 48 games and finishing fifth in the Legion World Series in Aberdeen, S. D.

Coming Next Week

Name Track All-Staters

Paddock Publications will announce its Eleventh Annual All-State Track and Field team in next week's sports section.

Presentation of the All-State team will include pictures of some of the standout performers in Illinois and brief sketches on the 1966 selections.

The All-State team is selected by Paddock Publications Sports Editor Bob Frisk, a close follower of the prep track scene in Illinois for the past 15 years who conducts a weekly track and field honor roll in Paddock's chain of suburban newspapers.

Placing in the state meet is not a prerequisite for selection although state champions automatically earn berths.

At least five boys are honored in each event with more named if the situation dictates. The team is based on the consistency of performances throughout the season.

Watch for the All-State team next week.

12 Walks Help Out

Cards Rock R-B for Second Straight Win

by BOB FRISK

Riverside-Brookfield's pitching staff was in a generous mood Tuesday afternoon at Arlington's Pioneer Park.

Four Bulldog moundsmen allowed only six hits over six innings, but they insisted on assisting the Cardinals around the bases with free passes.

Arlington received 12 walks, nine in the first three innings, as it leveled visiting Riverside, 9-2, in a West Suburban Conference battle.

Right hander Jim Bressler survived a scare in the first inning and had only one other shaky stanza as he fashioned a strong, four-hit performance for the Cardinals.

BRESSLER STRUCK out nine and walked four in becoming only the second Arlington hurler to chalk up a decision this spring. Steve Allen has the two other victories.

The triumph was the Cards' second straight in league play after ten straight losses. Arlington was scheduled to play Hinsdale yesterday (Wednesday) and will host Riverside again today (Thursday) in the season finale.

ARLINGTON didn't waste any time pushing over that first run Tuesday as Thad Woodard rode around in the opening frame on a walk, stolen base, and sharp single to right by Brad Somers.

The Cards scored three times in the second with only one hit. A hit batsman launched the outburst and with two outs, LeStarge singled and stole second, Bob Hecht and Woodard walked, and Jim Jorgensen reached on an error.

Frase was forced in on the walk to Woodard and the error sent LeSarge and Hecht across.

IN THE THIRD Arlington received four more walks in a four-run salvo. Somers had the only hit, as he drove in two runs.

Ironically, the Cards had two hits in the fourth but couldn't score this time. Paul Parish dropped down a bunt single, and Bressler clobbered a deep drive to left for two bases, but two strikeouts checked the threat.

In the fifth Woodard reached base for the fourth straight time with a single to left that was lost in the sun. Thad stole second, later set sail for third and dashed home when the throw got past the third baseman into left.

BRESSLER GOT out of a only six men over the final two innings in claiming the victory.

It's A 14-5 Avalanche . . .

Maine Buries Conant; Wins MSL Ball Title

by KEN KNOX

It was like an avalanche.

The longer it lasted, the worse it got, and when it was ended, Conant's baseball Cougars were buried.

Maine West created the catastrophe, interring the Cougars 14-5 on the Conant diamond Monday afternoon. In the process, the Warriors—without dispute—annexed their third consecutive Mid-Suburban League diamond championship. The MSL campaign ended for MW at 7-3, and no one else could hope for more than 6-4.

Conant, reduced to 3-6 in the loop by the loss, was a victim of its own inefficiencies and a steadily-increasing barrage of Maine hits.

The pattern was set in the first, when Conant spotted Maine three runs, and by the game's conclusion, the Warriors had 14 runs and 10 hits, seven of the runs and six of the hits in a nightmarish seventh inning.

VICTIM OF THE debacle was Conant's senior right-hander Dave Sander, who went the route while the world crumbled around him. Warrior southpaw Bill Gastorf also turned in a complete performance, and won less on his merit than on the fact that his teammates turned on the torrent of runs.

Conant reached Gastorf for eight hits, at least one in each inning, three by Sander alone and two by Dan Grueneich, as the senior center-fielder continued an amazing hitting streak through nine straight games, totaling 16 hits in 29 at bats in the process.

But with as many errors as hits, Conant could do nothing about containing MW. The agony began with one out in the first, when Tony Gyssler blooped a double into left. Two consecutive errors — one by shortstop Dick Helmer and one by right fielder Jim Garcia — scored Gyssler and put Rich Farias and Bob Banger on base. A Tom Kehe single up the middle made it 3-0 before Conant even came to bat.

CONANT CUT THAT to 3-1 in the third, but that was as close as the Cougars were to come. The run came on a Sander single, a fielder's choice by Al Heiman, a stolen base by Heiman, a Maine error and a run-scoring infield out by Helmer.

Maine ran it to 4-1 in the fourth, as Dick Manny walked, stole second, then scored as the Cougars threw the ball around trying to stop him on the bases. A walk to Kehe and a single by Pete Kulik scored another marker before that inning was out.

There were single Maine runs in the fifth and sixth, with three errors producing the first and two walks, a passed ball, a double steal and a throwing error the second.

THE SEVENTH was one of those innings that seemed to never end, and certainly couldn't soon enough for Sander. Thirteen Warriors went to the plate, four of them getting walks and six —Harry Tistle, Bruce Kaechele, Kulik, Gyssler, Farias and Banger — punching out hits. Tistle's was a double, and Gyssler's a three-run home run that eluded two Conant outfielders. The pathetic thing — from Sander's viewpoint — is that the flood began after two were out.

Conant, meantime, was getting a run an inning from the third through the seventh, simply not enough under the circumstances. A home run by sophomore Bill Nuyttens — a towering drive down the left field line taking advantage of the gusty winds that raked the game — provided the second marker.

The third came as Sander doubled, went to third on Heiman's infield out, and scored on the same from sub Greg Nelson.

In the sixth, reserve outfielder Jerry Allen tripled and came in on John Fabing's infield out.

And in the seventh, a single by Grueneich — his second hit of the game — set up a run. He went to second on a wild pitch and scored when substitute shortstop Phil Murdock booted Dennis Shaw's ground ball. But a more colossal rally than that was needed, for the Cougars were trampled out of sight, and Maine —which has never finished lower than first in its three-year MSL membership — was king again.

On Singles Sweep

Falcon Netmen Tip Pirates 3-2

Singles made the difference . . .

Forest View's tennis team swept all three singles matches from Palatine last Thursday. Those wins gave FV a 3-2 meet victory.

Getting Falcons off to a good start was Rich Gillespie. He stopped the Pirates Art Pierce 8-6, 6-2 in first singles. That outcome pushed Gillespie's season record to 8-8.

At number two singles the winner was Jim Buckholz. His mark became 12-4 with a three set, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3 comeback over Andy Burtis. Howie Brasch evened his standard at 8-8 with a 6-2, 6-1 triumph over John Kjos in third singles.

PALATINE CAPTURED both doubles bouts.

Scott Rose and John Gustafson won first doubles for the Pirates. They turned back Rich Zapfel and Ernie Troutman 9-7, 6-3. A combination of Scooter Smith and Gordon Hominick topped Bob Glaser and Mike Gersie 7-5, 6-4 in second doubles.

That meet put the team record for coach Rog Steingraber's FV unit at 9-7. At the same time, Palatine, under headman Doug Polman, slipped to 6-5.

At the frosh-soph level Forest View also took three singles matches plus a doubles encounter and beat the Pirates 4-1. The Falcons' record became 8-8, Palatine 5-6, with that outcome.

JIM MUSGRAVE took first singles for FV with a 6-3, 6-4 triumph over Al Smart. That was Musgrave's 12th win against only four losses this season.

In second singles Dave Erickson won 6-2, 6-0 and became 8-5 for the year. Erickson bested Frank Kaiser. It took three sets before Gordon Folkman topped Paul Wallin 2-6, 6-4, 8-6 in third singles. Folkman's record was upped to 8-7.

Doug Mueller and Pete Upton were the Pirates' first double team. They fell to the Falcons' frosh-soph pair Mike Kinneman and Tim Ebel 6-4, 6-2. Salvaging one meet point for Palatine were Russ Ritchie and Mark Dreyfus with a 6-4, 6-4 win over Terry Budz and Brian Finch.

Cards Top Two Soph Net Foes

Showing promise for the future, Arlington's frosh-soph tennis team toppled two Suburban League adversaries last week.

Coach Bob Knilans' Cardinals handled Waukegan, 4-1, and New Trier, 3½ to 1½.

Arlington suffered its only loss in second singles against Waukegan.

Bob Gallagher (6-4, 12-10) and Chuck Gibbel (6-3, 12-10) gained singles triumphs against the Bulldogs.

In doubles John Harmon and Bob Crockett posted a 6-2, 6-4 win in the No. 1 position, and Ken Jorgensen and Dennis Conrad came through, 6-1, 6-3, in the second spot.

In the match with New Trier the Cards swept both doubles tests. Paul Stevens and Bill Stelling won in the No. 1 position, 6-1, 6-1, and Crockett and Harmon scored a 6-1, 6-2 victory in second doubles.

In singles Gallagher whipped Bob Drake, 6-2, 6-2 in No. 1, and Gibbel split two sets with Miles Harris in No. 3 falling 4-6 and then winning 6-1. Jorgensen won an exhibition match, 6-2, 6-4.

Maine West Beats Prospect Net Unit

It was only their third defeat.

Prospect's tennis team lost to Maine West on Tuesday. The meet score was 3-2 as the Knights record became 11-3 for the season.

Glen Morton lost first singles for coach Chuck Sandine's Prospect entry. He was downed by MW's Gus Herrero 6-1, 6-1. Herrero, a transfer student from South America, has only lost twice this season.

In second singles Craig Wolf picked up a point for the Knights. He set down Dennis Doyle in a three setter 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Wolf became 14-2 for the season.

In first doubles Jeff Long and Tom Johnson got their 10th win of the year for Prospect against only four setbacks. They downed Tom Martin and Ed Challberg 6-2, 6-3. That tied the meet 2-2 but there was defeat at second doubles.

Doug Heitzman and Chuck Hengels were the Knights' second doubles entry. It took three sets but Maine's Larry Scully and Don Clark finally beat them 3-6, 6-2, 7-5 to wrap up the MW triumph.

At the frosh-soph level Prospect also lost. The score there was 4-1 as the Knights' season mark became 7-7.

Only winner for the younger Prospect netmen was Chuck Hughson. He took second singles 6-0, 6-1. In other singles bouts Dave Johnson was topped 7-5, 7-5 and Dan Collins was edged 3-6, 6-4, 7-5.

Bob Skrysak and Bill Wichmann fell in a three set first doubles match for the Knights 10-12, 6-4, 6-4. In second doubles Craig Weber and Jim Schisser were beaten 6-4, 6-2.

Dynamic Duo

Last year Billy Williams and Ron Santo hit 40—an even 20 apiece—of the Chicago Cubs' 79 home runs in Wrigley field.

Warriors Lose To Wildcats Golf Unit

Wheeling golfers are now four times better than they were last season.

In 1965 the 'Cats links outfit captured only one dual meet. On Monday, when they defeated Maine West 345-367, the 'Cats gained their fourth win of 1966.

LEADING WHEELING, now 4-8 for the year, in its victory over MW, was Bob Boenig. Boenig was low man in the meet with a 41-41—82 over 18 holes.

Steve Poulos and Dave Quirsfeld were next best for coach Jack Berry's winners. Both had 86. Poulos total came on nines of 46-40 and 42-44 nines gave Quirsfeld his score. Dick Fontecchio was fourth man with a 47-44—91.

Playing but not counting for the 'Cats was Al Eisenstein with a 96.

Dick Merk led Maine West. He posted a 45-41—86. Teammate Dave Grutzius had a 44-44—88 while Ken Helfers had a 49-46—95 and Dave Krowka a 52-46—98. Fifth man for the Warriors was Larry Coffman with a 49-51—100.

AT THE FROSH-SOPH level Wheeling also turned in a triumph. The younger 'Cats turned back MW 198-216 to level their record at 6-6.

Craig Saar was best for the younger winners. He had a 48 in the nine hole meet. Mike Stoik had a 49 for Wheeling while Greg Turner had a 50, Jeff Sorensen a 51 and fifth man Dennis Klocke a 57.

Best for the losing Warriors frosh-sophs was Jim Reed's 50.

Lions' Netters Suffer 3-2 Loss

Singles players John Allare and Bill Gordon gave St. Viator High School its only two points last week in non-conference tennis competition with Glenbrook North.

The Spartans of Northbrook emerged with a 3-2 team victory.

Allare, working in first singles, came through with a 2-6, 6-4,6-0 victory, and Gordon triumphed 3-6, 6-4, 6-0 in the No. 2 position.

Bowing for the Lions were singles player Herve LeGentil and the doubles teams of John Lavigne and Greg Leydig and Tim Plesko and Greg Sidor.(SP

On Grueneich Blasts

Cougars' Nine Edges FV 3-2

Extreme economy was employed by Conant in its 3-2, eight inning, baseball victory over Forest View last Wednesday (May 18).

The Cougars got their trio of runs on only four hits. Two in the sixth tied the score 2-2 and one base knock in the eighth brought triumph.

Leading the "no wasted motions" drive for coach Lynn Crouch's winners was Dan Grueneich. He batted in all Conant's runs with a homer and single while upping his mid-Suburban League average to .348.

Eight hits were collected by the Falcons, including three singles by Hank Tasche and two RBI singles by Dennis Lynch. However, headman Hal Sprehe's nine left 10 on base and had four runners cut down on mental errors.

AS A RESULT of the diamont contest the Cougars moved into a fifth place M-SL deadlock with Forest View. Both became 3-5 in the league. Over-all, Conant had its record put at 5-9 and FV stood at 7-9.

Marty Fontana opened on the mound for the Falcons. Through the first five innings he gave up only one hit. That was a bunt single by Al Heiman in the third. Going into the bottom of the sixth Fontana and Forest View were on top 2-0.

Then, Heiman got a tying rally underway by being nipped by a Fontana delivery. Grueneich was next to the plate. He found a pitch to his liking and blasted it into faraway left center for his round tripper. Dick Helmer followed with a bunt single but Fontana bore down and retired the next three men.

Al Ramsey was the Cougars hurler. Though the tally was even after six at 2-2 he was in trouble during almost every frame.

IN THE FIRST Wally Zim- double but was out because he hadn't touched first. The Falcons went on to load the bases and not score. A single by Jim Meier was wasted in the second.

Bob Urban walked to lead off the third. He stole second but was out at third trying to advance on a passed ball. After a fly out Dan Smith walked. Smith and Conant first sacker Kim Grant then argued over territorial rights around the bag and both were ejected.

Bill King ran for Smith and Bob Warder replaced Grant.

A single by Tasche moved King to third and Lynch's single sent home the game's first run. After singling in the fourth, Tom Govderica was picked off base. With two outs in the fifth Dave Worth walked and Tasche and Lynch came through with singles making the score 2-0.

After Grueneich's blow tied it in the sixth, neither side put a man on in the seventh.

BEGINNING FV'S top of the eighth Tasche got his third hit of the game but was out for flipping off his protective helmet on the way to first. After Lynch bounced out Meier singled to center. Ending the threat, Govderica grounded to second.

First man up in the bottom of the eighth was pinch hitter John Fabing. He walked, Fontana was removed and Rick Henderson came in to throw for the Falcons. When Heiman bunted, Henderson's toss to second bounced off Govderica's glove and runners were on second and third.

Grueneich's single to left scored Fabing and won the game.

Ramsey fanned six and walked five in his route going job. He put his Mid-Suburban League personal record at 2-2. In his only conference decision of the year Fontana struck out nine, walked three and became 2-2 overall.

Win Behind Allen, 11-2

Cardinal Nine Splits In League Twin-Bill

Arlington High School's second varsity baseball victory of 1966 resembled its first.

Both triumphs were featured by lusty hitting.

The Cardinals clubbed Niles East in a non-conference fray, 12-2, on May 5 and then thrashed league rival LaGrange last Saturday, 11-2.

Both triumphs featured route-going performances by junior right hander Steve Allen.

Allen allowed only two hits, striking out four and walking six against Niles East. He allowed three hits Saturday, striking out six and walking two.

ARLINGTON'S conquest of LaGrange came in the second half of a doubleheader with the Lions nipping the Cards and luckless lefty Bob Young in the opener, 4-3.

Young has pitched some creditable baseball this spring but has an 0-6 record to show for his toiling.

A long, leadoff home run in the first inning by Tom LeStarge got things started for Coach Fran Somers' Cards in the second game Saturday, and Arlington scored in each of the first five frames with a six-run salvo in the fourth.

LeSTARGE'S SACRIFICE fly brought home Joe Nastal with the second run in the second, and Nastal doubled in Brad Somers with the third marker in the third.

The Cards put the decision out of reach in the fourth with six runs on five hits. Doug Fink slammed a homer to right-center and Somers tripled in two runs for the big blows.

In the fifth with two outs Nastal reached and singles by Bruce Weber and pinch hitter Mark Frase led to the Cards' final two runs.

LaGrange tallied a pair in the fourth off Allen on two walks and a double that was lost in the sun.

IN THE OPENER Saturday the Cards pushed over one run in the fourth on a single by Somers, stolen base, and throwing error, but LaGrange retaliated with four to climb into a 4-1 lead.

Two singles, one a ball lost in the sun again, and two triples figured in the Lion explosion against Young.

The Cards fought back with two runs in the sixth on a walk to Hecht, double by Thad Woodard in which pinch runner Paul Parish was thrown out at the plate on a disputed call, sacrifice fly by Jim Jorgensen, triple by Somers, and error.

In the seventh Arlington threatened when Frase singled, but pinch runner Allen was caught in a run down on a missed bunt. After a walk to Weber a strikeout checked the final Card threat.

Somers, the junior outfielder, had four hits in the doubleheader for Arlington. LeStarge collected three as he hiked his season mark to .317 for 41 at bats.

With the split Arlington emerged with a 1-10 West Suburban Conference mark with one game remaining against Hinsdale and two against Riverside-Brookfield.

Waste Regional Chances

Knights Blanked 2-0 By Glenbrook's Nine

by MICHAEL HESS

When opportunity knocks, someone should answer. Prospect didn't. Glenbrook North did.

Four times last Wednesday the Knights baseball crew put runners on third base. But, those chances were wasted and coach Chuck Aldrich's nine didn't score.

Opponent GN took advantage of two chances in the regional diamond affair. The Spartans parlayed three scratch singles, a balk and a misjudged fly ball into two runs.

Glenbrook used its opportunities to beat Prospect 2-0.

PAUL BRUBAKER and Ken Kozil were the Spartans' hurlers. Through six frames Brubaker held on to a shutout, fanning 10 and walking only two. Then, after the Knights had men on second and third with no one out in the seventh, Kozil came in to retire three straight and wrap up the triumph.

On the mound for Prospect was J. D. Thorne. He struck out three, walked two and picked up his third defeat against five wins in his route going performance.

First chance for the Knights came in the first when, with one out, Thorne tripled to deep right center. Tom Lundstedt then bounced to Brubaker, Thorne was caught in a run down and finally tagged out at the plate.

Dave Kingman singled to left to open Prospect's second. He stole second and went to third on Clyde Whitcomb's sacrifice. However, Brubaker bore down and whiffed Vince Franzone and Rick Lott on just seven pitches to end the threat.

AFTER A THREE up, three down third the Knights, Lundstedt got the first of his two hits, a bouncing single to left to start the fourth. A passed ball and wild pitch sent Lundstedt to third and Don Whitlock walked. Kingman missed a third strike for the first out.

Next up was Whitcomb who bounced to short. Lundstedt held third as Whitlock was forced. Franzone missed a third strike closing the frame.

Going into the bottom of the fourth Thorne hadn't allowed Glenbrook one hit. After a good catch by Bob Robinson in right center to open the frame, the Spartans, Don Piggot dropped a soft liner into left for his team's initial bingle. A balk pushed Piggot to second and he scored on Ray Larsen's bloop single to left.

Lott led off Prospect's fifth with a single but was cut down trying to steal. Robinson struck out and Maury Gallagher bounced to second sending the game to the bottom of the fifth.

WITH ONE away, Brubaker made first for GN as his pop up fell in right. He was sacrificed to second. Denny Jacob was next to the plate and he raised a long fly which dropped for a double to left when fielder Whitlock got a late start on the ball.

The score was 2-0.

Lundstedt's single and a walk to Kingman gave the Knights two runners in the sixth but they were stranded. Glenbrook also left two on in the bottom of the sixth when Burke Krohe and Bob Youngberg grounded out after Larsen and Bill Zarit had singled.

Prospect's last chance came in the top of the seventh. Franzone reached first on an error, Lott was hit by a pitch and both moved up on a wild delivery to the plate. There were no outs as Dwayne Davis came up to bat for Robinson.

BRUBAKER WORKED the count to 1-2 on the pinch hitter. Then Davis fouled off five straight pitches. At that point GN coach Bob Watt decided Brubaker had had enough and brought in his ace, Kozil.

Kozil's first delivery was low but Davis swung and missed and there was one out. Gallagher had a 3-2 count before he also swung and missed and there were two outs. Then Thorne came up, took one strike, bounced to second and the game was over.

Not answering the knock of opportunity eliminated the Knights from the tourney and left them with a 9-7 over-all record. Glenbrook's opportunists advanced to the regional final where they met Palatine (see separate story).

After 5-0 Defeat

'Cats Netmen Take 3-2 Win

Third win in history—that's what Wheeling's tennis team picked up last week.

One year ago the 'Cats net entry won only one meet and, until one week ago, they had won only one more. Then last Thursday came number three.

Against a team from Elgin-Larkin the charges of coach Ted Ecker lost the first two singles matches. However, Wheeling came back, took third singles and both doubles and turned in a 3-2 triumph.

Tony Martin was the Wildcats first singles entry. He was downed 2-6, 6-2, 6-2. Second singles competition found Walt Krier being topped on 6-1, 7-5 tallies. began the aboutface. He stomped his third singles opponent 6-1, 6-0. That was Stanowski's first singles match victory of the year.

Continuing Wheeling's drive from behind, Barry Christensen and Carl Meisenheimer ended on top in first doubles on 6-2, 6-2 totals. The meet was tied 2-2 before Fred Patton and Dave Liu provided the clincher on 6-3, 6-3 scores in second doubles.

Earlier in the week the 'Cats had been blanked by Highland Park 5-0.

Against HP Martin was beaten 6-3, 6-2 while Stanowski fell 8-6, 6-3 and Krier was stopped 6-0, 6-4. Steve Groot and Ed Graves lost first doubles 6-2, 6-2 and the Patton-Liu combination was beaten 7-9, 6-3, 6-2 in second doubles.

THE SPLIT GAVE Wheeling a 2-10 varsity record for 1966.

At the frosh-soph level there were two wins. The younger 'Cats netmen shut out E-L 5-0 and turned back Highland Park 4-1 to up their season mark to 10-2.

Jim Cuca took both F-S first singles matches for Wheeling. He won 6-0, 6-3 against Elgin-Larkin and 6-2, 6-1 against HP. Cuca raised his personal season record to 8-1 with the victories.

DAVE STANOWSKI
1st Win in 3rd Win

An 8-2 standard was owned by second singles performer Scott Decker after he won 6-0, 6-0 from E-L and lost 6-3, 6-2 in his second match. Tom Kreis became 10-1 with a pair of triumphs, 6-0, 6-2 and 6-0, 6-3.

BOTH FROSH-SOPH doubles teams won twice for Wheeling. Bill Reinhardt and Reid Hansen took 6-1, 6-2 and 6-3, 6-4 decisions. Ron Kensli and Dan DenBeste took an easy 6-0, 6-0 win before capturing a much more difficult 10-8, 1-6, 6-4 marathon.

Second Week Headliner

Sheridan Handicap Tops Arlington Card

Three-year-old colts and gelding will battle it out in Saturday's $25,000 added Sheridan Handicap, highlight of the second week of racing at Arlington Park.

Many of the nation's top sophomore sprinters are all but ready to contest the Sheridan, one of the longwithstanding races in Chicagoland, including Scottdale Farms' Better Sea, Everett Lowrance's He Jr., Llangollen Farms' Pretense, O. W. Cox' Gypsy Ben, Mrs. Ethel Haffa's Rom o'Nello, Grand Prix Stable's B. Golden, and Donald Crump's Duc D'Eclair, among others.

All of the above sophomores are nominees to the Mid-America Twin, comprising the $100,000 added Arlington Classic June 25 and the $100,000 added American Derby Aug. 6.

BETTER SEA, an Illinois-bred son of Better Bee—Sea Puss, scored a smashing four-lengths triumph in the $50,000 added Arkansas Derby at Oaklawn Park April 22, and has shown rapid improvement this season.

The bay gelding is very versatile, and able to either go directly to the fore and stay there or come from far behind. Jockey John Sellers, who successfully handled the assignment in the Arkansas Derby, may again get the call in the irons.

One of the last season's leading juveniles, He Jr. enjoyed many fine afternoons in 1965 at Arlington Park, winning the Joliet and Freshman Stakes, finishing second in the Hyde Park, and third in the Arch Ward, all with superlative efforts. The colt, by Everett Jr.—O. Gay, also triumphed in the Lafayette and Bashford Manor in Kentucky and his over-all efforts were worth a whopping $85,249.

HE JR. ONLY finished out of the money twice in 18 appearances last season, and has continued where he left off, winning three events before making the journey to Chicago, including a pair of allowances and an overnight handicap.

Six furlongs has been the steed's best distance throughout his career, and Jack Fieselman will no doubt do the saddle work. He Jr. was bred in Oklahoma at owner Lowrance's spacious ranch.

Pretense was a romping five-length winner at Arlington Park on opening day, stopping the clock in 1:09 2/5 for the six panels. The son of Endeavour II went unraced as a juvenile, but has now bagged three victories, along with a pair of runner-up finishes and a third in six starts.

GYPSY BEN, who took six of his first seven outings this season, is a former claimer, who has suddenly become a star. The Arkansas-bred chestnut only managed two victories in 14 outings last year, but has shown an about face this spring.

And Cox claimed the gelding for $7,000 at Oaklawn Park in March, after which he has continued to prove successful in allowances and overnight handicap events. Danny Sanchez, a newcomer to Arlington Park, will take care of the riding chores.

After showing signs of promise last summer locally, Rom O' Nello has developed into a steady campaigner under the careful training of T. W. Kelley. The colt's most notable achievement this year was a two length victory over Better Sea in an allowance at Gulfstream Park over seven furlongs.

Gaining national recognition after a second place finish to the great, but now retired Graustark, Duc D' Eclair is a hard-knocking sprinter, who prefers to go directly to the front and stay there. The son of Duc de Fer posted six triumphs in 10 starts last season, and has registered a pair of wins, four seconds and two thirds in eight outings this year, including a runner-up in the Kentucky Derby trial to Exhibitionist.

BOWLING PROSPERITY is reflected on the face of Mary Lou Anderson of Palatine, as she accepts a check for $100.00 from Al Jordan, manager of Rolling Meadows Bowl. The check was her prize from the Bowling Proprietors' Association for bowling a splendid 276 game, including 10 strikes, in the Thursday Night Women's League at Rolling Meadows Bowl. Mrs. Anderson is the wife of Chic Anderson, recently-appointed varsity basketball coach at Conant High School.

JUST DOGS

Dog Poisoner—

Dog owners who allow their pets to roam at will are subjecting them to a great number of dangers, one of which is the menace of the dog poisoner. Although some people believe that a dog is happier when allowed to run loose, the facts are that dogs are healthier and much happier under supervision, and this comes from the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York.

The threat presented by the dog poisoners is unfortunately very real. In the spring and summer months they account for a number of fatalities among dogs and other household pets. Few of the killers are caught. Those who are are usually neighborhood cranks who don't like animals and have a grudge against their owners. Often they are people who feel that if they don't care for dogs no one else should have the pleasure of owning one.

The responsibility of owning a dog includes protection of the animal from conditions beyond his control and comprehension. A dog can be taught not to pick up or eat anything away from the house or feeding area. This would cut down the risk of poisoning or illness due to eating spoiled or otherwise contaminated food or refuse.

If you fear your dog has been poisoned, call a veterinarian at once. The symptoms to look for are: nervousness, gasping for breath, stiffening of the limbs, increased heartbeat and pulse. Should you be unable to reach your veterinarian immediately, cause the dog to vomit. This can be done by giving equal parts of hydrogen peroxide (3 per cent) and water, two tablespoons for each 10 pounds of the dog's weight. A couple of teaspoons of salt on the back of his tongue will also cause vomiting.

After the stomach is emptied, give egg whites or milk, however, the most important thing is to get him to the veterinarian as soon as possible.

His Own Place—

Teaching a young puppy from the very start to go to his own place is a valuable asset when he grows up. It keeps him from underfoot when you are busy, and keeps him from pestering visitors who may not like a lot of enthusiastic attention. Besides, it will give him a feeling of security to have a spot of his own.

If he picks one out from the start, perhaps under a table or behind a chair, put an old rug or blanket folded up in the spot. He will get to know this as home port and will use it as his place to take a rest. Remember, when he goes to his own place for a nap or a rest, respect his right to be undisturbed.

Barks & Bays—

Tracing back in history, the Ibizan Hound, which dates to 2000 B.C., is believed to be the oldest of all breeds of dogs.

Beverly Golfers Hike League Lead

A rain-out only helped the leaders to become stronger in the St. Colette Golf League.

F. J. Die Mold moved from 3rd place to 2nd by whipping Harris Steel 4½ to 1½. Phil Jarczyk played his usual sterling brand of golf and posted a 44-11-33 to beat Bill Rademacher and take the low individual net. Bob Wirth also won his match while Phil Pryby squeezed a tie out of his opponent.

Beverly Lanes increased their lead by downing Quadriga Mfg. Co. 4½ to 1½. Jim Houldsworth and Herb Nauman each won their match for Beverly while Bill Mueller came up with a tie. Oscar Dolleslager scored the tally for Quadriga's team. Even Bill Kohnke's 60-23-37 was not good enough for the low individual net. Bill was edged out by Herb Nauman's 50-14-36.

Jim's Service and Imprinting Service battled to a 3-3 tie. Brilliant golf by Jim Niesen and Tom Schramm accounted for Jim's points while the Imprinters moved into the scoring column on wins by Gene Folkes and John Gens. Folkes also took one more point with a 43-9-34 low net.

Mitchell DeBurring became a contender in the tight race by taking 4 opints from the cellar dwelling Clark Brass. Syl Seick and Rod Peltier of Mitchell each turned in winning scores over John Bryant and Bill Hickey. Chet Mrozek and John DiFatta accounted for Clark's Tally.

Girder Process eked out a 4 to 3 victory over C. P. Floor & Tile to cling to second place in the standings. Kelly, Sr. was the big gun in this struggle as he racked up two big points for his team with a sparkling round of 37-2-35 to lead the league for low gross.

Rodewald Dairy climbed into third place due mainly to the fine play of No. 3 man, Len Dunteman, who accounted for two of the points in the Dairy boys lopsided 7 to 0 win over Prospect Heights Pharmacy. Ziggy Powell helped Webber Paint maintain their fourth place position, only 4½ points behind the league leaders, with a fine round of 40-5-35 to tie Clancy Kelly for low net honors.

'Y' Golfers Get Break In Weather

After two "rainouts" out of the first three nights of the 1966 season, the Northwest Suburban YMCA Golf League finally got the weather it has been looking for.

With the exception of one or two "bright lights," however, the golf scores didn't reflect the background.

The standouts would have to include Wally Busch, who is now the season's low gross leader with a sparkling 38. Together with his current nine handicap, this also put him in the low net leader's circle with a 29.

Second low gross leader with a 42 was Art King . . . a tie with Dick Dixon. Other low net leaders for the evening were Bart Kenny and Frank Krebs, both with 34's.

Also reflecting the early-season "rough" play was the fact that only one birdie was recorded . . Jack Barry's three on the 8th hole.

On Hitters Day

Maine East Rocks Cards

by BOB FRISK

The hitters had a ball, but the pitchers didn't enjoy the afternoon that much last Thursday as Maine East clubbed Arlington, 10-6, in a West Suburban Conference encounter.

Eight pitchers toiled on the mound and yielded 22 hits in the offensive show that saw both coaches employ frequent substitutions.

Arlington's Fran Somers was forced to utilize five pitchers over seven innings, and only one, lefty Bob Young who worked the seventh, escaped without allowing a run.

JIM BRESSLER started on the hill for the Cards and after two effortless innings the senior right hander ran into some problems, finally yielding to Steve Allen in the fourth.

Allen was followed by John Shartle, Steve Williams, and Young.

Arlington held a 1-0 lead for two innings before visiting Maine solved Bressler's slants in the third. The Blue Demons pounced on Jim for four hits and four runs.

MAINE ADDED three more runs in the fourth before Allen, who relieved Bressler with no outs, could knock down the side.

The Blue Demons punched over two more in the fifth with Wally Pollack's booming triple to left the big blow and tallied a singleton in the sixth.

After scoring one in the first on a single by Bob Hecht, wild pitch, and error, the Cardinals were silent until the fourth. With two outs Bruce Weber walked, rode to second on Tom LeStarge's infield single, to third on a wild pitch, and home on Joe Nastal's hit to right.

THAD WOODARD came across in the fifth after rapping a two-out single, and the Cards enjoyed a three-run seventh with eight men parading to the plate.

Paul Parish, Vaughn Strong, Doug Fink, Jim Jorgensen, and Weber had hits in the seventh inning uprising with two strikeouts finally checking the side.

Although Arlington pounded out ten hits third baseman Hecht was the only Card getting more than one. Bob had singles in the first and third.

Lose League Lead

'Cats Bounced By Warriors 9

by MICHAEL HESS

For Wheeling it was a game best forgotten.

Last Thursday the 'Cats nine met Maine West. After one inning MW led 4-0. After two MW led 5-1. After three MW led 11-1. The final was 11-5.

The contest was nothing but bad news for Wheeling.

Due to their setback the 'Cats were knocked from a first place tie in Mid-Suburban League standings. They had entered the tilt knotted with Maine at 5-3 atop the conference pile.

LOSING ALSO meant the 'Cats couldn't finish the year as a .500 ball club. Their over-all record was lowered to 6-9-1 and they had just one more battle left on the 1966 schedule.

In defeat the 'Cats allowed more runs than at any other time this season. And, though the Warriors banged out eight hits to win, their showing on offense was greatly aided by eight walks and four errors.

Amid the gloom only Dan DeVito, John Hittman and Scott Bischoff provided any Wheeling bright spots.

DeVito blasted a solo homer in the second and single in the fourth. He had two RBI's and two runs scored. Hittman cracked a three run homer in the fourth. Bischoff turned in some stout relief hurling and blanked Maine over the final three frames.

SKIP GRANDT began on the 'Cats mound. He took the loss, his third against no wins. Maine West reached Grandt for a walk, a triple, another walk and a homer for four markers in the first. A walk, error and single produced another run in the second. Three singles, three stolen bases, three errors, two walks and a sacrifice fly gave Maine its six run third.

Bischoff took over for Grandt during the horrendous third. Over the last three frames he permitted only two hits, two walks and no runs. Bischoff fanned four.

Wheeling's offensive moves came in the second and fourth. DeVito lifted a drive into the 40 mph winds in the second and it traveled to deep center for a homer. Bob Krug's single, Jeff Powell's walk, DeVito's single and Hittman's round-tripper to far away right gave the 'Cats four runs in the fourth.

Bill Gastorf was pitching for Maine. He went all the way and, except for some brief faltering, turned in a strong performance. Gastorf fanned seven, walked four and sent his league record to 4-1. In his first outing against Wheeling he had struck out 17 and at least he didn't approach that figure again.

THAT WAS THE game. For Wheeling it wasn't one to remember.

For the Knights the setback was number six of the outdoor campaign. Headman Dick Calisch's crew is 3-13-1 for the combined indoor-outdoor competition.

For their triumph over Prospect the Wildcats picked up nine of 15 first places. Only individual to take two of those first was Bob Bromley who led the high hurdles in :15.3 and the lows in :20.7. Bromley has won hurdles events seven times outdoors.

JIM LEMERANDE and Tom Nelson won field events for Wheeling. Lemerande took first in the discus while Nelson topped 11 feet, 6 inches to take the pole vault. Prospect's vault specialist Phil Cordina was out with an injury.

In the 100, 220, mile and two mile the 'Cats also ended first. Bill Lytle took the 100 in :10.6 while Jim Bowker was best, in :23.2, in the 220, Paul Fiegen won the mile in 4:35.6 and Andy Black the two mile in 11:07.0.

Last first for Wheeling went to the 880 relay team of Bowker, Lonnie Davis, Mike Guiney and Tom Johann.

Vaughn Pederson and Leroy Rateike led the Knights. Pederson won the 440 in :51.8 while Rateike was taking the broad jump on a leap of 19 feet, 5 inches. Pederson and Rateike then teamed with Chuck Schwabe and Bob Hines to finish ahead in the mile relay.

JACK POLLARD, Doug White and Bruce McQuilken captured the remainder of Prospect firsts. Pollard's 2:00 was best in the 880 while White's heave of 41 feet, 9 inches led the shot put and a leap of 5 feet, 4 inches by McQuilken paced the high jumpers.

At the frosh-soph level Wheeling also won. The 'Cats sent their indoor-outdoor record to 16-2 by coming in in front 88-39.

Mike Mitchell paced the lower level winners. He was first in the high hurdles, high jump and broad jump. Mitchell, a freshman, has won nine times in different events during the outdoor season.

Other double winners for Wheeling were Stu Oakley and John Grund. Oakley took the 100 yard dash and pole vault while Grund was beating the field in the discus and shot put.

BEST FOR THE younger Knights thinclads was Steve Holmes. He took the mile for the seventh time outdoors and the 880 also for the seventh time since outdoor competition began.

Stu Oakley, Tom Johann and Mike Mitchell led Wheeling to its second place finish.

OAKLEY WON the pole vault, with the bar at 11 feet, 9 inches, and the 100, in :10.5, both meet record performances. Johann set another record with a brilliant :15.2 in the high hurdles while taking second in the lows in :21.1.

Mitchell won the broad jump with an 18 foot, 4 inch leap and was second in high jump at 5 feet, 6 inches.

The last first taken by the team. Oakley and Johann combined with Dan Uhrik and Clay Gallimore to end ahead in :49.1.

FOREST VIEW was second in the invitational. The Falcons had five firsts and 65 points. In third, with four firsts and 44 points, was Conant while Ridgewood had 32 points, Fenton 14 and Stevenson 13 to complete the field.

FIRST IN THE high hurdles went to FV's Mike Messer with a time of :16.4. Messer was also fourth in the lows in :23.3. Last top spot for the Falcons went to the 880 relay clocked in 1:39.5.

Dom Furio paced Conant to third place. He won the 100 in :10.8 and the broad jump with a leap of 19 feet, 7½ inches. A 10:40.2 timing gave first in the two mile to the Cougars Sam Burns while Tom Toronyi, at 10 feet, was the pole vault leader.

Seconds for Forest View went to Joe Branka, with a 2:12.3 in the 880 and Bob Savage, with a :55.8 in the 440. DEAR NEIGHBOR:

YOUR HANDS CAN DO A SPECIAL KIND OF JOB FOR US. As a prominent electronics manufacturer, we are now ready to start production on another new and fascinating product at our recently acquired ultra modern plant.

However, before the wheels can start rolling, "careful hands" will be needed to do light interesting work with small clean metal and plastic parts.

The very nature of our product requires controlled comfortable working conditions. The end result is, of course, a quality product which in turn symbolizes the pride and effort put forth in its manufacture.

We invite your immediate application for the following openings and share with us this new experience.

For the Creative Cook

Food a la Thoreau

by MARY B. GOOD

Now I know how Thoreau made it at Waldon on an annual expenditure of less than $9 a year! Of course that was the 1840's, but still he purse-stringed a tight budget.

Like the pioneering souls who came before us, we can get to know the green grocer of the vacant lot, the supermarket of the swamp and the pantry of the prairie.

Oh, some pseudo-sophisticates may snicker up their sleeves at me and say, "Why go tramping around getting dirty and fatigued, when I can buzz over to the shopping center market and pick up fruits and vegetables much more conveniently?"

BUT I THINK eating the food nature is offering us for the taking is a welcome change from the over-priced, tasteless, week-old, hothouse produce from Florida and California.

Anyone who has ever picked a pail of wild berries knows the joys of foraging. Anyone who has ever gone fishing with a cane pole and a can of worms can identify with the world of nature's bounty. I'm not advocating a return to neo-primitive living, only pointing up a diverting family recreation for enterprise more than economy for the same reason that camping has become so popular in recent years.

Have your taste buds ever reveled in the salivary delight of flower cookery? (This would include buds, stems, leaves, flowers, tubers, seeds and juice of plants). Food prejudices are not based on logic or reason, so don't knock it if you haven't tried it.

THE NUTRITIONAL value runs the gamut from vitamins A, B1, B2, C and more. And what good exercise the foraging provides!

Whole meals can be had on the innocuous and misunderstood dandelion, for instance. Using only dandelion products and added seasonings, you might come up with this: dandelion crown salad, boiled and buttered (B & B) dandelion root, dandelion wine and finally steaming dandelion coffee.

Nelson Coon has some delightful recipies for flower cookery in his book, "Using Wayside Plants."

Other cultures have long ago discovered flower and plant cookery. Day lily buds have been used in Oriental cooking, sliced roots of the common burdock in sukiyaki. Indians and Persians have been using purslane in their diets for 2,000 years.

SEAWEED IS highly appreciated for its food value in Europe. It's more than likely you've eaten a form of seaweed yourself in the past week. Algin, a commercial product derived from seaweed, is widely used in the manufacture of ice cream, chocolate milk and jellied puddings.

Fruit soups are quite popular in the Scandanavian countries, but Americans are only now learning how much fruit soups can add to a meal.

Using wild sour cherries which were frozen for out-of-season use, Euell Gibbons, a prominent forager and author of "Stalking the Wild Asparagus" and "Stalking the Blue-Eyes Scallop" devised this recipe for fruit soup:

"WASH 1 QT. of unpitted cherries, then crush and pound them until the seeds are broken. Add 1 qt. of water and a pinch of salt, then simmer for 30 minutes. Put through a sieve to remove the skins and seeds, then return to the kettle and thicken with 2 tablespoons of potato flour. Simmer a few minutes more, then add sugar to taste. This can be served hot at the beginning of the meal or cold as dessert."

To fancy it up when serving cold, float a handful of pitted fresh cherries or a spoonful of sour cream on top of each bowl of soup.

Since a good cook is creative, the wife of a roadside connoisseur might prepare him a "wild menu" as a change from regular supermarket fare that might look something like this:

Breakfast: Cattail root pancakes with birch syrup or hopa crab jelly; chickory coffee.

Lunch: Bracken or ostrich fern boiled and sauteed and served on toast with a wined hollandaise sauce; woodland tea.

Dinner: Baked wapatoo tubers with herb butter; Japanese knotweed aspic salad; French fried day lily buds; for dessert: a choice of candied calamus root, mulberry candy or praline sauce over wild blueberry pudding; dandelion coffee and cherry bounce (an after-dinner cordial).

The epicurean appreciation of rare delicacies, sometimes found no more than a vacant lot away, contrasts the proletarian and the aristocratic palate.

For party time, small flowers can be frozen in ice cubes to accompany summery drinks.

AND IF YOU'RE looking for a really unusual creation to serve the ladies bridge group, there are tulips (pistils removed) stuffed with tuna fish or flower sandwiches using buttered brown bread with a filling of chopped marigolds, rose petals or geranium leaves.

Rose petals can also be used in puddings, ice cream, frosting, fruit salad and pound cake. Nasturtium stems are delightful in vegetable soup, violets in salad.

So when is the next foraging session for your family of gastronomes? Think the kids will sign up for the clean plate club?

Workshop Next For Gardeners

A demonstration workshop entitled "Nature's Bonus" is in store for members of Countryside Garden Club on June 2. The 8 p.m. meeting takes place in Salt Creek Rural Park District building, 530 S. Williams, Palatine.

Mrs. Hugh Crowe will conduct the demonstration. She is a nationally accredited flower show judge, teaches adult classes in flower arranging at Evanston High School and has her certificate from Ikenobo School of Floral Art.

Hostesses at the meeting will be Mrs. Donald Sanberg and Mrs. Merrill Wuerch.

Early Deadline

Because of the Memorial Day holiday, the deadline for all Suburban Living news for the June 2 issue will be tomorrow (Friday, May 27) noon rather than Monday noon. It would be appreciated if all persons and organizations wishing to submit releases for the June 2 issue would observe this deadline.

FASHION'S NEW FAVORITE, cotton voile, is translated into separates by Sportswear U.S.A. Slim pants in a many-colored print coordinate with a turquoise blouse, and the classically styled summer suit comes alive in this bright floral print. The suit is underscored with a turquoise shell. Both outfits are lined with yellow batiste.

Cotton Voile Goes Glamorous

Designers discovered the elegance of cotton voile and transformed it into a high fashion fabric, reports the National Cotton Council.

The whisper-weight cloth has been turned into fashionable trapeze dresses, scanty bikinis and stunning sportswear separates. For evening, there are the billowing party pajamas and the long, flowing evening gowns.

The colors and color combinations are as varied and versatile as the styles. Candy stripes, leopard prints, solid oranges and reds, muted, pastel florals and exotic, island-inspired prints win enthusiastic support from the top designers.

THE ELEGANCE of voile brings a bright, new look to classic styling. A traditional three-piece suit suddenly takes on dressed-up airs when executed in a vibrant floral print and underscored with a sleeveless shell in a coordinating solid.

While voile stands beautifully alone, it is equally effective when coupled with another cotton fabric. One designer combines a short evening dress in a printed cotton canvas with a man-tailored voile shirt in the same design. The airy quality of the voile contrasted with the heavier fabric adds a glamorous touch to a timely fashion.

Coupons Can Aid Retarded

Levinson: The People's Clinic

For a number of northwest suburban families, keeping the Dr. Julian D. Levinson Research Foundation in operation has become something of a crusade.

These are the parents whose children have benefited and are benefiting from the services provided by the facility for mentaliy retarded children.

Right now the Foundation, dependent upon private contributions, direly needs funds if it is to continue its free program of diagnosis and treatment, education and research.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Miller, 603 Fairview, Mount Prospect, are among those parents concerned about the Foundation's future because their son, John, is one of the 1,700 active cases currently being treated at the Foundation clinic.

THE MILLERS serve as acting leaders of the parents' auxiliary of Levinson Foundation, and whenever they are able, they also attend Foundation board meetings as parent representatives.

Organized last fall, the Levinson auxiliary is open to any parents whose youngster is registered at the Foundation and goes to its clinic in the Fantus Building of Cook County Hospital. Formerly the parents met in separate area groups but merged last fall at the suggestion of Mrs. Delilah White, executive administrator and chief psychologist.

The parents get together bimonthly at the Apollo Savings and Loan Building downtown for educational meetings. They've heard a panel from the Foundation, listened to experts like Dr. Arlene Allbright from Marquette University and seen films.

BESIDES LEARNING more about mental retardation and how to cope with it, the auxiliary is trying to raise funds to keep the treatment center going.

Major such project at the moment is the collection of the coupons from tops of General Mills products. For organizations such as the Levinson Foundation the food processing firm will redeem the coupons for cash instead of the usual premiums.

Every 20,000 coupons collected will net the Levinson auxiliary $100, and the group already is working toward its second 20,000, thanks to the enthusiastic leadership of the chairman, Mrs. Robert Jeronimus of 125 N. Warrington, Des Plaines. Parents of five children, Mrs. Jeronimus and her husband take their youngest, Janie, 16 months, to Levinson.

WHILE THERE are other institutions which help the mentally retarded, Levinson Clinic is the only one in Cook County that charges no fee. It was organized in 1950 by Dr. Abraham Levinson, a pioneer in the treatment of mentally retarded, in memory of his son, Dr. Julian D. Levinson. The young Dr. Levinson was a pediatrician whose career was cut short when he died at age 27.

Dr. Levinson, the founder, served as the Foundation's first medical director until his death in 1955.

The Cook County Hospital Department of Pediatrics furnishes the Foundation with office and clinic space and provides nurses and a social worker. Any Cook County resident may take his child to the Foundation for diagnosis and treatment, and once the youngster is registered, he may continue to come back for yearly follow-up consultations until he is 16.

WHEN A CHILD goes to Levinson the first time, he is given an examination to determine if he is retarded and if so, to what extent, in what areas, and if possible, the cause. He will also get whatever laboratory tests are deemed necessary, and for these, the Foundation may use all the other clinics in Cook County Hospital.

Next a consultation is held with the parents at which they are briefed on the medical and psychological findings in the tests. Present at this session will be the medical director, Dr. Sherman Kaplitz; Mrs. White, and others concerned with the case.

The parents will be guided as to what should be done about their child, and for some this may mean putting the youngster in an institution. But for those who are counseled to keep the child at home, it means help in making life meaningful for the youngster.

THAT'S WHY the Levinson parents are so concerned for its future.

"We're the people's clinic," said Mrs. White. "Most of these parents have no place else to go."

(Readers wishing to contribute coupons may send them to Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Jeronimus; Mrs. Jack Kelly, 102 Newton St., Roselle; Mrs. Ed Schulowitz, 269 N. Benton, Palatine.) (SF

MRS. ROBERT JERONIMUS, left, Des Plaines, and Mrs. Andrew Miller of Mount Prospect are delighted to find a 100-coupon ticket among the thousands of Betty Crocker coupons they're collecting to benefit the Dr. Julian D. Levinson Research Foundation and Clinic. The coupons will be exchanged for cash to help continue the services Levinson provides to mentally retarded children. Young John Miller appears as delighted as his mother over the find, while Janie Jeronimus is otherwise occupied. (Staff photo)

Coffee for GOP

DuPage County Federation of Women's Republican Clubs will have a coffee tomorrow (Friday) at 9 a.m. at which GOP candidates will be present.

Due to appear and speak briefly at the coffee at Elmhurst Legion Hall, Butterfield and Spring Roads, are Charles Percy, candidate for U. S. Senator; Harris Rowe, candidate for state treasurer; Ray Page, candidate for Illinois superintendent of public instruction, and Cong. John Erlenborn, candidate for re-election from the 14th District.

Candidates for DuPage County offices also will be present.

Catholic Charities Seeks Foster Homes

Good foster families are needed immediately to prevent a crisis in the field of child placement, the home-finding division of Catholic Charities reported recently.

Expressing concern over the shortage of qualified foster families, the Rev. Roger Coughlin, child care coordinator for Catholic Charities, said:

"A CHILD CAN grow to a sort of adulthood without ever having lived with a family. Like a disease, this family disorganization spread into all areas of society. . .there is no way to gauge the extent of the damage that's done.

"Ideally, any child needs a lifetime of normal, healthy family experiences in which to grow, but if something happens to prevent that, any period of time with a good, healthy family is better than none at all."

In spite of much publicity, said Charlotte Lepack, supervisor of the homefinding division, many potentially good foster families never call the department.

"THE BEST foster families are those with healthy, normal children already in them, yet some people persist in thinking that a family with three or four children would not qualify for a foster child," she explained.

Room, board, medical, dental and educational expenses are paid for by Catholic Charities. Catholic homes are needed for children from three months to 16 years. Persons interested in learning more may call CEntral 6-5172.

Mrs. Donald Lloyd Heads Sherman Hospital Group

A $40,000 check in the form of an X-ray illuminated on an X-ray viewer brought a burst of applause at the May 18 awards banquet of Sherman Hospital Auxiliary. The check represented the auxiliary's contribution to the hospital for the year.

Taking over the office of auxiliary president is Mrs. Donald Lloyd of Roselle. She was installed after the dinner at Pheasant Run Lodge and was also honored for her record of 1,100 hours of service to patients in the hospital.

MRS. LLOYD, a mother of four children, is past president of the Roselle branch of the auxiliary, a former president of the auxiliary council and past chairman of the nurse's scholarship committee. She is a regular volunteer at the hospital, giving one day a week in the obstetrics department.

She has her nursing degree from Evangelical Hospital, Chicago, and completed post-graduate study in obstetrical nursing at Margaret Hague Maternity Hospital, Jersey City, N.J.

HER HUSBAND, Dr. Donald Lloyd, is immediate past president of Sherman Hospital's medical staff and is a practicing physician in the Roselle area.

Other volunteers from Roselle who received service awards were Mrs. Lloyd Bang and Mrs. Herbert Miller, who have each given 400 hours.

Of the $40,000 donation to the hospital, $30,000 will pay for a second Satellite X-ray unit, the first such unit having been paid for by the auxiliary last year. The remaining $10,000 of the gift will be applied to the cost of an intensive care unit now in the planning stages.

Belle Chords Hear Husbands Perform

Husbands of the Belle Chords, local women's barbershop chorus, proved that they, too, could sing in harmony after a little coaching at the dinner Tuesday evening for chorus members and spouses.

The couples met for dinner at the Maitre d' Restaurant, Elk Grove Village, and the program was naturally a musical one.

Under direction of Miss Phyllis Haeger, the chorus entertained with old-time barbershop favorites as well as modern tunes.

THEN, AFTER explaining the principle of 4-part barbershop harmony, Miss Haeger coached a "husbands' chorus" to provide a finale for the program. Their rendition was a catchy ending for a song.

Belle Chords rehearse Tuesday evenings at 8:15 in Trinity Lutheran Church, Des Plaines. Anyone interested in membership or in obtaining the chorus for singing dates may call Mrs. Gale Oberlin, Cl 5-5435, or Mrs. Stanley Bolit, Cl 3-3344. (S

Week's Best Food Buys

The limited market supplies continue to frustrate "waiting game" policy of merchandisers. There is a choice of where retailers plan to lose money on features — fryers at 29 cents a pound whole, beef round steak at 69 to 79 cents a pound and rotisserie or rump roasts at 89 cents a pound.

Fewer livestock receipts. Cattle again are fractionally lower. Beef hindquarters cost more as retail features continue. Lamb is lower on erratic supply situation. Pork is easing from recent advance but not enough to change retails.

Eggs continue their downturn. Bacon quotes high in cost with some promotion concessions by packers. Produce buyers are actively seeking rare seasonal bargains.

CHICAGO AREA food values: Meats: roast and sirloin steaks, rump and rotisserie roasts, blade cut steaks and pot roasts, hamburger; pork steaks, tenderloins, rib end chops; lamb shoulder roasts; chop suey meat.

Produce: canteloupe, bananas, grapefruit; lettuce, sweetcorn, cabbage, asparagus, onions.

Poultry: eggs, whole fryers, hen turkeys. (SH

Here's South Seas Dish for Midwest Palates

THE DELIGHTFUL SMILE on 3-year-old Jennifer Cowin's face makes it evident that children as well as adults enjoy chicken prepared Polynesian style. Jennifer's mother, Mrs. William W. Cowin of Hoffman Estates, serves this delicious and unusual chicken with Toasted Coconut Rice.

Polynesian Chicken Is Exciting Fare

by LOIS SEILER

You can bring the flavor of the South Sea islands to your Midwestern table when you serve chicken Polynesian style with toasted coconut rice.

This is one of Mrs. William W. Cowin's favorite recipes for family and guests. It takes chicken out of the ordinary category and turns it into exciting dinner fare.

In this dish, chicken is seasoned with ginger and browned. Mushrooms and onions are added, and all are simmered in an interesting sauce consisting of orange or papaya juice and beef consumme seasoned with soy sauce. Pineapple and papayas are added the last few minutes of cooking time.

Mrs. Cowin places the tasty chicken and sauce over rice which is mixed with toasted coconut and butter. As an accompaniment she recommends green peas which she merely sautes in butter until they are tender yet crispy. She suggests a simple dessert such as sherbet to serve following this flavorful meal.

ANOTHER OF this good cook's specialties is a marinade for a leg of lamb that cuts the sharp lamb taste and gives it a mellow and unusual flavor.

Some unique ingredients are used in this marinade; pineapple-grapefruit juice and wine vinegar form the base and several herbs as well as garlic and onion are added.

The leg of lamb must be marinated in this mixture for at least eight hours; then it is roasted in the usual manner.

While the lamb is cooking, Mrs. Cowin makes a sauce of the marinade, thickening it with flour and seasoning it with bouillon cubes. She spoons this over the lamb when it is served, and garnished the platter with spiced peaches.

"Both the gravy and the meat have an herb flavor," June Cowin commented, "and the gravy tastes a little tart." She suggests baked or boiled potatoes and a vegetable as accompaniments.

HER MOST unusual recipe that has become not only a family favorite but a standard Sunday morning "must" in her household is Sour Dough Pancakes.

"The gold miners in Alaska made these pancakes," June explained. "They always kept a 'starter' wrapped up in a ball under their hats with which to start their pancake batter the next time.

And so it is with this recipe. The basic starter is made only once; from this starter all succeeding batters for the pancakes ensue. And each time the pancakes are made, a cup of starter is set aside for the next time.

An interesting feature is that yeast is only used in the original starter—yet it continues to replenish itself through the years. Mrs. Cowin is still using starter made from the original recipe four years ago. It keeps in the refrigerator until you are ready to use it.

THESE PANCAKES are made in two steps: the night before, one cup of starter, flour, salt and milk are mixed together and left in a warm place to rise. The following morning, a cup of this mixture is set aside to serve as the starter for the next time pancakes are made.

Then eggs, butter, sugar and baking soda are added to the batter, and it is spooned on to a hot griddle to make pancakes.

"These pancakes have a sweet, yeasty flavor and are fluffy and light-textured," Mrs. Cowin explained. "There is a wonderful aroma while they are being cooked."

Mrs. Cowin serves them in the conventional manner, with butter and syrup. You'll find that your family will have the appetite of gold miners, too, when they are served these delicious pancakes.

THEY MAKE a big hit with the Cowins' children: Christopher, 8; Jeffrey, 5; Douglas, 4, and Jennifer, 3. Someday they will be enjoyed by baby Caryn, who is 10 weeks old.

Cooking is only one of Mrs. Cowin's talents. An accomplished musician and graduate of the American Conservatory of Music, Mrs. Cowin teaches voice and piano in her home. A member of the Hoffman Estates Woman's Club, she also directs their choral group. In addition, this ambitious woman is a member of the Home Testing Institute and tests all types of new products for the home.

The Cowin family lives at 274 Bode in Hoffman Estates.

POLYNESIAN CHICKEN

2 frying chickens, cut in half
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon ginger
½ cup salad oil
½ cup chopped green onions
1 cup fresh mushrooms
1 large can pineapple slices
½ cup orange or papaya juice
1 can beef consomme
2 tablespoons soy sauce

Dredge chicken in flour that has been mixed with ginger and salt. Brown in oil. Remove chicken and saute onions and mushrooms. Return chicken to pan. Pour over the chicken the syrup from pineapple, orange or papaya juice, consomme and soy sauce. Cover and simmer for a half hour.

Add pineapple and papayas. Cover and simmer an additional 15 minutes. Serve chicken over toasted coconut rice and spoon sauce over it. Serves 4.

TOASTED COCONUT RICE

4 cups cooked rice
½ stick butter (¼ cup)
½ cup toasted coconut
Combine ingredients. Serves 4.

LEG OF LAMB MARINADE

3 cups pineapple-grapefruit juice
½ cup white wine vinegar
1 teaspoon crushed Rosemary
½ teaspoon crushed oregano
1 large bay leaf
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 clove garlic
1 carrot, sliced
1 green onion, sliced
2 teaspoons salt
1 5-6 pound leg of lamb
1 large chunk butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 beef bouillon cubes

Combine juice, vinegar, herbs, garlic, carrots, onions and salt in a deep bowl. Place lamb in marinade and store in refrigerator for 8 hours, turning once or twice. (A large plastic bag can be used for marinating the lamb.)

Put the lamb into a shallow roasting pan and roast, uncovered, three hours at 325 degrees or until a meat thermometer registers 175 degrees.

While the lamb is cooking, melt butter in skillet. Blend in flour and simmer a few minutes. Stir in two cups marinade and bouillon cubes. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and cook until it thickens and bouillon cubes are dissolved. Serve over lamb; garnish with spiced peaches. Serves 8.

SOUR DOUGH PANCAKES

A week in advance, make the original starter,
2 cups flour
1 package yeast
¼ cup milk

Warm the milk and dissolve yeast in it. Add to the flour. Add a little milk to make a stiff batter. Let rise in a warm place at least six hours until the batter is double in bulk. Store as much as you need of this starter in a covered container in the refrigerator. One cup of starter will make pancakes for three, two cups for six, etc.

To make your pancakes, the night before combine the following ingredients:

1 cup starter
2 cups flour
Dash of salt
Enough milk to make a stiff batter

Mix the ingredients together and place in a glass or plastic bowl covered with Saran Wrap. Let stand overnight or a minimum of six hours in a warm room. This will rise until double in bulk.

In the morning, put one cup of this mixture aside to use as your starter the next time. (This may be added to any starter you may have in the refrigerator.) Store it in a covered container. The longer you have it, the better it gets and it never spoils.

To the remaining mixture, add,
2 eggs
3 tablespoons melted butter
1 teaspoon baking soda slightly moistened with 1 teaspoon water
½ cup sugar

Mix ingredients together until well-blended. Cook on a griddle until done. Serves 3. Double the recipe if you wish to make pancakes for 6.

We reserve the right to limit quantities. Prices effective through Sat. May 28th.

Marian Rickert Is Married In Same Church as Parents

Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in Chicago was the setting for the April 16 nuptials of Marian Lorraine Rickert of Hoffman Estates and Gary Shutty of Des Plaines, the same church in which the bride's parents repeated their marriage vows 25 years ago.

It was a nostalgic event for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rickert of 106 Aztec St., as they witnessed the 5:30 p.m. ceremony performed by Rev. Edward Paape. Their daughter wore a white organza A-line gown appliqued in chantilly lace and seed pearls for her wedding day. The dress had bell sleeves, an oval neckline and a detachable floor-length skirt.

MRS. GARY SHUTTY

HER BRIDAL VEIL was held in place with a matching petal headpiece accented with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Her bridal party was attired in dresses styled alike but in rainbow colors. Matron of honor was Mrs. Bonnie Joy of Palatine, who wore a deep pink empire-styled dress with white organza sleeves embroidered with pink daisies, a pink picture hat and carried a bouquet of white mums mixed with deep pink daisies.

Three bridesmaids wore dresses in various shades with matching picture hats and carried bouquet of white mums with daisies the color of their dresses.

BARBARA KUFFEL of Chicago wore green, Mrs. Charles Stemper of Hoffman Estates wore yellow and Rita Johnson of Chicago, a cousin of the bride, wore aqua. The latter served as a junior bridesmaid.

Debbie Hennessey of Hoffman Estates was flower girl, wearing a light pink dress and carrying a bouquet of matching daisies. The bride's brother, James Arthur Rickert, was ring bearer.

THE GROOM'S parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shutty, reside in Marseilles, Ill. A hometown friend of the groom, Kenneth Andrews, was here to be his best man, along with two others, Harvey Caldwell and Brad Allender, who served as ushers.

Also ushering was the bride's brother, Laurin E. Rickert.

Bensenville VFW Hall was the scene of the wedding dinner and reception for 200 guests.

THE COUPLE honeymooned in Miami, Fla. for a week and are now back here, living in a Des Plaines apartment.

Both work at O'Hare Field, the bride with Illinois Bell Telephone Co. and the groom a co-pilot for North Central Airlines. She is a Palatine High School graduate, and he attended flight school at Embry-Riddle in Miami. (SSD

Mrs. May Is GOP Speaker

Women power and word power was the subject of Congwm. Catherine May of the state of Washington, who spoke to members of the 12th Congressional District Republican Woman's Club. In attendance at the luncheon gathering held recently in Grayslake, were members of Hanover Township Republican Woman's Club which is headed by Mrs. Robert Smith.

Women may well be the deciding factor in the next election, said Mrs. May, who urged the women to aim their word power at the right people and not to waste time shooting at each other.

Also on the program was Congressman McClory, who has been active on the problems of water pollution and coin shortage and improvement of narcotics and immigration laws.

Honor Volunteer For 1750 Hours

The Veterans Administration Hospital, Hines, recently presented Mrs. Carl Scharninghousen of Palatine, president of the Golf Swing Club, with an award for serving 1750 hours as a volunteer.

It's Charity's Post, Paddock Time

Reservations for the annual Post and Paddock Party sponsored by Arlington Heights Infant Welfare Center closed last week with a record number of guests. The affair will be held this year on Friday, June 3, and will again include an afternoon of racing, cocktails, buffet and dancing.

Always a sell-out, the affair this year has been oversold with the charity group taking over not only the exclusive Post and Paddock Club, but also the beautiful, adjoining Classic Club at Arlington Park.

Members of the Center are now knee-deep in completing last-minute plans for the fund-raiser, proceeds of which go to the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago. The Society provides pre-natal care for needy mothers, professional care for preschool children and staffs a Child Guidance Center.

RACING, viewed from the Post and Paddock Club, will begin at 3:45 p.m. with the cocktail hour following at 6:30 p.m. The buffet at 7:30 will include the same gourmet foods served in previous years, all prepared by the Post and Paddock chef. Dancing will be to the music of George Fanelli's Orchestra.

First held in 1961, Arlington Heights Infant Welfare's party was the first benefit ever sponsored in the Post and Paddock Club by an area charity group. Most of the guests have attended the party each year since and regard it as the official opening of the summer social season.

Chairman of this year's party is Mrs. A. N. Johnston, projects chairman of the Center. President Mrs. James Mason, commented, "We are again looking forward to a really gala evening among friends and we are most grateful to Mrs. Webb Everett for her assistance in staging this annual fund-raiser." (S

ALTHOUGH SHE'S TOO YOUNG to attend the Post and Paddock Party Friday, June 3, Candy Burkett, an accomplished rider, donned her habit and mounted a neighborhood horse, Lisa, to add a bit of color at a recent meeting of Infant Welfare members, sponsors of the party. Ten-year-old Candy is the daughter of Mrs. Dick Burkett, who joined the charity group last June.

Flowers, Flowers Everywhere For Palatine Junior Banquet

There were "flowers, flowers everywhere" at the annual banquet of Junior Woman's Club of Palatine as topiary trees and geranium favors decorated the tables May 17 in Brookwood Country Club.

Patricia Jacobs Chooses Her Mother's Wedding Gown

Her mother's wedding gown was the choice of Miss Patricia Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Jacobs, 826 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, when she became the bride April 16 of Roger Hoar, son of the Gerald Hoars of South Bend.

The gown, candlelight in color, was of satin with imported Alencon lace on the bodice and cathedral train. Her triple-tiered veil of French illusion was held in place with a crown of pearls and fell to her waist. Easter lilies in a cascade arrangement made up her bridal bouquet.

Easter lilies also decorated the church for the double ring ceremony which was held at noon in Our Lady of the Wayside Church with Rev. Harold O'Hara officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

SERVING AS MAID of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Pamela Jacobs, and bridesmaid was the bride's cousin, Miss Martha Shaughnessy of Oak Park. Both wore identical gowns of aquamarine fashioned into fitted A-lines with 3-tiered goya length skirts. Their headpieces were also of aquamarine and they carried aqua-tinted carnations fashioned into baskets. The baskets contained pussy willows.

Gerald Hoar Jr. served as his brother's best man and the bride's brother, Paul Jacobs, was usher.

The reception was held at Chevy Chase Country Club where Mrs. Jacobs received in a 3-piece pale blue suit and a spray of flowers carried on her purse. Mrs. Hoar chose a navy blue walking suit with a corsage of pink carnations and tea roses.

THE COUPLE honeymooned through the South for a week and are now residing in Elk Grove Village at 210 Washington Square.

The bride, a graduate of St. Patrick Academy and Northern Illinois University, is a teacher in the Barrington School System. The groom studied at the University of Kentucky and the University of Notre Dame. He is now with Continental Insurance Company, Chicago. (S

Thumbsucking

Thumbsucking that is not continued beyond the age of three usually will not cause malocclusion (faulty bite), Dr. I Irwin Beechen, Oakland, Calif., recently reported. He said that two factors are the cause of irregular tooth position and malocclusion in children—heredity and environment, such as thumbsucking.

"Habits that do not continue beyond the third year of life usually produce little or no permanent deformity if there is a normal occlusion (bite) to start with," he said. (SD

Plum Grove Tour Is Offering Ideas for Homes and Gardens

Today is the day and all is in readiness for the home and garden tour in Plum Grove Estates. Sponsoring the tour is the Plum Grove Auxiliary, but the real workers, the "hostesses with the mostest" are the women who call the five lovely tour sites their homes.

Every bed has been made, if indeed they were even slept in last night, the children are all off to school or farmed out for the day and every item that doesn't belong is back in its rightful storage space or hidden behind closed doors. Each tree, bush, plant and flower has been carefully nursed along for this special day and, of course, the grass has been clipped, perhaps with just a little more care than usual.

FIVE HOMES and gardens are included in the tour: three of them, homes of the Raymond Basaras the Ralph Niederts and the Frank E. Obeids, are split levels, the other two are the ranches of the Arthur Gleseners and T. J. Stenzels.

Highlights of the homes include a sauna bath, a sunken marble bath, a private chapel, a formal garden and unusual stonework. All are beautifully appointed in a variety of period furnishings, all have large patios and extensive landscaping.

Tickets will be on sale at the display homes, where maps will also be furnished, and also at the Plum Grove Club, where luncheon will be served. Reservations for the luncheon have been requested by Saturday, May 21. Tourers planning to lunch may make reservations with Mrs. John Williams, 358-1878.

Tour hours will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (S

Barrington Home Tour Is June 15

A second tour of Barrington area homes, this one sponsored by the Garden Club of Barrington, has been scheduled for Wednesday, June 15. The tour of country houses includes the adjacent homes of twin sisters. These homes date from 1840 and boast Victorian interiors and many antiques.

On the Dorvillee Farm, not only the farm house will be open on the tour, but also the horse barn and roost. The main house features a pool and a pool house remodeled from the bull barn. The Horse Barn and the Roost, a former chicken house, have also been remodeled and now serve as elegant homes.

A PLANT SALE will be held in the summer house, an old milk house, on the property of the Horse Barn, while competitive classes of flower arrangements will be on display at the Farm House.

In contrast to the old, remodeled homes, will be two contemporary homes in Bateman Circle.

Tour hours will be from 11 to 5, and those wishing information may phone Mrs. John Alexander Orb at DU 1-1737. (S

Spring Fling Benefit Is Saturday

The two leaders held a meeting at Eleanor Herrick's home Friday to wind up plans for the affair. Each year the local organization, whose president is Mrs. Robert Riley, holds a fundraiser which helps to secure counseling for this area through Family Service of South Lake County, whose headquarters is in Highland Park.

For Saturday's dinner dance, Chairman of Decorations Mrs. Doris Dombrow will use daisies to promote the outdoor table theme throughout the club's downstairs banquet room. Hors d'oeuvres will be served during the cocktail hour. Roast beef, turkey, sea food and chicken will be included on the two buffet tables.

Ceiling Shabby? Install Lumber

What shape's your celing in? If plaster is cracked, paint is streaked and dull, or drywall sheets are splitting at the seams, it's time for a re-do. But this time, try something that's not only beautiful but permanent. Panel the ceiling with solid lumber, using easy-to-handle tongue-and-groove boards.

Western hemlock, Idaho white pine and ponderosa pine are best. Finished clear, their soft coloring will keep the ceiling light while reflecting a warm glow down into the room.

Now go one step further and add a deep cornice molding at the wall-ceiling joint to create a coved effect. Choose the cornice in the same lumber species as the ceiling panel boards.

Underweight Poses Pregnancy Problems

Many women know that being grossly overweight can complicate pregnancy and childbirth. But not so many are aware that being seriously underweight can also bring complications.

A woman who is 20 to 40 per cent underweight for her age and height before becoming pregnant is more likely to experience pregnancy and delivery complications than women of normal weight, Drs. Maxwell Schram and Manssour Raji reported in a recent issue of the American Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology. The physicians are affiliated with Coney Island Hospital.

The seriously underweight woman is more likely to deliver a baby who is markedly underweight. She is also more likely to require a Caesarian delivery. After childbirth, such a woman is twice as likely to contract endometritis (inflammation of the lining of the uterus) than a woman of normal weight.

Note: Naturally, many underweight as well as overweight women experience normal pregnancies and childbirth. (SD

Mom Could Use Office Of Her Own

Today Mom needs a home office to call her own, but it must be convenient to her main base of operation—the kitchen.

Designers are incorporating this feature into many kitchens by locating the home office behind a divider wall. Only a small amount of space in the adjacent utility room, entranceway or hallway is needed for the home office.

Homemakers say there are several "musts" for a home office. These include a large writing surface, comfortable chair, adequate lighting and plenty of storage. Often the storage can be located above the desk or counter to conserve valuable space.

IN DECORATING this small area, choose a paneling that will harmonize with the nearby kitchen, yet stand out on its own. Many women are finding that the delicate new Chantilly pattern in the Marlite paneling line complements most decorative themes. This new decorator pattern come in four colors—beige, green, gold and rose.

Home handyman can install plastic-finished hardboard over old walls or any solid backing. Wallboard adhesive is used to secure a strong bond. Leftover pieces can be used to cover the counter or desk to provide a smooth writing surface. (S

Letters to the Editor

Suggests Candidates Cease Cliches, Get Down to Issues

I would like to direct this open letter to the principal contenders for the June 14 primary, whether Republican or Democrat, aspiring to State Senator, Representative or Committeeman posts.

Do you really believe the average Hoffman - Schaumburg or Third Senatorial District primary voter has to be pummeled with pre-election cliches, or will someone come forward with a discussion of facts and issues in the remaining weeks of this primary campaign?

I was disturbed when my good friend, Herb Aigner, wrote several newspapers more than a complete a months ago to call me a "puppet." I honestly did not feel much would be served by writing a retort in a similar vein.

In reflecting on the campaign to date, these questions come to mind:

1. WHAT DOES the gentleman writing Democratic press releases really gain by attempting to label his man, or his opponent, a "Party Democrat," "Daley — Democrat" or "Independent Democrat?"

2. When building a "broad base of Republicanism," does it have to be so broad so as to include those who attend $100-a-plate Senator Douglas dinners? Or should a party attempt to appeal to the interests of the "disenchanted?"

3. Or do you achieve "party unity" by planting the "groundswell of public opinion" idea, punctuating it in the press through prepared statements, endorsements, and pictures of hand-picked trustees, appointees and business associates?

4. Is the promise to "do more for Schaumburg" (or Hoffman Estates or Hanover Park) really a qualification for office? Or is the ability to work with other senators and representatives in Springfield within that elected official's political party structure a more valid criterion?

I can recall my high school speech instructor who deplored "canned" deliveries in speaking. I respected his opinion then, have gained some maturity and can stomach it even less when seeing it in writing week after week.

I firmly believe we in Hoffman - Schaumburg have had enough platitudes; let's get down to facts:

1. Who moved to our community when, and when did they register? What have they done for their parties since?

2. Who has the BGA endorsement? What does it really mean? What are the qualifications of a man like George Mahin to inform voters?

3. What are the facts about a man's voting record?

4. Who are his closest political associates? What are their motives?

I am sure others are tired of the semantics game of "smoke-filled room," "dictatorship," "rubber stamp," and the irresponsible "John Birch Society" allegations. These words are emotion and response laden, not thought provoking. They represent innuendo unworthy of the intelligence of the primary election voters of our community!

Let's hope both parties "raise their sights" and "hit the target" from now to June 14.

Thinks Voters Can Distinguish Gold from Brass

We hear a lot of claims during election campaigns that candidate "X" is for greater citizen participation; that candidate "Y" advocates voter education; that "Z" would really open up the party to everyone, that he believes more in "issues" than in patronage, etc. Talk is cheap; promises are easy to make. But compiling a record is both difficult and costly in terms of time, talent and energy.

Of all the candidates running in Palatine, there is only one who, in my opinion, has a proven record of selfless service; one who has ideas and also sees them through. In short, a hard-working idealist when it comes to politics and government and community service. I refer to Richard Mugalian, the candidate for Democratic Committeeman for Palatine Township.

SINCE MOVING to Palatine, he's laid his time and energy on the line: organizer and first president of Winston Northwest Community Association; an organizer, idea man, campaign manager (in 1961) and worker for the Palatine United Citizens Party (the only local permanent political party that I know of in this part of the state).

Furthermore, not everyone knows that Mugalian initiated and helped put through two ideas having to do with citizen involvement and education in local government. I refer to the successful United Citizens — sponsored Public Forum and to the village-wide Essay Contest.

I could cite other portions of Mugalian's record. Suffice it to say that actions speak louder than words. Year - round commitment means more than election time oratory. I believe that Dick Mugalian will be our next Democratic Committeeman because the voters can distinguish gold from brass. That's why I, and many others, are working to make the record known to the voters. We expect not only to do away with the old regime, but to go forward with new, exciting leadership for the Democratic Party in our Township.

Open Occupancy Misunderstood By Many People

Perhaps the most misunderstood concept in our society today is "open occupancy." Those who oppose this idea seem to be especially talented for bending, twisting, distorting and confusing the basic concept of freedom. Freedom cannot be given to one person by taking it away from another.

In terms of housing, the concept of "the freedom to sell property to whom I please" as a basic individual freedom is as wrong as the concept of individual freedom to own a slave — and for the same reason too. In our society either they both have freedom or neither has freedom.

WHEN A MAJORITY in a society reacts to a minority in such a way as to deny the minority the same freedom that the majority enjoys, then this denial, however unorganized, can be construed as a conspiracy and should be overcome with appropriate legislation. Not to do this would result in an obstacle to peace and tranquility within our society and would drain off energy that could be better utilized.

It is unfortunate that some people capitalize on the powerful motivating force of hate to attain a position of leadership. I would hope that they are merely misguided. I prefer leadership motivated by constructive forces.

Paddock PTA Writes Thanks

The Stuart R. Paddock PTA of Palatine would like to thank everyone who participated in the second annual open house dinner. Since the children are host to the parents at the school's spring open house, the PTA felt that a supper preceding the visitation of the classrooms would make a pleasant family night. Be sure and be with us next year.

Women's Club Pledges Help For Museum

Letters and articles concerning the hopes for an Arlington Heights Museum located in a stately old home, which have appeared in the Paddock Publication the past two weeks, we are sure have caught the eye and stirred emotions of readers.

We of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club, for some time, have had a concern for the preserving of the splendid memorabilia so diligently gathered by the members of the Arlington Heights Historical Society.

Each year, for the past eight years, sums of money have been given to the Society for files, photo folders, shelves, etc. to help store the rapidly gathering material.

Up to 1964, our Club had presented money to help meet the yearly needs of the Society. In March of that year, the Historical Society was grateful to receive $156.25, earned through the Woman's Club Used Book Sale, as the start of a fund toward a proposed building.

This year our president is Mrs. Stephen Jurco who is also vice president of the Historical Society. With the enthusiastic support of her board, she announces the forming of a Community Improvement Committee. The sole objective of this committee is the continuing support of a museum for the Arlington Heights Historical Society.

Steering this committee are Mrs. John Shubeck and Mrs. Z. R. Rogozinski.

During the Board's discussion of this commitee and its purpose hopes were expressed that the museum be housed in one of the stately historic buildings —so much a part of our village's tradition.

The Arlington Heights Woman's Club is pledging its support and help to the Historical Society, to individuals, and organizations in sympathy with this dream.

Convinced of Dangers from Mosquito Spray

To the People of Bloomingdale:

Our village board has approved a mosquito abatement program for the coming summer season. It was approved at the last meeting on Wednesday, May 11.

I oppose this program because I believe the spraying of any community with DDT for mosquitoes is a health hazard.

There is growing concern among citizens and the government about the use of pesticide chemicals. Also there is evidence among doctors that it is harmful to man.

A small child died as a result of following a fogging machine. This is just one instance.

Pesticide chemicals are designed to kill, therefore they are potentially dangerous to living organisms. They are highly toxic in concentrated amounts and can and have caused illness and death to people and wildlife. It can accumulate in the body and cause illness.

I am writing this so the people of Bloomingdale may be made aware of these hazards. Please keep your children and yourselves away from areas recently treated with insecticides, both inside and outside the house. Please do not go outside while the fogging is going on.

Explains Refusal To Pay Fine for Illegal Parking

This writer has in the past, together with many other residents of our community, been ticketed for illegal parking according to a recent ordinance. This ordinance provides that it shall be illegal to park in the Village of Itasca overnight.

Upon examination of the village ordinance, I discovered that it was necessary for the village to give notice of their ordinance by the posting of signs of a reasonable size, the lack of which has been readily apparent to any resident of this community.

Rather than pay the fine, I retained legal counsel for the sole purpose of bringing this matter to the attention of the local authorities to force their compliance with the municipal ordinance and satutory requirements of this state.

It has cost this writer to date the sum in excess of $200, but I believe these funds were well spent when it has come to my attention that the city did not wish to prosecute this violation, and is presently making arrangements for the erection of the appropriate signs. This, after all, was the sole purpose and intent of this writer in my refusal to pay what I felt to be an improper traffic violation until and unless the village complies with the statutory requirements.

'I Can Never Thank These Men Enough'

I wish to express my sincere gratitude and thanks to the two firemen of your department (Meacham and Fitch) who were on duty and answered an emergency call at my home on April 20, 1966 at about 1:30 p.m. Within a matter of a few minutes after placing the phone call they were at my home administering oxygen and talking to me in a way that made me feel that I would be all right.

I can never thank these men enough for their kindness and ability in making a very scared woman feel that all was not at an end.

I also wish to thank the police officer who also answered the call for help. His name I do not know but he has the same feeling of confidence that the firemen had.

All I can say is thanks again to a great bunch of firemen and policemen who are truly dedicated to the welfare of the people of Arlington Heights.
